Regular Chapter

Where is this?

Oneself was in a pure white space. There is nothing, when examining oneself, instead of a body there's just a floating feeling.

-You have done it—

Oneself hears someone's voice. Oneself turns towards the source of the voice, but nobody is there. There's only a space that expands infinitely.

Was it just oneself's imagination?

「Who?」

Oneself tries to ask back.

-I'm nobody, moreover do you know who you are? Do you remember anything?-

Oneself shakes head, which reminds oneself, oneself doesn't have a head. Is oneself a Soul-like existence?

「I(boku) don't remember anything? I(watashi)? Who is oneself?」

-Fumu, so it is a success. Well, to put it simply, you died—

Eh? Oneself died? Why? Rather, oneself doesn't remember anything at all.

-Ah, your memory was already erased so don't bother trying-

「Why did you erase oneself's memory? Who are you?」

Oneself doesn't understand. Who is oneself, not only oneself's name, but oneself's gender, oneself's family, oneself's friends, oneself's circumstances— Nothing at all. The things that make oneself are not there.

-You have disturbed your fate. Originally, you were supposed to die far in the future, you were supposed to be cared for by your family members and die peacefully. But you have died at the age of 18—

Oneself has died at the age of 18.

「Did oneself do something bad?」

-It wasn't anything bad, you have helped a little girl who was about to be run over by a car and died instead. Originally, that girl was supposed to die there. Well, be at peace.

The future that was supposed to be yours was given to that little girl. She will grow up, marry and have children, her children and grandchildren will care for her until the day she dies—

Oh, is that so. Oneself didn't do anything bad, oneself helped someone.

「That's good」

-Well, you may find it good, but over here we are pretty busy. But I found you who changed your fate disappearing just like that pitiful—

This person? Oneself wonders what it is. Oneself doesn't have eyes, the surroundings are white, oneself doesn't understand what or who this person is. In the first place, oneself doesn't understand because the situation is abnormal.

「Who are you?」

Therefore, oneself honestly asked.

-I told you before. I'm nothing. We are... No, it's only me now, there is nothing that can define me. Though I had many friends in the past, we are unclear existence. Humans gave us many names. For example Gods or Demons.

「Are you a demon?」

-That is something you humans came up with and forced on us.

In this『world』there are no such beings as gods and demons. Because we are involved in creation and maintenance of this world I know that well. In this『world』there are no other beings than humans, magic also doesn't exist there. And afterlife also doesn't exist, but sometimes I intervene in this way—

So that's how it is. But isn't he a person of high caliber? Oneself can't tell, because oneself isn't involved in creating worlds.

「What will happen to oneself?」

Oneself will put the things oneself doesn't understand aside for now. The talk won't advance otherwise.

-Ah, that's right. I called you for that reason. Well, I will have you reincarnate. This world is impossible, originally this world doesn't have a reincarnation in the system, because I don't know if any malfunctions would happen I can't let you reincarnate in the same world, therefore I will send to an another world-

「Is it okay? Even if I broke the rules」

It seems to be oneself's fault for disturbing the fate because oneself doesn't remember anything, there are no regrets. Is it okay for oneself to interfere with the law of nature? Shouldn't normally my soul just extinguish? Because oneself doesn't have any memories, oneself wouldn't regret.

-I don't mind. The world where you will go is not under my Divine protection—

Divine protection? Didn't this person said, that humans define them as gods? If such existence doesn't provide divine protection won't the world die?

-Well, because I can read your mind I can tell you that the world won't die. Well, there is a possibility that the world will collapse by itself, but I did various things to prevent that. But I can't do it anymore, though-

「Did something happen?」

Slightly lonely emotions transmitted to oneself.

-No, inhabitants of that world became independent. To the degree that my existence is not needed anymore. Therefore, there is not anything I can do for that world anymore.

If I think about it, you are the last person I will help. Anyway, it's the world that will live even without my help.

We manage the world and promote the growth. And if it becomes independent, we make a new one. In that way, we travel around the universe. That world doesn't need me to live anymore and will think of itself-

「Then, why do you look so lonely?」

The feelings of loneliness are transmitting to oneself for a while now, it's making oneself lonely too...

-That's because I like this world. It is related to the request I have for you. I want you to change the world I made—

Change the world. Even though you made it?

「Won't it be better for you to save it yourself?」

Oneself probably hasn't enough strength to do that. That is a place oneself doesn't know, oneself could die at any time.

-I can't affect the world directly. If I did something, the world may get ruined. That world is trapped in the law of nature—

Uun. I don't understand clearly but this person? although he can create a world, he can't intervene. But you did so much for oneself's world...

-I love the people, but I my job is to create worlds. Though I intervened with your world it was on the boundaries. Therefore, I can't intervene anymore—

Well, if oneself can live once again, it may be good to listen to his request. There is no reason to decline, it's not a bad deal if oneself can live again.

「Alright, but oneself will probably not be able to do it if it's too difficult」

Oneself doesn't have the necessary power. When oneself said that, that person? laughed.

-Thank you. It's not a difficult thing. It's okay if you just live in that world. Although it's necessary to erase your memory, I will leave you with the knowledge. Also, the world where you will go is still young. Ah well, the planet is way older than the Earth, though. If possible I want you to rescue the race I made, but I won't get angry even if you remove everyone but yourself. Live honest to yourself. That will save the world-

「Race?」

-Well, it's the so-called world of magic. I have created numerous races, but for some reason humans... Ah, they are called normal people over there. Those people resent the other races and are trying to remove them. You will be born as a human. Because your soul is that of a human being you can't reincarnate as another race, if I force you to reincarnate as another race, your knowledge will disappear—

It's an interesting world, but it won't probably be safe. But to become another race, will make oneself lose all knowledge and make oneself a totally different person!

「Oneself won't look down on them. Oneself would rather become friends with them!!」

-It's unbearable to ask someone who lost life after saving another, but please do your best.

Though the birth is random, my divine protection will surely help you—

After that person? said this, his presence disappeared. And oneself's consciousness was cut off.

Birth of the Princess and Spirit-sama

Regular Chapter

Emiru Era calendar, year 598, month 5, Green Day of the 3rd week, the world is in disturbance once again.

「Your Majesty, the child was safely delivered. It is a girl」

Royal physician Foltse informs me.

My name is Drakonia von Arland. The King of Arland Kingdom. And today is a memorable day, a day that my beloved wife Sylvia gave birth to my second child.

「Are the child and Sylvia healthy?」

I can't suppress the excitement, I draw closer to Foltse. This kind of thing isn't normally allowed, a King should act with dignity, but this fellow and I are acquaintances for more than 20 years, so there's no problem.

「The mother and child are both in good health」

Foltse answers while smiling wryly. Because he knows me for so long, he clearly understands that my patience is nonexistent. Of course, I have no intention of changing it.

「Is that so. Then let's inform the nation and hold a banquet. A festival will be celebrated from today」

While saying so I go towards my wife, but for some reason, Foltse catches my shoulders and looks at me with a serious face. I want to see my daughter quickly. I want him to move his hands.

「What's the matter? Today is the day of celebration」

「There is something you should know」

He is usually a polite fellow because his serious face is so rare, I start to worry.

「What is it?」

When I switch my character back to a king's one, after a short time Foltse started talking with difficulty.

「Hime-sama received a Divine protection of a spirit」

「Wha! She received that Divine protection!! Where is that unlucky mark engraved?」

Spirit's divine protection means loved by spirits, if emerged in someone, he will obtain the power to interfere with the law of nature. A mark appears somewhere on the body if one receives the divine protection. And when the mark appears on places that stand out like a face or a hand, the power is especially strong. The reason behind the divine protection being 'unlucky' is because the church has been gathering divine protection holders for the last 300 years. The holders of the divine protection are abducted by the church. If it's managed properly, the information about the divine protection won't leave the country. Our kingdom is not strong enough to oppose the church.

「It is in her eye. Also, a Spirit-sama is manifesting around the princess」

What to do. It's said that the hero from 500 years ago had a mark engraved in his eye.

【The Eye Mark】, it is said that the God grants this mark and this mark is the proof of one who rules over all Divine protection holders.

And above all, we can't ignore the manifestation of the spirit. Spirits are only seen by those to whom they lend their power. However, if a spirit manifests in order to celebrate the birth, it means that my daughter will be considerably loved by the spirits.

「I see! Then let's inform our people about this too!! My ways are not incorrect. We are accompanied by a spirit」

Foltse panics at my words.

「Pardon me for saying this, but that will put Princess in danger」

「But there's no way we can hide the spirit manifestation. Let's inform the citizens, I will protect Alicetia myself. Even if thousands of enemies come, I and this kingdom won't fall」

When I announce that I won't let my daughter become a tool, Foltse nods firmly.

「Understood」

Foltse yields in the end. This man understands me more than most, he also understands my real intentions and my resolve.

「Convey the matter of the festival」

「As you wish」

Foltse leaves after bowing down.

I am a fortunate man. A lovely wife, a son with a strong sense of responsibility and a daughter loved by spirits. I swear I will absolutely protect my family and kingdom.

「Sylvia, may I come in?」

After knocking on Sylvia's door, 「Come in」 was said from behind the door so I immediately entered and rushed towards my wife and daughter.

「This is the tenth time. Please stop destroying my doors all the time」

「No problem, I will replace them later」

If it's only ten times, I can repair them myself. I will take care of the craftsmanship next time. Next time... I will carve a dragon that jumps like this... ah, now is not the time for this.

「Au!」

An angel was there. My cute daughter with silver hair just like my wife's and green eyes.

「Alicetia!」

I tried to hug her unconsciously, but Sylvia turned away with Alicetia in her arms. At this rate, I won't be able to hold her. Why is she avoiding me.

「Please calm down. Are you trying to crush Alice? Please bear with just patting her until you calm down」

I was scolded. Certainly, I easily forget to adjust my strength. I must be more careful from now on.

I don't want my daughter to avoid me like my subordinates avoid Gilbert. I don't want to become a man who is looked at like a man who comes from the depths of hell.

「That reminds me, I was told that spirit-sama is manifesting, but where is it?」

「It's above your head yet you didn't notice...」

I avoid my wife's reproachful eyes and look up to see Spirit-sama. A fluffy round body covered by light feathers. Spirit-sama lightens up this room with a gentle light. One would normally not notice...

「This is Spirit-sama of Light. So Alicetia received a Divine protection of Spirit of Light」

Light and Dark Spirits are ranked at the top, only a small number of people can reproduce their power. So such Spirit is now looking over my daughter.

「No. There were 6 of them a little while ago」

My body stops after my wife smiles at me wryly. What did she just say?

「Therefore, she is loved by all Spirits」

「Wa!!」

Dangerous, dangerous. I forgot to breathe. However, being loved by all Spirits, is it because of the Eye Mark? While thinking so, I release my magic around the room.

People who are not blessed with Divine protection can't see nor perceive Spirits. But Wizards can perceive them by releasing the magic.

「Are they really hiding around Alicetia?」

「Maybe the rest of them just don't want to be seen」

I stop releasing the magic and gently hug my wife and daughter.

「I won't let anyone steal my Alicetia nor will I let her become a tool, we will protect her」

For the sake of not repeating the tragedy from 500 years ago.....

After hugging them for a while, I decided to spend my time happily patting my daughter's head. I want to talk to my daughter more (even if she doesn't understand), I want to spend time together.

「However, Alicetia's expression doesn't change at all」

I thought suddenly. This child doesn't react, she is not crying nor laughing, she is expressionless.

「She didn't cry even after birth, Foltse examined her thoroughly, though. It seems there were no problems. Her voice comes out normally」

「Au!」

Certainly, the voice comes out normally. Her expressionless is cute so I will permit it. Because I'm a tolerant king!!

Rather, do you understand our words? No way. Surely that's not possible.

「We are your parents」

While patting Alicetia, her eyes squint a little. She's way too cute. There will be the need for an insect repellent. I will consult Anbu later.

「It's too early you know?」

This cuteness will definitely attract insects so a repellent is a must, my body starts to tremble just from thinking about it. I will definitely not allow it. Unless you exceed me, I won't let you get close to my daughter.....

Reincarnated Princess – Chapter 1

Reincarnation

Regular Chapter

When oneself's eyes opened an unknown woman and Oji-san were before oneself.

「Au, auu」

It seems that oneself cannot talk desu ne. There is no helping it since oneself is a baby.

「Could something be wrong because she doesn't cry?」

The woman in front of oneself's eyes seems to be worried about something, most likely about oneself because oneself does not cry. More precisely, oneself is feeling sick because oneself cannot move oneself's neck. It is no wonder that oneself cannot cry.

「..... Fumu, I will check」

The Oji-san extends his hand towards oneself and a light comes out from his palm. It is not too bright, but because it came out of nowhere it surprises oneself desu.

Something scary, this is scary, oneself does not like it!!

Bachi!!

Oneself heard a sound that resembled something splitting open. Then, the Oji-san and the woman looked surprised. There were six spheres floating around oneself. These spheres were red, blue, yellow, green, white, black and little feathers grew from them.

-Are you okay?-

「!!」

What? Oneself feels that these children are not bad children. For some reason, they seem warm.

「Foltse..... What is this?」

The woman looks at the spheres? and starts reciting something. Oneself feels something scary coming, just like from Oji-san a while ago, Oneself closes eyes in fear again.

Bachi!!

「Tsu! Just what is this?」

「Stop it, it seems that these spheres are spirits. Making a move against them will be disrespectful」

Spirit-sama? What is that oneself wonders? But these children are somewhat warm. They are fluffily floating around oneself and have been talking to oneself since a while ago.

-With us here, everything will be okay-

「Why would so many Spirits manifest before us I wonder?」

「They most likely manifested in order to bless Hime-sama. Is it possible that they sensed Princess being frightened by the magic and came to help?」

That is right, oneself was really surprised the first time. Because oneself was not aware magic existed, it was really scary desu. But it seems that these children came to the rescue desu ne..... N? Hime-sama? Oneself looks around, but oneself doesn't see anyone. Oneself understands that the woman before oneself is a queen, she does not have a Hime-sama feel. Then, considering the circumstances is it oneself? After touching oneself's body, oneself is definitely a girl desu ne. Then let's go with watashi. Continuing calling myself oneself would be uncomfortable.

「This child has just been born you know. There is no way she could perceive magic...」

Magic? Was that the uncomfortable feeling from a while ago? I try to tilt my head, but because I am a baby I cannot move it well yet. For now, let's look at the woman and Oji-san. The woman has silver hair and blue eyes, she is a really lovely Onee-san, her bust is... Pretty big desu ne. Oji-san's brown hair is mixed with gray and his eyes are the same brown color desu. He wears some thick clothes, but I can tell that he has some considerable muscles.

「!! Ouhi-sama, Hime-sama's eyes is...」 (Shin: Ouhi = Queen)

「This is...」

N? Is there something in my eye? Is there a mirror somewhere? I cannot see it myself. Also, the field of vision is kind of strange too.

「..... Spirits Divine protection「The Eye Mark」why is it there...」

「First of all, I will check for abnormalities within Hime-sama's body... Hime-sama, I do not wish to hurt you. I will only check whether you are healthy」

Was that magic? something like medical examination magic? Then, it may be okay. Spirit-san? Please forgive me, it seems I have misunderstood desu.

-OK, then we are going to take a nap—

Aside from the white Spirit-san?'s light other's light becomes thinner. They are weak, but I can still see them. But it seems that they are resting. I feel like the link between us has weakened or more precisely became dormant or something like that.

「Fumu, it seems that there are no problems. She is also a very clever child」

「Clever?」

「Yes. I may be wrong, but it seems that she more or less understands the current situation. Most of the Spirit-samas have also disappeared. I think that Hime-sama understood that she is in no danger」

That is so, I understand you know. I am not your ordinary baby! It is just that I have no knowledge of magic so I was just a little surprised.

「Then, I will inform His Majesty about the safe birth and about the Eye Mark」

After Oji-san said so, he left the room first... Hey, wait a minute! His Majesty? That is how you normally call a king right? Why report... The Eye Mark is probably unusual. That must be it. Although I cannot see the mark myself. However, is not this room a little too large? Around 20 tatamis? My last room must have been around 6 tatamis?

「I am your Okaa-san, it is nice to finally meet you, Alice」

Slightly surprised Okaa-sama? seems to have revived. Munimuni, she fiddles with my hand, then she tickles my cheeks, but because I am a baby I don't have the strength to resist... Gununu.

However, mother's warm is so pleasant. This is common knowledge throughout all worlds.

However, to be a Hime-sama in this life. It is my personal opinion, but I have probably been a commoner in my former life. I do not feel inclined to live in such a luxurious room. Which reminds me, that Oji-san called me Hime-sama, that means that my parent's house must be in a quite high position ... But, could you change it? I do not dislike this Okaa-sama. Rather, being held in her arms is very relaxing and it makes me feel very happy, but I was most likely a commoner before. I do not think I can live the aristocratic life.

Knock, knock「Sylvia, may I come in?」「Come in」

N? When I thought someone will come in, the door is suddenly smashed to pieces and that person rushes over here!!

「This is the tenth time. Please stop destroying my doors all the time 」

「No problem, I will replace them later」

Apparently, a criminal has come in. However, what a rough dandy person desu ne, he seems to be in his prime. He seems to be a little older than Okaa-sama? He enthusiastically shows off his muscles!!

「Au!」

I wanted to say hello first, but he approached me at super high-speed. He missed because Okaa-sama saved me by moving me to the opposite side. The mysterious dandy is depressed. Is he my Otou-sama by any chance? They are talking about the Spirits, but because it is the same talk from before I am not too interested.

And then, all of sudden, Otou-sama released something!! That surprised me. I almost made an emergency call for the resting Spirit-sans.

「Are they really hiding around Alicetia?」

「Maybe the rest of them just don't want to be seen」

That is right. These children have been drowsily drifting around me since a while ago. Though I do not understand, he probably used some perception magic to see the Spirits. I would like you to stop surprising me.

「I won't let anyone steal my Alicetia nor will I let her become a tool, we will protect her」

It seems that I somehow approached a dangerous flag. To be in a life threatening position few moments after birth... Does this flag have some cooling-off by any chance?

Moreover, this flag seems to be set about 500 years ago. Are the enemies after my eye? Or rather, Okaa-sama. Are you not bothered by the Spirit-san's playing on your head? The serious conversation is becoming pretty surreal.

It seems that the Spirit's day looks like this, sleep, wake up, play and repeat.

「However, Alicetia's expression doesn't change at all」

Rude! Although my appearances are that of a baby, my contents are unknown... Yeah, it is nothing. I mean, I am positive that I do not cry because of my mental age. My expression wasere probably always like this desu. Still, I am quite enjoying myself you know? Because this is my new life desu.

「Yoshi Alicetia, I'm your papa da zo. I'm the king da zo, don't worry I won't let any evil approaaaaa」

For some reason, in the middle of the sentence Okaa-sama dealt him a mighty stomach blow. I have some bad premonition desu.

It seems I really am Ojou-sama. I am not too happy about it. For example, if I was born in the forest as an elf I could lead a peaceful life. Ah well, there is no helping it. Since I have promised That person? I will live with all my might.

Pervert Attack and Spirit Magic

Regular Chapter

It seems my parents are discussing something. Sometimes my Otou-sama receives a blow to the stomach. You are a king, right? Do you not have any dignity? I'm starting to think so.

「At least Anbu would be needed. The fellows from the church will definitely come to steal her」

「It can't be helped but... It's too early to think about eliminating men that approach her!!」

Apparently they are worried about the future? When a daughter brings home her boyfriend it's probably a sad thing for a father, but it won't certainly happen a year after being born. Isn't it too early to think about this?

「It's also to suppress that idiot Gill...」

It seems Otou-sama suddenly got tired, even though he was full of energy a little while ago.

「Why did that child turn out like that I wonder.....」

Someone suddenly appeared just as the two were sighing!!

「Chichiue, Hahaue! How long will you make me wait? I couldn't stand it anymore, so I let myself in」

Oo young ikemen discovered! My heart is not excited for some reason. I wonder why? I want to attack that child when I look at him.

「Gill, you forgot to knock」

Surely he forgot to knock, but the door is smashed to pieces. Okaa-sama, the macho criminal is sitting next to you. Because there is no sign of remorse in his eyes, they will be destroyed again!

「Excuse me Hahaue, I didn't knock because the door is missing.....Oo!! So this child is my imouto desu ne!! Beyond angelic. How about you become my bride in the future.....」

Aah my new Okaa-sama, I'm being proposed to the first day after the birth. During the last part of his sentence, Otou-sama rendered him unconscious with one blow and dragged him off somewhere. It seems I am somehow able to distinguish a dangerous person. How about you bury that boy on the occasion?! He's definitely hentai! He's a lolicon you know, an enemy of all woman you know, he must be buried at all cost. The victims of his uselessly good looking face will increase.

「I'm sorry Alice-chan about that boy... He is your Onii-chan Gilbert. Don't make such an unpleasant face. You really understand huh...」

I'm sorry that my thoughts were reflected on my face. Yes, I dislike that brother. I mean, he's a hentai who proposed to a little girl. No sankyu desu. Moreover, Okaa-sama hesitated about introducing my own older brother to me. That child must be a terrible troublemaker! Let's replace him by all means. He should be sent to a brainwashing detention camp in order to correct his character. The victims of his uselessly handsome face will only increase.

「Why he became like that I wonder~ Everything else is regrettably perfect...」

Regrettably perfect... it would be hard to replace him huh. It is a mystery why he proposed to me on our first meeting, but let's not get anywhere near him once I grow up.

「Fuu, it finally became quiet」

Many thanks, Otou-sama. You look somehow worn out. Did you fight a fierce battle? Okaa-sama tucks her pointlessly meaty upper half in a dress before some women... it seems Okaa-sama doesn't mind at all.

「Thank you for your help」

Okaa-sama said with a forced smile.

「It's almost the time. After I change, I have to appear on the balcony, make sure Alicetia is clothed properly so she doesn't catch a cold」

N? Speaking of a balcony, is it an announcement I wonder? Something Lion King-ish? That is definitely scary, I will wet myself. The balcony is on the second floor... still scary.

Yes, it's high. Extremely high. My prided expressionless face is crumbling. However, this kingdom is a paradise desu ne. They even have mofumofu beastmen-san's. I knew about this, but this is not a human-only world after all. It seems that this kingdom doesn't have any prejudice against other races. I mean, the beastmen seem like they are having fun. Although I was told that this world's society suffers from discrimination.

「Everybody!! This is my daughter, Alicetia」

Oooo.

Although I was surprised, I watched the scene before me. What a thing, fireworks exist in this world. It's my first time? seeing such fireworks, they are beautiful. What makes me curious is that they are shooting them from their hands. Magic? While wondering I look towards Otou-sama.

「Wawawa I can do it too... Oraora~」

Oo a rapid fire. Amazing, I want to try it too~ I admire you~

「Your sparkling eyes are so cute. Look, I can also change the shape」

Amazing. As expected of Otou-sama. A favorable impression of you is skyrocketing. Me too, tei! As expected nothing comes out when I shake my hand. Nuu... so unfair, I want to do it too! Me tooo~o.

「It's still too early for Alicetia」

I feel offended so tei! My hands burnt while I kept waving them!

「Oi! I will put it out right away so calm down」

I wave my hands but it doesn't disappear. Rather, it's not hot at all. Is this magic I wonder? It was scary at first, but this is【Not scary】isn't it?

Then, before I became aware, the white spirit became transparent and a red child materialized instead. If my deduction is right, then this child should have started it. Don't you have something I may be able to control, for example, something similar to Otou-sama's chant?

「It doesn't vanish?! Spirit-sama's work?... Doesn't seem to be burnt」

Otou-sama sprinkled some water on my hands, but the fire doesn't seem to disappear.

All of sudden, I knew how to use this power. Suddenly, diverse information poured into my head, giving me a headache.

—Information link complete. Hello, how are you? I had a hard time looking for you. I didn't know where or to whom you were supposed to be born you see.

That person?-like one is before my eyes. In front of my eyes... In other words, in the air. I understood for the first time that, this person? wasn't a human being.

—You are cruel... It's something even you will be able to do eventually. At the moment your magic power is small so you will fall down immediately. By the way, how do you feel about this world? Ahh, because nothing will come out if you talk with your mouth, I will read your mind.

「(No matter what I say, it has been only one day since I was born. Ask me again after a few days)」

—Huh? Didn't around five years pass?

It appears that this person?'s sense of time is out of order. If a 5-year-old child has the appearances of a baby, it probably suffers from some kind of illness you know? However, because I'm in front of Otou-sama and the other's I endure the unnatural sigh.

—N~ I don't think you need to mind. No one but us is moving you know? The only being moving in the whole world is us. If I say that I stopped the time would you understand better?

Yes? Stopped the time? I check my surroundings, but nobody moves. Otou-sama is frozen in place while holding me. Because I want to scribble graffiti on his face I turn towards that person?

—I'm happy that you understand. It would be troublesome if you started panicking. Well then, let's move to the issue of my request.

「(Request, you mean about the races?)」

—That so. I'm very happy that you didn't forget, but don't worry, I don't have any intention to force you. But you see, I had a slight miscalculation. Therefore, I came to meet you.

「(You miscalculated even though you are『Wait』)」

—Stop calling me God or I will really become one... Let's see, I have a name, but it's not possible for humans to express it in words... Call me Teth. Don't call me God or Demon in any circumstances. Because I'm at risk by coming to meet you.

Come to think of it that p... Teth-san seems to be a conceptual existence. If he is discovered, he will be judged by the other persons.

—The request. I have come to tell you that you are in an imminent danger. The compensation is cheats.

「(Is cheat supposed to be that intoxicating power?)」

—I can't tell you much, but I was the one who engraved the mark into your eye. I thought it may help you in your new life, but apparently I have taken my eyes off from this world for 500 years. It seems a lot has changed. For example, the church... Though I was the one who created the church in the old days, their standards have fallen to rotten levels. Although I originally made this world with foundations of helping each other, but... Well, although the religion will make a mistake in any world, I can't accept my beloved children getting hurt even further.

So you had children! That is surprising. Because his appearances are that of a child, his face is blurred, his eye color is neglected, I can't even tell the color of his hair.

—You are at the point of being my child too, though. I'm the whole world's parent. Every child born in this world is my child. You see, the church is gathering children with a Mark like yours. That is not a good thing in any way. Therefore, I came to teach you. To be careful. And power... In other words, how to use the Spirit power that resides within your eye. Because I can only teach you the fundamentals, the rest is up to you. Everything will be okay since the Eye Mark itself is considered a cheat power in this world. I have high expectations of you. The way you used to live, it's not possible to live like that in this world. Depending on the situation, you may possibly hold a grudge against me. However, I want to change this world. I called you here for that reason.

Somehow the scale got larger, but I understand.

1, The church is gathering people that are connected with Spirits. I was not told the reason.

2, In order to oppose against 1, I received a power and fundamental knowledge.

3, There is a possibility that I will bear a grudge against Teth.

The probability of 3 is pretty high. Otherwise, Teth wouldn't appear before me. Teth can't interfere with this world's affairs. He wants me to do it in his stead. Then, I will do it in order to achieve my peaceful life.

—We won't probably meet again, but I will watch over you... Aaah, don't look at me with such eyes, I will respect your privacy.

I'm glad that the Hentai#2 seems to have respect for my privacy. I'm glad he isn't the same kind of a person like my Nii-sama.

「(By the way, can't you do something about that Nii-sama's personality?)」

—Well then! I'm off baibai.

He ran away~~! Apparently Teth is the unreliable type.

As Teth vanished, the time begun to move again. That was a little or perhaps I should say a considerably strange event, but I'm a person who gets used to such things fairly quickly so I wasn't that surprised. I mean if I surprised every time at things like reincarnation, magic, hentai my heart would get tired. Now, that I have a grasp on my abilities, I will make fireworks just like my Otou-sama. Actually, it is very different, but it has the【same】effect.

「Uuu~」

It's quite difficult, but just wait! My first magic desu! Will be successful. The image is oversized fireworks. With the image in my mind of fireworks much bigger than my Otou-sama's I point my hand towards the sky.

「!! Alicetia」

When Otou-sama notices what I'm up to he gets upset, but I will not let you stand in my way. For some reason, I really want to use this. And when I approach my limit, I shoot..... It's a failure desu. Certainly it should have been big and pretty, but it exploded a little just above my head desu. In other words, it didn't look good. And I wasn't able to defend against the sudden attack of drowsiness.

Chapter 3

Good morning. Apparently my first magic somehow resulted in a three-day coma. The Spirits told me the reason. When one consumes too much Magic Power and exceeds his own capacity, the body will reject the regeneration. It seems this even sent Spirit-sans into a panic, and they have been transferring their magic power into my body for the last three days. If they didn't, in the worst case scenario I would die and Okaa-sama would go further in the berserk mode.

I cried. Otou-sama too was crying for an hour after getting scolded. To think my first tears were because of scolding...

「Do you understand, Alice-chan? You can't use Magic and Spirit Magic as you please」

Roger desu, Okaa-sama. I almost died on the first day of my precious new life. I was not patient, no I was not prudent enough. And, I must prevent any further scary scolding.

「It appears that Alicetia is a special existence. The case of receiving the Spirit's Magic Power confirmed that. Moreover, the envoy of Church is already here. I have to hold an audience with them now, and it seems that they demand Alicetia's participation... Shitty fellows with damn good ears. I wish they would fall into ruins」

Otou-sama hates the people from the Church it seems. Well, after hearing Teth's story, it's only natural that he dislikes them. However, the question still remains. How does an organization like that still exist? An organization like that shouldn't be able to survive without the people's support. But instead of barely surviving, they hold a considerable power. If they didn't, they wouldn't be able to call an audience with Otou-sama and me.

Ah well, I will check on that matter once I grow up.

We came to the audience hall desu. It looks like a scene from an RPG. Gorgeous room with a luxurious chair. Otou-sama sits on that chair with a crown and a red mantle.

Me? I am in Okaa-sama's embrace who sits on a chair for the Queen. Now then, the messenger who came has three demands.

1. My education and training will be done by the church. Therefore, hand me over.
2. Stop unreasonably protecting the demi-humans and abide by the Central Nations Alliance's policy.
3. This country will from now on hold the lowest seat in the Central Nations Alliance.

Now then, the third demand... Are you taking us lightly? At first, I thought the relationship may be delicate, but this person says whatever he wants. Furthermore, that person didn't even use honorifics. Are you more important than the king of the whole country? A vein popped up on Otou-sama's and Okaa-sama's forehead, please take shelter. It's really scary, you know!! The trauma from Okaa-sama's scolding reemerges and I can't stop quivering.

「It's okay」

It seems Okaa-sama noticed. She dispersed the bloodthirsty aura and became calm. However, Otou-sama's thirst for blood kept on burning and at last, the messenger noticed.

「I refuse it all. I will write a letter, so throw this garbage out of the country. I prohibit this person from entering the country」

Arara, deported from the country and prohibited the entry. Ah well, he's a bad person without proper manners, there is no other way. The nearby soldier takes him under his arm like a baggage and leaves the room.

「Bolken, what do you think about this matter?」

Otou-sama asks Ojii-san of similar age next to him. This person somewhat resembles a civil official, he has long brown hair and eyes of the same color. With sharp eyes like that, he indeed looks like a capable person, however, the big black circles under his eyes destroy that image.

「They send him in order to verify. Otherwise, their demands would be more reasonable. He talked without paying any attention to us, his eyes were only watching Hime-sama」

Fumu, he came to see me. Moreover, they had the refusal factored in. However, it seems that only a few countries are able to reject the Central Nations Alliance's demands of not protecting the minorities and there's a possibility of that Alliance encouraging the discrimination.

「Don't interfere with other countries, and don't accept the interference of other countries. These were the words of our founding King, he probably foresaw a situation like this」

「That's right, our ancestor was a person with many mysteries, but he was for the coexistence with other races. If possible, I want to follow his thoughts. But, the times have changed! How much longer do we need to endure? 500 years da zo, how many soldiers have died in order to halt the advances of the central countries. Only four members of the royal family remain, at this rate the royalty of this country will disappear」

Eh? Only 4 remain? Isn't that dangerous? Usually, even a duke has around ten children, why is there so few members of royal family?

「Because of that reason, I want the King to remain here. Leave the battlefield to soldiers and knights, and expand the royal family little by little. A princess was born and the place for a future son-in-law is vacant」

The succession rights usually fall onto the first born. Well, I don't want to become a queen or something so helping Onii-sama is enough for me. While keeping a large physical distance.

「Must not! If such thing happens, the oath will be broken and the country will be divided. We, the royal family must lead our forces in battle. That was the oath between the founder King and patriarchs of other families. Only that way they will give us their assistance to keep the country peaceful」

「But that was only possible because the founder King always returned unhurt from the battlefields」

「Importunate! There are things that should not be changed. Why do we exist? You understand that other countries bear a grudge against other races, right? We have to compensate for them. As equal beings, it is our royal family's duty to continue proving that other races are no different from us」

The story is rather deep, but will my future be used for political convenience? Well, my parents seem like good people so they probably wouldn't choose a bad partner, because I was born to the royal family, I must be resolute.

「Increase the lookouts along the borders. They will attack in the future to get hold of Alicetia's body. It's not like we lived 500 years in idleness. I won't let her become the puppet of the church like the others! The God will see our willpower through this child. Now that the Asta Commonwealth has fallen, if this country also disappears our poor people and other races won't have anywhere to live anymore」

I'm the cause of war desu ne... However, in spite of having a poor ability, I will do my best. From their talk, it seems that living in a different country would be impossible-ish, I don't want to be someone's puppet. I don't know much yet, but the time won't wait just for me, I must grow up as soon as possible. I must grow before I become a calamity for this country.

Therefore, I will use all the knowledge and power I possess to protect my family and the people of this country.

Chapter 4

Novel Updates table of context/ release page

This series is known as

The Great Nation Remodeling of Reincarnated Princess Let's Build an Unrivaled Country

I prefer to read most things in Romanji. The romanji title is

Tensei Oujo no Kokka Dai Kaizou ~ Muteki na Kuni wo Tsukurimashou

This is a teaser chapter. I will state this again, I am not picking this series up as a project. I am not really going to be picking up any novel projects right now. Everything I do will be a teaser. This is also a final first draft. I did it on a whim. Not going to edit it, and you may rehost this and every thing else on your own site if you wish. You can even edit it yourself.

About the RPGmaker Projects. Those take a lot of time to do and make sure all the stuff fits in each little box. I work really slow, and it is very tedious work.

I generally use this program to edit, which is easier than using the actual RPGmaker programs to directly edit it. Although, the context of what is happening is easier to understand if I went in directly. These things take a long time, that is why you don't see as many translated RPGmaker games as you would like. All Future RPGmaker translations will only be the systems and items and stuff. Only the necessary stuff to make it playable.

5 Years have passed since I reincarnated into this world。

「Alicetia yo...umm...wouldn't you rather play outside ? 」

「I am very busy, so there is no time for that」

I answered briefly before returning my gaze to the book。 The book that is being read today is about Magic Engineering。 Although the contents are very complicated, as I have increased the knowledge of oneself over these 5 years and have not been negligent in studies and observation of surroundings, I can understand it 。

「Nevertheless...there are probably no more books left here after this」

I have come to be able to read at the age of 3, the penmanship is still a bit childish though I am capable of writing while I spend most of my free time reading to pass the time。 However, since I am still very young with not much else to do, the proportion of time spent reading was higher and so I seemed to have read all of the books 。

「Then maybe I should enroll into the Academy」

Central Nations Alliance Huell Academy This seems to be the largest school in this world, entrance to the academy is only permitted if one passes an examination。 The school is distinctive in how it will remove even the meddling of nations that may become a hindrance to education, not even an emperor could do anything 。

「But...even Gil only enrolled at the age of 12, it is too early for Alicetia ! 」

「I don't have enough knowledge」

「Why is only your thirst for knowledge so high...」

It is inevitable isn't it。 Because there is not enough time for me。 There have been small skirmishes along the border these 5 years, but an invasion has not yet taken place 。

I may lose the opportunity if I do not enroll now。 In addition to my safety, the School prevents any outside interference, another institution like that does not exist。

The only thing I possess is knowledge。 At the same age, Oniisama received a short sword and polished his skills but as for me...well...my growth seems to be slower than average and I cannot wield the short sword at all。 Since that is the case, I shall polish knowledge and survive with that as a weapon。 I must grow up in haste, since time is very finite I would hate to waste it。

「Otousama onegaishimasu」

I closed the book and bowed my head towards Otousama。

「Nugugu...O, Oh that's right ! Alicetia is able to use Spirit Magic。 If that is the case, I can't just have just any basic wand made ! I must go figure out how to get a proper one manufactured」

And with that response, Otousama escaped。

Besides chanting, a wand is indispensable for magic and spirit magic。 Without using it, the amplification of one's magical power and support in invocation would be unavailable。 The most important trait is its ability to encapsulate magic。 Fundamentally being able to encapsulate magic is only one thing but, the real reason is that encapsulated magic has the ability to be used by a magician as a surprise attack without employing the use of aria or magic formations。

For instance, even a elementary level fireball can kill a person if it is enclosed。 Being able to omit chanting has instantly great merits, but this enclosure has one certain 'trap'。 The wand of another person cannot be used without a high degree of difficulty except for the practitioner themselves due to the enclosed magic。 In other words they are completely handmade。 Of course an all-purpose type wand without enclosure are used by students that attend the school but a magician would say that 'it is a toy made for children to use, with its slow magic power amplification being so pitifully small and sorrowful performance'。

「I shall make it at once」

Of course, I naturally can make a genuine【Wand】。 Up until now, knowledge that had been pointlessly stockpiled along with the knowledge from the previous existence had been in waste; now we can finally expect to make use of it, let us go get the materials from Okaasama。

「Please give me these materials」

Currently I am in the midst of imploring Okaasama。

「It is indeed too early for Alice-chan。 Even I was only able to make a cane when I turned 18 years old, there can't be any way that it is possible can it ? 」

Didn't Otousama indirectly say that he'll have it produced by the Kingdom at 18 years old...However, I am already able to make it myself。 I shall prove that I can make it。

「It is alright, the design for the wand already exists」

I told Okaasama of the concept and the magic loaded into the wand。

「Though it would be interesting, it is however too dangerous。 Generally attack magic is inserted, something like that is unheard of。 If Alice chan carries a wand then make it with attack magic for the sake of emergencies to keep one safe」

「It wouldn't even be a threat if attack magic couldn't be aimed at people」

There is a reason why I chose this type of knowledge。 If possible I would like to not hurt anyone。 Since the effects of one's own magic is understood...even if it is a villain that the magic is being shot at, the concentration of one's spirit will waver。

「The virtue of Alice-chan's gentleness is a vice 。 If one is not resolute, harm may befall oneself or a precious person。 So that is why I do not want you to become a magician」

Okaasama's gentle nature makes a deep impression, but it is not enough to change my mind。 I want to become a praiseworthy person like Okaasama and Otousama, and use my power to benefit this country。

Various things have happened to me these 5 years。 Being a target of Assassins and Kidnappers, but many people have been seen as well。

The people of this country seem to be happy, to have continued to battle for over 500 years to preserve these smiles。 It seems that there are a lot of people with family and friends that have died。 Even still, I love this country!! Everyone does their best to protect the place we all call home。

But there still exists the adverse effects of war in this country。 In this country, high quality metals and the like are extracted from mines in the west, there is a Forest of Demons in the unexplored areas in the north, and to the east there is the ocean。 The sea should have the geographic features necessary for a large scale port city that could feed the people of the nation with seafood and agriculture。 And monster materials harvested from the Monster's forest are said to be of the highest quality, the large amounts of exports such as the swords and armor and so forth are of a high quality comparable to the exports of other countries, but these profits are used for the sake of protecting the country and not invested anywhere else。 The financial costs of war have caused Otousama to grieve and suffer over。

「The magic of this country is somewhat lacking, so that is where I can be of use」

「Surely this country's magicians aren't so insufficient to the degree that it would fall upon a child to shoulder the burden ? 」

Okaasama's anger is understandable。 In this country adults protect the children, it is commonplace for children to grow up with the concept that adults have the responsibility of protect the children, (This way of thinking originally existed within the Beastmen races but it has spread out and become widely accepted by other peoples) and as a child no one will consider my thoughts。

「I must also shoulder responsibilities since I am Royalty。 It is as Otousama always states。 The Royal Family exists for the country」

「Even so there is no hurry to grow up so fast。 You might certainly be a genius。 But you are also a gentle child and it can be seen that you have great powers。 However we do not want you to carry such a burden。 Please be patient for at least a few more years」

It seems to already be impossible now。 Once Okaasama has decided on something, she will never change and could possibly be more stubborn than me。

「I understand the matters about the school。 But I still want to make the wand」

「Does Alice chan really wish to make something that is not sold in shop ? Your pocket money seems to still have a considerable amount remaining, isn't it ? 」

Oniisama and I are very unusual for royalty to have an allowance system, we receive 6 pieces of silver coins each month, and because of that we can somehow get by。 Since clothes and accessories are necessary for the royal family, they are provided by the country; but personal effects and other things are bought by oneself in order for one to foster a sense for money and to prevent a wasteful livelihood。 As for myself, I only spend to the degree of occasionally purchasing a book or drinking tea in a café while having the rest of the gold coins in the savings box。

「It won't be usable if the performance is too low。 The one previously bought exploded when it was used」

「Has your magical power become much greater than mine...」

Magical power increases the more it is used to the limit, but the rate of increase is very insignificant。 However it has increased greatly with me using magic on a daily basis。 It is easier to increase the maximum capacity while one is still small, but generally children cannot control magic so even if the method is known the theory is difficult to put into practice。

「The matters about the school can wait, but not having a wand is inconvenient」

「Yeah～it would be a problem if Alice-chan were only able to call herself a magician only in name.....Okay then。 Please wait for a few days。 It will be decided after discussing this with that person。 But until then, don't do anything unreasonable」

「I understand」

With this, the things that I am capable of will surely increase。 But this is still just the beginning, I need to learn about various more things so that I am not a nuisance to the family。 Being surrounded by such good and kind people, I realize that I must put in great effort everyday。 I know that in these past 5 years, that the people that have died for my sake is no small number。 For the people who have died and their surviving family, I need to have unwavering determination and will。 So therefore I must persevere。 I will do my best so that I can live this life with pride and confidence。
