Saliroza Chapter 1 – It's Delicious

I'm hungry—.....

I return my spoon to the emptied bowl, while occasionally scattering away the bread crumbs above the table, I, haa....., breath out a sigh.

The soup which had a large amount of root vegetables and meat thrown in that was originally in the bowl, all of it had immediately settled into my stomach.

I also ate three soft white breads the size of an adult male's clenched fist, two brown breads soaked with soup, and a fresh orange too that I earnestly skinned.<sup>1</sup>

My stomach is certainly filled.

However, .....a—, I'm hungry—.....

「If you're done eating, then move out of the way.」

I heard a voice from behind me that was motionlessly looking down on my empty soup.

The reason why that deep voice could be heard so clearly, was because the dining hall had become quiet.

I should've noticed the unusual atmosphere.

「Did you hear me, Saliroza Sennet.」

Tsk, I held back clicking my tongue and turned around.

The surrounding people had disappeared during the time I was slowly eating.

Although the dining hall is usually crowded there are many vacant seats right now so why does man intentionally show up at my spot and always complain at me even though you could've sat in any spot you liked ne, in the first place with your social status you shouldn't be at these tables back here but the upper tables at the interior or like your big office so go have your meals over there and be lonely by yourself!<sup>2</sup>

.....I slowly raised my eyes while thinking that.

「My apologies, Captain Judius.」

Judius Ellara Evi? Eva? .....Something.

Long names signifies the handful of upper class in central city, but I don't remember them since I'm not particularly interested in those upper classes.

A man with golden hair without dullness tied up in a bundle hanging down his back, it's clear he's in a bad mood, he has blue eyes that make me think 'if gouge them out then sell them, how much would they cost?'.<sup>3</sup>

Although he's bony for a man, his features are separated elegantly on his beautiful face, and tanned by this remote region's sunlight.

His tall toned figure is dressed in a black knee length sleeveless dougi and trousers, and a dark blue sleeveless coat on top<sup>4</sup>. He has a pair of rough black leather boots on his feet.

Although he's wearing a stylish gold decorated belt around his waist above his coat, he has a simple general use long sword attached to his hip.

A bronze necklace indicating his social status shined above his chest. It has a design with three swords intersecting within a pair of wings which indicates the members of the border defence, a small round ruby glitters at the centre of the three swords which represents the highest position in this fort.

The highest position. Captain of the 5th fort in the <White Snake Ridge> district.

.....U—mm, what was that other one, something like belonging to the <Spiral Castle> at Central City, he has a position but it's obvious it's just a title.

Other than his blond hair and blue eyes, on both sides of the Captain's beautiful face, there's a spot near his ears that's been covered with his long hair, that's because there are pure white feathers there.

Feathers you know?

Feathers.

They're tightly folded up along the temporal region.<sup>5</sup>

Although they're the size of a child's palm, they occasionally move restlessly showing they're not fake.

What would happen to his ears.....! Is what I occasionally get curious about, but they don't get in the way.

Then, what would happen if they grew.....! That's because they don't.

Those feathers are a symbol of descendants of a <Divine> that live on the top floor of the <Spiral Castle>.

Yes, yes, you have no idea what this witch underling is saying ne.<sup>6</sup>

But hey—, why is this sort of Divine in this sort of place ne!?<sup>7</sup>

「Since I'm leaving now, by all means.....」

I politely stood up, the feelings on my face were concealed under a dark green hood that I had also worn during my meal.

The dining hall had three long frame tables lined up side by side. Because there are benches placed on each side of the tables, I can't pass unless I step across it.

Although I usually sit at the ends so I can move in and out with ease, I sat right at the centre because it was crowded today.

Just like the time I sat down, underneath the cloak my hood was attached to, I lifted up my blackish dress that covered my whole body down to my ankles by the hem, yosh, I steadied my mind, lifted up one leg and stepped over the bench.

Although the calf skin boots I'm wearing have lapels attached by the ankles, it can't be helped that the pale skin on my calf appear for an instant.

— — mu.

When I gazed up, Captain Judius, who was holding onto a soup bowl, quickly turned his face away.

Since he usually fixedly looks into my eyes when we talk (mainly complaining), this is quite unusual— — while I was thinking that, I realized. My leg when I stepped over the bench. He saw it ne! I hurriedly put back my leg and stood on the aisle, then sternly glared at the Captain.

He saw it right?

「Make sure to put away your bowl as well.」

With his face turned, the Captain coldly said that with his pretty gem-like eyes firmly shut.

'I understand already', I answered as I mumbled those words in my mouth, I then reached my hand towards the bowl on the table..... and I noticed it.

With a fuwan.

A presence similar to the inki emitted by the Sennet Witches' representative, Meriland, who is my sister and partner.

.....Mmm, it's completely different from Meriland's.

Similar to an expensive and unreachable candy..... it seems irresistibly delicious.

Seems delicious.....!

While in a posture with my hand half way extended towards the table, I snapped my head around.

Fast, he turned his face away again.

But.

I saw it.

His pure white feathers vaguely shook, from the top of this blond haired head, a golden inki appeared with a fuwa~n sensation.

And then, similar to smoke, the tip extended with a thin trail and approached me.

「.....!」

I absorbed it in.

.....

Not good.

That absorbed inki, satisfied my appetite unlike any ordinary meal I've had.

Rather than my stomach..... my whole body.

How invigorating!

What is this.

That amazing flavour.....!!

「Hurry up and step aside.」

Super delicious! The attitude of the man who emitted the inki however, didn't have any resemblance of the word lewd and gave that order.

「After your meal, make sure to stay in your room as much as possible. Saliroza Sennet.」

「.....Yes.」

He said those words just like always, that's right ne, I can't do anything by myself since I'm a failure of a witch ne, although I rebelled against (in my mind of course) his arrogant attitude, I merely nodded obediently this time.

I was notified this morning by the familiar spirit's call, so I'll deal with it a little longer until Meriland returns.

Without my sister, it's slightly dangerous to be alone as a female in this fort.

Although I had come to the dining hall because I couldn't bear the hunger, it should be better for me to refrain from doing that for a while.

However.

「Umm.....」

「What.」

Perhaps I've gone crazy from absorbing the delicious inki.

「.....There's something I'd like to discuss, so would it be okay if I visit you later?」

Before I realized, I had said those things.

I could feel a sign of Captain Judius holding his breath.

His golden eyelashes slightly trembled, then he nodded while averting his eyes.

「Alright then, come to my office later....., no, it's fine, I'll come. Quickly return to your room for now.」

I carried the bowl in my hands, bowed my head, then passed by his overpowering body.

The spoon inside the empty bowl resounded with a kachan as it shook.

Witch of Sennet.

Is what I am referred to.

The women in my personal family are comprised entirely of my sister and I.

A long time ago, there was an ancient period where Gods, as they were referred to by the people, strode through the lands. A hole was pierced through the other worlds, which should never intersected while overlapping, and made going to and from them possible.

In order for water to flow to the low areas from the high areas, various things need to flow at the beginning. (note: a Japanese metaphor, I couldn't find out what it means but I'm assuming it means things work it's way down or something, so this world might've been a lesser world compared to the other worlds so things flowed down from the other worlds.)

The Gods, while fighting with the living things that came from the other worlds, nicknamed <Demons>, filled the connection between the worlds.

With a large, Spiral Castle.

However, the <Demons> weren't able to return to their own world after it was closed up.

Of course, the majority of them were hostile, but some changed sides, there were even Demons that assisted in building the Spiral Castle in this world, it was because they wished to live in this world.

Well, even though there were also Demons that remained with reluctance.

Anyway, the ones that have the power to move the castle, are after all the disciples of the Gods that have gone to another world, currently, only the Divines and a small fraction of Demons live on the top floor of the Spiral Castle.

The world accepted the Demons, their blood were mixed, spread, then settled.<sup>8</sup>

The Spiral Castle is a screw, if it loosens, calories from the other worlds can be gathered.

Calories are necessary for when this world goes cold.

However, there are also cases when they don't melt well and stiffens, they break into small pieces, then eventually attack people as Demons.<sup>9</sup>

What those Demons without a sense of self wish for, is to return to their original world— — in other words, until they attain that, they'll eat up the lives that are surrounding the hole being filled up by the Spiral Castle.....

A subjugation organisation was created.

The result.

The people that were descendants of Demons, even though they weren't told they were obligated to join the garrisons, well, somehow, there was a feeling it couldn't be declined.

It was natural to resist against the Demons, but the Divines blessed such things like swords and bows and spears and axes and morning stars!<sup>10</sup> Because there were those sorts of weapons, ordinary humans also joined the garrisons. As soldiers. Or as a supporting hand.

Humans weren't just needed for the subjugations, there are other necessities for the organization to function well. Especially something like this fort, precisely because it won't be able to function if it didn't have all these life necessities.

So, my sister and I were dispatched to this fort.

The Sennet family's ancestor, is a succubus.

These days, the power our ancestor-sama left us has allowed us to absorb the inki people emit and use it as our own magic power, a truly convenient mutation.

Inki.

It's that after all ne, in other words, sexual desire.

Although it's a temporary method and not permanent, it's an easy way to make the men (some women too) that return to the fort after a fight, with various things pent up, behave themselves.

The fort requires various things, so a great number of people assemble here.

For their health, the women (some men too) want a safe environment as well.....

The Sennet witches that absorb inki, for the higher-ups that have to manage every strong muscular soldier with unmanageable sexual desire, are very helpful to them.

By the way, the reason why only the women of the Sennet family are called witches.

The men of the same Sennet family, they absorb inki better than women but they can't change it into magic power, although it's bad to say this, those slovenly and useless men prey on the women, well that's what society believes.<sup>11</sup>

I have one elder brother and two younger brothers, I also have several male cousins, but, well, there are many of those sorts of men in the Sennet family that have been abandoned in the name of Sennet.

It ca~n't be helped ne~.

Nevertheless, onii-chan, where are you right now.....

Saliroza Chapter 2 – I'm Doing My Best

As soon as I returned to the room that was provided to me, I closed the door behind me and leaned against it, then slowly slid down on the floor and sat.

I slowly held my hand against my lips and breathed out.

What was that, that deliciousness.....!

I'm an incomplete product as a Witch of Sennet, I can only absorb inki from my family that carries the same blood.

On contrast, my completely different younger sister, Meriland, is referred to as an extraordinary witch, she absorbs inki from men and women regardless of ages and occasionally non-humans as well, she controls an enormous amount of magic power.

On the other hand, it sometimes causes indigestion. It's that, indigestion from overeating.

So, as Meriland's assistant witch, I get treated as a set.

For the sake of managing her physical condition, Meriland requires a witch by her side to distribute her inki.

The only thing I absorb in this fort is my sister Meriland's inki.

And yet.

I wonder what's going on nee?

I remove my hand from my lips, and lick my lips in order to recall it once again.

It was delicious naa.

.....Wait no!

In other words, it appears not only is that beautiful Captain Judius a Divine, he also inherited the blood of a succubus.

Because otherwise, I wouldn't have been able to see it with my eyes and absorb it.

.....un, but, whatever the Captain descended from isn't the problem right now.

The reason why he's the captain of this remote fort, perhaps it's because he's a descendent from a succubus or related to one, but that doesn't matter at all.

The problem is that Captain Judius emitted inki.

Of course, I have no interest in those sorts of— — erotic things, dirt is the enemy! Hurray for laundry! Even though he has a honest and pure appearance, since a man is a man, I'm sure there are various things that stimulates him. Various things.

Un, various things ne!

If I remember correctly at that time, the Captain was facing me when he emitted the inki.

Since there wasn't anyone else in the surroundings— — even if there was, there are nothing but rough men, so it would be a little interesting, or rather, scary in that case— — don't tell me, was it the bowl of vegetable soup he was carrying in his hand!? Though that would be hard to imagine (but interesting).

He, desires, me.

I slowly stood up, brushed off the dirt on my butt with a panpan sound, then gazed at the room my sister and I use.

It's an almost square room with mortar plastered over the white walls, dark coloured planks have been attached to the ceiling and floor. There's a single long and narrow window in front of the door, below that is a sofa made of bright blue fabric. On the other side of the wall is a desk and shelf with the same colour as the floor. On the opposite side is a small bed, and there's a built-in bed inside a semicircled hollowed out area of that wall.

Although it isn't very spacious, it's luxurious enough for two women to use. Soldiers also share rooms of the same size with a number of people.

「Miyu?」

When I called out in a soft voice, karikari, the sound floorboards being scratched could be heard, from underneath the bed where the ends of the red and yellow quilt was dangling down at, an ashen furball-like lump tumbled over to my feet.

It cried out with a faint 'mi'.

I bent my back and picked up the furball with both hands.

「I'm back. Were you sleeping?」

「mi」

「Are you hungry? That's right, wait a minute.」

I scooped the furball up with both my hands and pushed it against my lips, 'fu', and let out a breath.

「mi!」

Two speck-like blue eyes at the centre of the furball opened with a 'pa', then looked up at me. Next, limbs and a tail appeared. The excessively long tail, which was wrapped around its body, loosely fell from my hands and swayed.

What remained on my palms was a small ashen cat gulping repeatedly.

My familiar spirit, Miyu.

I smile every time when I have to endure the urge to squeeze this small cute cat in my palms.

「It's delicious right, Miyu?」

「mi!」

「Ah, sorry. There's no more.」

「mi..... mimi, mi!」

「I'm useless? You, how rude ne. There's a limit even if you're cute you know!」

When I threw Miyu away after feeling angry, its long tail nimbly swung, and the small tiny ashen cat landed with its feet on the floor.

「mi!」

「What!」

「mi, mi, mii!」

「A—, yes yes, I know! Your meal ne, your meal!」

'Ha—', I let out a sigh and lowered my hood, then took off my cloak.

While walking, I fixed my black hair that's uniformly trimmed up to my jaw line, then placed the cloak that I took off on the sofa with my other hand.

Underneath the cloak was a simple, almost black, dark blue dress without any decorations that completely covers my body down to my ankles. A thin leather belt that was loosely coiled around my hips had no decorations either.

The sunlight from the listless sun that hung in the middle of the sky shone through the window. I twisted my neck and looked at my body that was illuminated with that white light.

.....I don't have enough curves.

I lightly despaired.

When a Witch of Sennet goes out in public, they show off their tight hips and legs, a woman! They're bewitching you know! – Is what their public appearance is known is.<sup>1</sup>

For the sake of absorbing inki, because the other party obviously needs to be in that type of mood, the women of the Sennet family— well, the men too— takes care of their appearance.

A beautiful person is even more beautiful, a person who's not is also beautiful.

Although this is a complete digression, thanks to that, the Sennet family developed towards beauty, which lead to extensive purchases which are passionately supported by the women<sup>2</sup>. Thank you, our family's source of funds.

However, I only receive our family's leftovers, rather, including my sister, everyone polish their own beauty so my own share was neglected.

Furthermore, different from my younger sister, I can only absorb inki from my own race that are succubus descendants, I'm in a state of chronic hunger.

Of course, although I can eat things prepared with regular ingredients, as a succubus, the nutrition is insufficient for the sake of charming a person.

However, I still have to do it.

I lightly rolled up my thin sleeves and exposed my surprisingly pale wrists, I combed through my hair with both hands, then completely revealed the nape of my neck which had no ornaments.

Yosh. Men are weak to necks and skin.<sup>3</sup> .....Probably! (note: skin refers to the wrist and ankle(?))

In addition, I forcefully pushed up the corset worn under my dress, although my modest goods can be completely covered with own hand, I slightly peek the top part of my breasts through the round collar.

Yosh. It's vaguely there! (cry)

Judius Ellara..... Something (I can't remember), he should have no problem releasing his inki with this.

Right, it doesn't matter what kind of blood flows underneath that Captain's beautiful face.

What's important is that I can absorb that delicious inki he emits.

Currently, I'm incredibly starved because my younger sister is absent.

For my sake, and also my familiar Miyu that lives off eating magic power!

Captain Judius will— —.....

「Saliroza Sennet, you here?」

Pouring cold water over me who was rousing myself up, the door was knocked with a 'kotsu kotsu' sound.

I turned my attention to the door and sucked in a breath.

The meal has come!

There's no mistake!

The Captain has come.....!!

The room we were given is on the fourth floor of a small tower in a residential area near a rectangular building.

Just like this floor, other than the basement and the first floor being used as a storage room, the rest of this tower is being used as rooms for women, the only entrance is a spiral staircase that connects to the second floor onwards.<sup>4</sup>

That entrance is adjacent to a wide passageway lined up with bookshelves. If you advance straight through the passageway, the captain class offices are lined up there, there's also a lot of pedestrian traffic.

By the way, the lower floors of the tower are allocated to the female soldiers, since there are brawny female knights that are descendants of <Demons> amongst them, the job of standing guard as watchdogs are left to them.

In other words, since there's a location that checks for men trying to sneak in this room, even the Captain can't casually visit—— rather, he's not the type to casually visit to begin with.

That Captain Judius.

「I'm coming in.」

And with those words, he entered through the door and, one, two steps, the Captain approached, then looked around the room with his excessively blue beautiful eyes.

And then he returned his gaze to me, without any particular impressions, he began to talk.

「What do you need?」

「.....」

「Saliroza Sennet.」

「.....Eh, ah, yes.」

With a tall man standing in the background with a 'do—n' effect, I hurriedly cleared my throat from trying to think of what to do when he first opened the door.<sup>5</sup>

Tsk. Why didn't I do something when he opened the door.<sup>6</sup>

But those thoughts were pushed aside, I lightly bent my knees and gave my greetings.

「I apologize, for having you make your way here.」

「No, it's fine.」

For some reason, the Captain furrowed his brows as if he was irritated.

mu, a failure huh. Even though at the same time I gave my greetings, I did my best to press my upper arms between my breasts to make sure they could be seen better!

Release your inki! Inki!

「What do you need?」

「Ah, yes.」

I casted my eyes down after nodding.

.....Not good. I can't think of anything.

I didn't think of anything other than absorbing inki when it became just the two of us!

You came too quickly, Captain!

「.....T-The weather is nice ne.」

「It sure is.」

「M-Meriland..... you see.」

「What about your younger sister?」

「.....She's been delayed for a few days, something like that.」

「A report has arrived saying the inspection for the <Demons> that have appeared in Goldo has been prolonged. ....You, are you okay? With your younger sister absent.」

I lifted my head in surprise from his voice that had a hint of concern.

The Captain is also properly aware that I'm completely useless as a Witch of Sennet, and that I receive inki from my younger sister. Being treated as a bonus with the useful witch, I was allowed in the fort.

「Thank you very much.」

「For worrying.」

「No.....」

The feathers secretly hidden by the Captain's temporal region shook just slightly, the tuft of blond hair by his cheek loosened and swayed.

Oh no, I want to touch it. That feather, tightly—

I want to crush it wa—.

.....Wait no! And is this a situation to be anxious about my words of gratitude!?

Rather, should I make him even more worried? That's not right, something like, in an erotic way.....!

「u.....」

And with that said, I chose the quickest way to get in contact with him.

I held down my mouth, staggered near my bed, then fell to the ground on my knees and leaned on its side.

Easy. kukuku.

The Captain quickly shortened the distance, got down on his knees and reached out his hand. His large hands grabbed onto my arm, after being startled for an instant from touching something warm, he slowly put in power.<sup>7</sup>

「Are you okay?」

「.....M-My condition is.....」

I looked up and—— got startled.

Close!

Well even though it's natural since he's at a distance of grabbing my arm, the Captain's beautiful face is slightly leaning towards me to look at me, he's right before my eyes.

A—, I was surprised.

I've never looked at him this close before, but in the Captain's a~mazingly clear blue eyes, there's a purple streak scattered at the centre of his pupil, a beautiful vivid radiance dwells within it unlike any gem.

I'm narrowly reflected within those eyes.

.....Nooo, somehow, my heart has started pounding wa.

「U-Umm...」

「What happened? Do you need to lie down? Can you stand?」

「N-No.」

「It's better if you lie down. Can you stand? I'll lend you a hand.」

Am I to lie down then stand, or stand up then lie down.<sup>8</sup>

While being somewhat disordered, I reached out my hand that wasn't being held onto, and on the shoulder of his sleeveless coat the Captain was wearing, I touched him.

「I have a request though...」

「What is it?」

「Umm.」

Tightly gripping onto his coat with my hand, I looked up at Captain Judius almost as if I'm glaring at him.

「I-I want, .....Captain.....!」

Ah, he stiffened up.

When the face of a well-featured person stiffens, it's scary ne.

.....Won't the inki quickly come out already? While thinking that, I secretly avert my eyes.

After all, I'm scared..... how do I say it, it's like he's angry.

Perhaps it's anger, or perhaps it's jealousy.

Although the humans of the Sennet family polishes their beauty and preserves it, it looks like it's not necessary for this person na—. <sup>9</sup>

It feels different from normal.

For example, when you see a flower in an angle it looks beautiful in, to the extent where you'd be hesitant to pick it up, was it beautiful from the beginning.....<sup>10</sup> (note: a metaphor, no idea what it means)

While I was thinking, no, when I finished thinking of such things, the Captain's large hands firmly grasped my cheeks. Just like that, he extended his long fingers, his thumbs were on either side of my lips. Rather than my cheek, it's my jaw? He's gripping onto my jaw!?

And then, although it wasn't painful, he exerted strength, and suddenly lifted up my face.

I had a feeling he called out 'Saliroza', but at the 'za' part, the Captain's placed his lips on top of mine.

Wa!

I reflexively closed my eyes.

I could very closely feel the heat of a person.

The softness of his lips..... — — though now isn't the time to leisurely experience it, my head is completely blank.

The Captain's soft lips suddenly pushed opened a thin opening, and an even softer, hot, and wet thing licked my lips.

「.....su」

When I unintentionally opened my mouth, the Captain's body came even closer, and his tongue entered inside my mouth.

T-T-That's a bit—.....!!

When I couldn't make either a 'hi' or an 'a' sound from my throat, I tried using my tongue, but the Captain's tongue, our tongues entwined, entwined.....!

「i, a.....su」

Not allowing me to bend backwards to escape, the Captain circulated his other hand around my back and firmly restrained me.

Whyyyyy.....!

Hey, you're too passionateee.....!

I-Inki, it's good enough to just give me your inki you know!

Rather, did I say, 「I want Captain's inki」?

Did I add the word inki.....!?

Try think about it.

We're bewitching and beautiful so we can get others to emit inki, since others will naturally feel refreshed after having their inki absorbed, there's no need to go this far!<sup>11</sup>

Although we carry the blood of a succubus, all members of the Sennet family are relatively normal! They don't lead a disordered sex life!

I'm pure and innocent since I'm hidden behind the shadow of my sister who's an extraordinary witch!

—Yes, Saliroza Sennet, 19 years old. A virgin.

Although I voluntarily started this, I'm currently extremely flustered.

Saliroza Chapter 3 – Give Me A Break

Although my so-called plans weren't elegant, well, let's try recall what my plans were at first.

Although I'm a Witch of Sennet, I'm unable to absorb the inki people emit, so I have no choice but to receive it from a partner that's also descendant from a succubus.

Nevertheless, inki emits from the top of Captain Judius' blond haired head with a 'fuwa~n', and I'm able to absorb it.

He has pure white feathers that appears on a <Divine> near both his ears, the appearance of the Captain is a good looking blond haired blue eyed man.

Possessing a holy sword blessed by a Divine, not only does he personally kill the demons without self that attacks the <Spiral Castle> in Central City, he commands a unit, an excellent captain that has accomplished numerous accomplishments.

Un, however, those sorts of things doesn't matter.

What's important is I can absorb the inki the Captain emits, when I put him in an erotic mood in order to have him do that— even though I got him in one, how did this happen!!<sup>1</sup>

Inki is normally absorbed through the mouth.

However, that's being blocked up.....!!

While I'm being glued to the side of the bed, with both knees pressed against the floor and bending halfway backwards, the Captain firmly secured me by covering the upper half of my body.<sup>2</sup>

His left hand is around my back, his right hand is grasping onto my jaw— currently, we're in the middle of a passionate kiss.

Being enclosed in his thick arm and held between his legs, I can easily tell he's a person that's been in battles from his tempered and tough body from being glued closely to him, and because of that, I can't move the slightest.

The Captain inclined his face, and with his tongue that's been inserted in my mouth, he relentlessly, and lasciviously, entwined my tongue and sucked on it.

In the small room with sunlight shining in, nothing but wet 'chu, kuchu' sounds were heard.

Not good.

S-Say, the reason why my head is in a daze is because, s-suffocation.....?

Far from absorbing inki, I can't breathe.....! (note: breathe is pronounced iki so it sounds similar to inki)

「nn.....su」

When I frantically jolted my face, our mixed saliva, that I can't even tell belongs to who, spilled out with a 'tsu'.

The tip of the Captain's tongue snapped away from my tongue, and our lips separated at the same time.

「.....su!」

I frantically inhaled while quivering.

Just now——

do, to. (note: sorry, don't know what this means)

A smoke-like object that shined with a pale gold colour, that more delicious than oxygen, filled the inside of my mouth, together with a numbing sensation that spread through my whole body.

My whole body relaxed.

.....Delicious——.....

「Is my inki delicious?」

He whispered in a low voice that contained a laugh, then wiped my lips with his rough finger. Ah, excuse me for drooling.....

While being held in his arms as I took shallow breaths with a 'ha, ha' sound, his beautiful point-blank ranged face smiled just a little—— I had that feeling but I couldn't properly see.

Because the Captain is backlit and furthermore I'm oozing with tears, my vision has become blurred<sup>3</sup>. The pure white feathers and blond hair on both sides of the Captain's head are sparkling so much that the outlines are hazy, how dazzling.....

Being the first time directly absorbing inki from a person other than my family since I was born, it felt so good that I absorbed a large amount to the point that it feels like I'm about to die.<sup>4</sup>

It's delicious, isn't it?<sup>5</sup>

It's completely different from what my little sister, Meriland, shares with me, a pure, rich, thick, and mild— no, it's not soup— inki!

Is it because the Captain carries the blood of a Divine?

I somewhat don't understand, but for now, it's delicious. The only thing certain is that it's extremely delicious!

「Do you want more?」

「.....Eh?」

「You want me, right?」

Yes.

That's right.

Although I'm fully nodding inside my head, after being completely permeated with the Captain's fine quality inki thought my whole body, partly because I was starved, kind of like cheese being slowly melted with fire, let alone being able to answer well, I couldn't move.<sup>6</sup>

Bastard.

What kind of thing caused me to be a defective witch.....!

While shifting the blame, I looked up at the Captain.

The blond haired man, suddenly brought his face close and kissed me again, when his lips separated with a good 'chu' sound, his body approached and held me up in his arms with a 'hyoi'.

Waa, a princess carry.

And just like that, I was dropped on top of the bed.

The bed I use is in the cave-like area carved in the wall, which is the neighbouring bed—— the one Meriland calls 「Saliroza's den」, but of course, the Captain wouldn't know ne—.

Sitting down beside me who was facing upwards, the Captain twisted his upper body and looked down on me.

「How was it? Do you still want it?」

「.....How?」

I slowly moved my lips and spoke.

「How was it, I wonder.....?」

Honestly, my brain isn't working.

Perhaps, if I'm to say it in terms of a normal meal, my stomach is filled I guess. Like my fingertips—— the ends of my hands and feet are hot, my face is hot, I'm a little sleepy? mou. Sleepy...

「Don't sleep.」

「Zzz.」<sup>7</sup>

「mi.」

When I couldn't resist and closed my eyes, a familiar cry alongside soft fur was pushed against my lips.

mi? When I sluggishly opened my eyelids, an ashen furball was before my eyes.

To shamefully straddle your limbs over your master's face.

My familiar, a small ashen cat (its tail is long you know!), Miyu, was held up with long fingers by its small back. Although he had the same beautiful face, the owner of the large hand, with clauses from handling a sword, was lightly pushing Miyu against me.

「Absorb.」

「mimimi—.」

Huh, it agreed! Wait no, you YOUUU.....! AAN!<sup>8</sup>

My absorbed inki was transferred to Miyu. AAAAH.....wait, ah, I'm slightly refreshed.

The inki transferred to my familiar converted into magic power.<sup>9</sup>

Of course, although that conversion is also possible inside the body of a witch, the results are more efficient with subdued Demons.

Familiars that receive magic power can fight depending on its traits.

「fumu.」

The Captain nodded in satisfaction, then slowly lifted up Miyu.

It extended the end of its tail and slapped my nose as if it lost interest, the familiar squinted its blue eyes, then faced the Captain and cried out with a 'mi'.

What is that, that, contentment!!

「Yosh, well then, you, go and close the door.」

「mi.」

No way, you, DON'T AGREE.

Outside of me screaming those sorts of things in my mind, the Captain flicked his wrist and threw Miyu, bumping it against the opened door.

While I was thinking 'what are you doing to other people's familiars' — — Miyu, why are you obediently leaving. And why are you closing the door.

The sound of it heartlessly closing the door resounded through the room.

「.....」

Being in the room with just the two of us, the man with the pure white feathers that were the same as a Divine, placed both his hands respectively on both sides of my head, looked down from above me and smiled.

「You want me, right?」

What I want is your inki though — — was what I wanted to answer with. However, being overpowered by the beautiful face slowly approaching, I did nothing but slowly nod, my voice couldn't come out.

— — You, who are you!?

Where did this fort's beautiful, honest, and stubborn Captain Judius Ellara
Something go.....!!

「Saliroza Sennet.」

From the man in front of my eyes with the same face I recognise, a wonderful and tasty looking golden inki emitted with a 'fuwa~n', and he whispered.

「I've always wanted you as well. Witch of Sennet. Saliroza.」

No way, who are you really.
