Chapter 1-Jiang Fei

Looking at the street diagonally opposite of them was a clinic doorway, that had a long line as people one after the other are visiting to see a doctor. Jiang Fei then took a look at their desolate clinic doorway which wasn't even able to seize a single sparrow, and he couldn't help but shake his head and reveal a helpless smile.

"If this continues on, sooner or later we'll have to close this clinic ah!"

"Closing this clinic is fine. However, this façade had been rented for 1 year, and it hasn't even been three months since then. It's fine to close the clinic, but what other business can we do?"

Standing in front of his own front door the person sighed, melancholically waiting there for half an hour since spring and autumn, but he still hadn't seen any patients come and instead both his legs became somewhat numb, Jiang Fei returned to the clinic bitterly, and turned on the computer to continue playing his game.

Another idle day!

Jiang Fei this year was 25 years old, who had graduated from a second-grade Medical University three years ago.

After graduating, through the use of his family's relations, and after many hardships, could then he enter a big ophthalmology hospital.

In China, ophthalmology is the most profitable medical profession.

The so-called 'gold eye silver tooth', meant that ophthalmologists earn gold, while dentists earn silver. Doctors of these two professions make money very fast, earning tens of thousands a month was a normal matter.

Compared to cardiology, neurosurgery, oncology still make money, but earn money faster. Although these professions have high pay for each operation and can earn over a thousand dollars. But since they could only do it once a day, so their total income isn't too high.

Ophthalmologists are not the same, undergoing an eye surgery that could be done in minutes' time, and are also able to do a dozen of such operations in a single day without any problems.

One can just imagine how much those doctors earn.

After graduating Jiang Fei was in this very substantial money making department for nearly three years. Although he still hasn't purchased a house, but nevertheless he had already bought a 300000 Jeep Compass, and also have saved up hundred thousands in his bank card.

Every time there was a school reunion, they would always be jealous of him, and thought that he was flushed with success, a life winner.

Unfortunately, it didn't last long, three months ago, Jiang Fei was dismissed from the hospital. The reason was simple, he had offended the son of the hospital director, and as expected they tried to find all kinds of excuse to dismiss him.

“Messed Up! Good people really doesn't end good. If I had known earlier that business was this difficult, at that time I wouldn't have been hot blooded, and meddle in other people's business!”

Jiang Fei turns on the computer, while resentfully talking to himself.

After being dismissed from the hospital, Jiang Fei pondered for several days, and decided to open his own clinic, having oneself as the boss, so as to avoid receiving other people's anger again.

Now doctors in this industry, is still very popular, after all, no matter what, people would always be sick and have to take medicine, so doctors wouldn't starve to death.

Moreover, when you go grocery shopping or buy clothes, you would always be able to negotiate a price with the boss, and if you think that it's expensive then you wouldn't buy it.

However, if you go to the hospital to see a doctor, one always can't bargain with the doctor, right?

Never have this rule again!

Jiang Fei inquired about the prices, asking his former university schoolmates, and found that opening a clinic is also profitable. Treating small wounds, slight illness, cold, fever anything so long as the clinic picks the right location, earning ten thousand dollars a month is not a problem.

Jiang Fei at that time succeeded!

Anyway, he used a little of his money that was deposited in the bank, and used almost 200000 to open this clinic.

In the two months that they've started, the clinic's profit was indeed very good.

The nearby community resident were quite many, but there weren't that many clinics, so the first month he opened his business he earned about 6000, then after the second month its reputation went up which allowed him to earn almost 10000!

He thought that things were going to continue smoothly, and have a happy life enough to live comfortably, when an unforeseen matter occurred.

At the beginning of this meet, at the street opposite while Jiang Fei wasn't prepared, a clinic opened up that resemble his clinic which directly affected his business!

In less than a month's time, he wasn't able to get a single customer, and was robbed of it.

After a month, the 10000 that he earned, was now used to make up for the rent of this façade!

“Isn’t that pretty? Isn’t just like them that have a white gown with a huge Chinese-style unlined garment having a black silk thread on the bottom and at the same time wearing high heels? Are you buying medicine, or showing off smiles!”

Jiang Fei stood up to get a cup of warm water.

That’s right, the doctor across the street, was a 30-year-old graceful young married woman. Her looks were 8/10, also having a very lovely figure, to the point that children would even be willing to buy soy sauce from her, but also maintaining a 28-year-old maiden’s appearance, making her pretty and outstanding.

A pitch-black long hair, always wearing a high ponytail, and the most hateful part was that she also likes to put on black high heels! Even if their medicine is mediocre, but with her looks and dress together was like a strong buff.

Jiang Fei’s eldest grandfather, looks were a 3 and a big 5 in unrefined, so how would he be able to compete against this kind of graceful and attractive young married woman?

Losing wasn’t even a surprise!

If it were not for considering the opposing party being an orphan widowed mother, having a not so easy life, Jiang Fei wouldn’t have been considerate and would have use a bit of his few tricks.

In fact, according to rumors which came from patients, that the prescriptions given by the opposite party that the young female doctor gives have a little bit better effects than Jiang Fei's....

After all, although Jiang fei had graduated from a medical university, but he had always been staying in a ophthalmology room inside the hospital, rather than clinics.

Effortlessly opening the game.

Not having any business to do, after Jiang Fei opens the door of his business every day, he spends most of his time playing the game called 'Knight-Line'.

The 'knight-line' not based on the novel of the elderly Jin Yong, but merging numerous characters of the novel, a mix of martial arts game.

This game wasn't hot, as there weren't many people playing the game.

Jiang Fei hadn't considered being a pro and making money out of it, but still throws himself back and forth nearly going in the ocean 1000 times, the same way as trying to have fun.

After throwing himself 1000 times into the ocean, Jiang Fei still found himself in a pit.

After he had exchanged money for gold coins, buying rare skill books and equipments, wanting to become a first generation world martial arts master, and getting prestige in the game.

The result was that his game account was hacked in the past, but the equipment and rare books that he had bought wasn't sold, rather the person had used his game character and raised all kinds of skills that he possessed.

For example: forging weapons, planting, cooking, gardening, playing piano, wine-making, summoning beasts, have all been substantially risen.

Opening the game, his character appeared in a manor, as a series of prompts emerged.

“Ding! Your high grade grass spirit ‘seven-leaf rosette’ matured!”

“Ding! Your high grade wine spirit ‘Liquid Nectar’ has been brewed!

“Ding! Your summon beast ‘Xiao Bai’ through your comfort overnight, loyalty had reached 100%!

Jiang Fei's right hand held the mouse, as he quickly collected the fruits of his labor, while having the cup at his left hand wanting to have a drink.

Suddenly—

Someone patted his should from behind and said: “Doctor, doctor!

Time to play game!”

The cup on Jiang Fei’s left hand trembled, sprinkling a few drops on the laptop’s keyboard, quickly affecting it, immediately Jiang Fei took a paper towel to wipe it but it was too late.

“Zi....”

The Laptop’s screen flashed two times, and then went black.

Jiang Fei didn’t know if it was just his imagination, but he when he used the paper towel to clean the keyboard, he felt a tingling current going into his body, that made him temporarily paralyzed for a tenth of a second.

“Jasmine Lin!” Jiang Fei turned around and stared at the woman who patted his shoulder, holding up the black screened laptop: “You see what you’ve done!”

A person in a beige sweater, not much shorter than Jiang Fei, a 1.8-meter woman behind Jiang Fei, as her smile froze.

“Broken?” Jasmine Lin somewhat weakly replied, afraid of being criticized.

Jasmine Lin was a natural beauty, that lived up to her good name. Having a white oval face, eyebrows as if it had been draw, shining radiantly. She had a bright big eyes, a woman that doesn’t use fake eyelashes and other such cosmetics, but still make people’s heart beat faster.

Especially her cherry mouth, with a slight pout, make a person yield and angry, would make anyone no other choice but to restrain himself.

“Beautiful women are the source of trouble, is troublesome! No wonder that director’s son, in order to get this young girl wanted to do anything to capture this girl. A beast!” Jiang Fei sighed in his heart.

Jasmine Lin used to work at the hospital as a nurse.

At that time, he was only working to earn money, but by accident, he saw the director of the hospital’s son wanting to drug Jasmine Lin, he couldn’t bear it, and previously rescued Jasmine Lin.

Then afterwards, he took off and got out of the place....

Certainly, Jasmine Lin had a sense of resentment and loyalty, because after Jiang Fei left his job, she also left her job. And now she has a job of selling real estates.

But after she changed jobs, her circumstances with Jiang Fei was quite different.

They unexpectedly mixed well together!

Jasmine Lin’s monthly sales were off the charts, the company she works in was a leading kind, so it was natural that the pay was ridiculously high, almost four or five times the pay she gets as a nurse at the hospital she worked in!

But Jiang Fei, had also been rewarded, as a result he more or less became friends with Jasmine Lin, becoming good friends with her.

“Big deal, I’ll buy a new computer for you...” Seeing Jiang Fei angry, Jasmine Lin quickly pulled Jiang Fei’s hand with both her hands, shaking her head speaking with a stern tone acting like a spoiled child. She didn’t mind Jiang Fei’s arm brush against her plump and elastic weapon.

Jiang Fei’s heart tickled, drowned in her smell as he stayed in place which showed his own feelings.

“You’ve used this computer for so long, it’s configuration is old already. I’ll buy you an Apple laptop, what do you think?” Jasmine Lin wide-eyed, and asked with a smile.

“I know that you’re now rich, becoming rich is great! But do you think I care about the computer’s price? I care about the feelings I hold towards this computer! I’ve used this computer for four years, and have already gotten used to it. Moreover, you know how much file I save inside the hard drive....

Jiang Fei spoke out as if he was in an action movie. Fortunately, it wasn’t quick enough, so he immediately came to a halt.

Waved his hand and said: “I know that my clinic’s business is very bad, nobody wanting to see a doctor. You can’t wash me, as I have a good self-respect, okay? Where's the patient, where's the patient!"

Jiang Fei wasn't finished, while Jasmine felt that she was wronged and pointed at the counter outside, where a sickly Oldman was sitting.....

Chapter 2-Possessed by the Game

Jiang Fei took a look and saw that there really was a patient, and simply couldn't continue bickering with Jasmine Lin.

Turning around he threw the black screened laptop on the table, walking towards the counter.

The clinic's business was already bad, if he neglects this customer, he'll indeed go broke and have to close down.

"Elder, why have you come to see a doctor?" Jiang Fei sat on the stool at the counter, chuckled and smiled as he asked, giving off the feeling of the warm spring breeze.

The patient was approximately sixty years old, although his body looks pretty healthy, but his spirit wasn't.

"Ahem cough..." The Oldman hadn't answered yet, as he burst into cough, tears flowing out, waiting for quite a while before answering: "Doctor, I still have a cough. Previously after I picking up the medicine from you, I immediately went back and took one, the cough actually reduced. But not even one week has passed, and now it's back...."

Hearing these words, Jiang Fei couldn't help but somewhat be embarrassed, remembering that the old man indeed came here a week ago.

“Oh, it might just be a stubborn cough. Thus, I’ll first check your arteries.” Hearing Jiang Fei, the old man extended his hand, as the index finger, middle finger, and the ring finger took the pulse of the old man.

Jiang Fei studied western medicine in the time that he was in university, but when seeing a patient, he actually doesn’t like to listen to their heartbeat with the use of a stethoscope, but instead taking their pulse just like the Chinese traditional way.

That said, it was also related to Jiang Fei background.

Jiang Fei’s family was barely considered as a medical family, his grandfather was an old doctor of traditional Chinese medicine, who had also opened a Chinese medicine store for years. These years his body wasn’t too good, so he had to close the store, and wasn’t able to continue to examine people.

As a child Jiang Fei often spends his time with his grandparents, ‘Prescription Song’, ‘Typhoid’, ‘Compendium of Materia Medica’ these ancient Chinese medicine writings, he had already memorized. Under the influence of what one sees and hears, he had also become pretty good with Traditional Chinese Medicine.

Just as he opened the clinic, one could see that it wasn’t purely a Western Medical clinic as the wall at the right side had a medicine-chest that was filled with Traditional Chinese Medicine.

“Doctor, my cough has been getting worse and worse. During the day, it would be in the morning and evening when my cough is the fiercest.

Moreover, recently I feel that my body's cold, you have to look and see if there's any problem with me..." The old man asked aloud.

However, the old man didn't notice, while doctor Jiang Fei was checking his pulse, he suddenly turned pale, eyes widened, and a stunned look, like he was in a fantasy!

Fortunately, he hadn't paid attention. If he had noticed, he would have perhaps thought that he had an incurable disease.

In Jiang Fei's mind, there was a very strange, but familiar scene. Because the scene was like the 'Knight-Line' that he played just a while ago, having not much of a difference!

Character: Jiang Fei

Level: 0

Experience: 0/500

Physical Strength: 0.9 (Mild Hunger)

Spirit: 1.1

Agility: 1

Power: 1.2

Unassigned Points: None

Martial Arts skill: None

Secondary Professions: Weapon Forgery (Level 9), Planting (Level 9), Cooking (Level 9), Gardening (Level 9), Playing Piano (Level 9), Wine-making (Level 9), Summoning beasts (Level 9), Medical skill (Level 6)....

“What’s going on? Illusion?” Although Jiang Fei was helping the old man take his pulse, but his mind was completely lost and in distraught, let alone earnestly taking the patient’s pulse, he also hadn’t heard the patient talking about his symptoms.

Some of the ‘Knight-Line’ character status appeared in the scene, it was obvious that it was the same as the game that he was playing just a moment ago.

The reason that he thought that it was only some of his character status, was because although he was hacked, and hadn’t even spent a lot of his time and money in leveling up, but he had still played for several months now, so his level should have been more than 20. He also hasn’t learned the martial skills ‘The Dragon’s 18 palms’, ‘9 Cloudy Daoist Scripture’, ‘Northern Profound Magic’ and other advanced martial skills of his, but even the ‘Hua Shan Sword-Play’, ‘Shaolin Fighting Technique’ and other ordinary martial skills that was nevertheless perfected also wasn’t there.

The Secondary Profession skill, actually hadn't changed, which was more or less mastered at the 9th level.

As for his medical skill in the secondary professions, he seems to have always been at the sixth level.

Because in this game, medicine is simply useless, when players are injured they directly drink an elixir to restore their life, or specialized doctor to help heal them.

But genuine advanced medical skills, can help players heal a large amount of their life, and even bring back lives, it's rank was not any lower than 'The Dragon's 18 Palms' and others of these advanced martial arts skill, as well as their difficulty to learn the skill.

That's why the medical skill in the secondary profession, was relatively low. Even the person who hacked Jiang Fei didn't take fancy in this profession, after raising it to level 6, the person didn't continue to raise it anymore.

Jiang Fei shook his head, wanting to expel these illusions in his mind.

Jiang Fei was surprised with the result as the next scene took place.

Patient's symptoms: Nasal Congestion, Runny nose, Sore and itchy throat, and Mucopurulent Sputum. The patient with cold, after inhaling cold air or irritant gases, can exacerbate or induce cough. The patient during early morning or at night, would often cough more significantly.

And often cause nausea, vomit as well as chest pain, abdominal pain and muscle pain while coughing.

General Cause: Acute Bronchitis caused by cough!

Recommended Treatment: Acupuncture (Best), Traditional Chinese Medicine Treatment (Secondary).

Then, Jiang Fei was finally completely senseless. In his mind, there appeared an acupuncture needle method, as well as those Traditional Chinese Medicine recipe...

This time, after a series of 'supernatural' events, Jiang Fei began to suspect that this wasn't an illusion, but was indeed real!

Because he was a doctor, he was also quite insightful in regards to Chinese Medicine. In his own mind there appeared ways regarding the acupuncture techniques and important formulas.

This should indeed be an excellent method to treat bronchitis!

But, like the information that flowed in his mind, can he really help treat people with acupuncture in a skilled manner?

He had obviously never helped people cure any of their disease with acupuncture! But he felt that he had become a master of acupuncture, and that the techniques were very simple and easy to do!

Having mixed feelings, Jiang Fei placed his hand on the old man's pulse, without moving for a long time, his face was dull, with an endless anxiety.

He wanted to know if this was an illusion or that his character in 'Knight-Line' was really attached to his body, in fact, there's a simple way to find out, and it's to treat the patient with the acupuncture displayed in his mind.

Real or Fake, it can be discovered with a test!

Swallowing his saliva, after a great idea emerged in his mind, he temporarily restrained himself.

Verifying if it's real or fake, there's plenty of time to do that and don't need to rush to do so.

And he as a doctor who had no knowledge of acupuncture, rashly treating his patient, is irresponsible. If something went wrong, he'll be unable to eat for the rest of his life.

"Old man, you have a stuffy and runny nose, sore and hoarse throat...." He pulled back his finger from the patient's pulse, and said Jiang Fei as 11 symptoms came out in his mind.

"Yes! Doctor you're right!" The old man replied by nodding.

However, the old man was thinking in his heart: This young doctor is really strange, didn't I just tell you these symptoms of mine? What meaning do you have to repeat what I had just said? It seems to find a good doctor, you have to find someone a little older, a doctor with a little more experience with the job. These young people are still too young, and don't handle matters firmly....

Jiang Fei was almost certain now, his character was really attached to his body!

At the same time, he was also greatly confident with his ability in medicine.

"Old man, your current symptoms, should be acute bronchitis caused by cough. Don't worry, I'll give you a prescription medicine, this time it will be able to cure you."

Then, Jiang Fei began to copy the prescription in his mind into a paper, then shouted at the back: "Jasmine Lin, help get the prescribed medicine!"

Jasmine Lin was originally a nurse, so she wasn't baffled while she went to get the medicine.

"Old man you must pay attention to this point, during these days you can't smoke, if the surrounding air quality is bad, have smog and dust, have irritating gas, you must bring a mask, and avoid it as far as possible...."

"Ah, traditional Chinese Medicine?" The old man seems like he doesn't want it, said: "Does traditional Chinese Medicine work well?"

Now, this was the general view of people, most of them thought that Traditional Chinese medicine doesn't work, effect was also slow, when compared to the effectiveness of Western medicine.

At this time, Jiang Fei had a great deal of confidence with his 'own' prescription, where one is unable to make it any better, smiled and said: "Old man, rest assured, this time what I gave you is absolutely very effective. Go back and take to the two medicine. If it doesn't work, you come to me."

Jasmine Lin paid special attention to the two medicine, the old man helplessly sighed and said, "If it doesn't work, I really will come to get you Doctor!"

Taking the money, they sent the old man back.

Jiang Fei sat on a stool, looking up at the ceiling, and once again character status appeared in his head, couldn't bear to laugh foolishly: "Heaven really doesn't seal of all exits! God gave me such good things. So many master-level skills, and is making me an omnipotent person ah....."

"However, he gave me Secondary Profession skills, but why aren't there any martial arts skill? I have a martial arts dream, becoming like those heroes!"

"Also, how do I level up?"

At that time, a 'ding' sound suddenly came in his head, then words floated in front of him: Completed the treatment of patient with a below average difficulty, experience +2, exp 2/500

Medicine (Level 6): proficiency+1%

Jiang Fei stared, and felt like it was the same as the game he had played, using a secondary profession skill, it's possible to increase the skills experience by some amount.

"But, the upgrade speed is too slow!

Treating a patient with a bronchitis, only added 2 exp, will they then have to treat 250 patients just to level up once?

With his present business, he doesn't know how long he'll have to wait till he gets another patient.

Also, the level of his medicine is just six, and it was already very difficult to upgrade. Level six of medicine, wasn't the limit, which shows that as of right now he can only treat some diseases, while the other serious diseases, he believes he still can't cure.

"If I had known this, I would have leveled up the medical skill! When the time comes, I'll be able to successfully treat patients with incurable disease, and amaze the world with a single brilliant feat, wouldn't I be able to roll in more business then?"

Chapter 3-You're not allowed to call me Uncle!

Insatiable greed.

Jiang Fei was quite like a man who is never content just like a snake trying to swallow an elephant a person with insatiable greed, carefully looking at his character stats with joy.

Basic Properties:

Physical (0.9)

Spirit (1.1)

Agility (1)

Force (1.2)

This should represents the various basic aspects of individuals, 1 being the average stats of an ordinary person.

But now apart from having a hungry stomach, excluding his physical strength being on the low side, his spirit, agility, and force that all exceeds the ordinary person by a little bit, placed him to be in higher than the passing line.

After all Jiang Fei was a doctor, so he normally doesn't overwork his body. And yet even with his 1.8 meter height, his body in every aspect exceeded that of an ordinary person by a bit.

However, if Jiang Fei was able to level up, then it would become terrifying.

If Jiang Fei could remember it correctly, in the game 'knight-line', each time a character levels up, the individual will get two free attribute points that can be assigned anywhere.

That is, when Jiang Fei levels up from 0 to level 1, he'll be able to upgrade his force from 1.2 to 3.2, when the time comes his force would become 3.2 times that of an average adult!

It's certain that he can also add his attribute points to his three aspects agility, spirit and physical strength, or he could even add it separately.

After all, so long as he can raise himself to the first-level, he can significantly enhance his physical fitness while he improves one of his particular aspect or even two!

"If I continuously level up, how much do I need to raise my level, so that when the moment comes I can compete in the Olympic games, and obtain multiple gold medal? Even if I don't become a martial artist, I can still turn into the first generation of heroes!" Jiang Fei couldn't help but look forward to it in his heart.

Although leveling up is very difficult, after all, he has a lot of secondary skills, though forging weapons and summoning beasts were of no use.

However, most of his skills were useful!

For example, planting, he can develop land, crops and vegetables; cooking, he can cook his own meal every day; playing piano, he can play the flute....but sadly he doesn't know how to play piano.

As well as gardening and wine-making—

These were the things that Jiang Fei can use, which can also be used to raise his experience, so he solely doesn't need to rely upon treating patients with illness.

500 experience points, can he fill up his experience in 2-3 months?

"Right, every time a knight-line character levels, the system will send an upgrade package. And this package isn't fixed. If I'm lucky, can obtain a lost beast, can also obtain peerless abilities such as 'Subduing Dragons with 18 Palms', and 'Six-pulse Excalibur'; If luck is no good, I can get some ordinary item. After I level up, I can look forward to it. The chance of me not turning into my wish of becoming a hero doesn't exist!"

Jiang Fei remember seeing an article in a game forum post, a screenshot of someone, after leveling up to level 30, and opened the gift box, he finally obtained a rare skill book called 'Lone Solitary Nine Swords'!

Jasmine Lin held Jiang Fei's laptop, coming over in a depressed manner: "Your computer doesn't seem to be bad, it's booting up now."

At this time Jiang Fei didn't care about this laptop, and readily took it, glancing at her cherry pink moist lips, no matter what everyone wanted to have a nip of this Jasmine Lin, having a good laugh: "The laptop isn't broken so why aren't you happy? Do you really want to buy me a MacBook that bad? I know you're rich and that you have more cash than you need in your pocket. If you really have no place to spend your money on, you don't have to buy me a laptop, you can just directly give me 10000 dollars, I'll certainly take it."

Placing the laptop on the counter, Jiang Fei opened the 'knight-line' game, ready to look at his on-line game account that shouldn't have been changed.

As a result, when he entered his account number and password, preparing to log in, when suddenly it shown 'Account Number Error'!

Jiang Fei was surprised for a moment, checking his account number, he entered a new password, but it still showed 'Account Number Error'!

After trying three times, the result was the same.

Jiang Fei was stunned, after his body possessed his game character, was the character in-game deleted?

Although his in-game character was gone, Jiang Fei didn't care.

If he could play the game in real life, who would want to keep on holding on his laptop to play.

Jasmine Lin naturally didn't know what Jiang Fei was thinking, as she spoke with a sweet smile: "Money isn't an issue....But I have a better proposition."

"What proposal?" Jiang Fei asked without looking up.

Jasmine Lin's suddenly looked shy, cheeks slightly red. However she pretended as if nothing had happened, showing a bold and joking expression: Anyway, you have no business in this clinic, if you go on like this you'll only be increasing your loss. Later the young woman's clinic would grow, and that little bitch would be at peace. As for money, the clinic that she opened makes more money than you...."

Jiang Fei covered by his laptop, glanced at her.

Standing up, he packed up, taking off his white coat, said: "I still haven't fallen to the point that bitch made it so that I'm unable to get something to eat, right?"

"How can you say that you still haven't fallen? I heard that making that bitch yours is many men's ultimate dream? Moreover, that employer is an outstandingly beautiful woman...." Jasmine Lin followed behind Jiang Fei, and said.

"Sorry, I'm not like those men that who wants to pursue her." Jiang Fei's awe-inspiring righteousness, didn't last long as his face was filled with regret as he looked at Jasmine Lin and said: "Fuck, the master key, you came too late..."

Then Jiang Fei laughed, turned his head and continued to pack his things up.

Therefore, he didn't see Jasmine Lin's saddened face.

"You broke up with your girlfriend, right?" Jasmine Lin asked unwillingly.

"Temporarily broke up." Jiang Fei corrected.

Clapping, Jiang Fei took the key to the clinic door.

Although it was only 5:30, but he was already ready to close the shop. There was no business, because he was completely overtaken by that young woman, so closing it or not was the same.

Without thinking, he saw his physical strength attribute 0.9, and that he was at the hunger state, thinking of this he immediately felt hungry, telling to himself that he must first fill up his stomach!

"Where to go for dinner tonight? I'll treat you." Jasmine Lin soon discarded the matter, leaning close to Jiang Fei, and said with a smile.

"Not going anywhere tonight, I'll go buy the grocery, I'll cook it myself!" Jiang Fei's heroic road had begun.

He's cooking skill was now at level 9, which is at the master level, the meals that he make would perhaps be compared to master chefs who cooks in five-star hotels, Jiang Fei couldn't wait to give it a try.

Jasmine Lin wasn't happy and said, "Hey, you don't have to be like this. Your cooking skill still needs some work, but you're still cooking for somebody else? We're good friends, do you have to poison me to death?"

In fact, Jasmine Lin was a little exaggerated.

Although the food that Jiang Fei make isn't good, but it's also not hard to swallow....At least that's what Jiang Fei thinks so.

Feeling belittled, Jiang Fei was unhappy, starting the car he fiercely said: "Just wait, you'll regret what you just said!"

"I'm looking forward to it!"

However, in the end Jasmine Lin couldn't experience Jiang Fei's mysterious cooking. Because not after she went in the car, she received a call from a customer, saying that he wanted to look at the house, and then told the person that she'll be right there.

Although Jasmine Lin's monthly percentage deduction was very high, but the corresponding pay was even more.

No matter, even if she was off duty, when there's a customer need her, she would need to immediately hurry back.

"I really don't like this work!" The smile on Jasmine Lin a moment ago immediately disappeared after answering the phone call, she then sighed and said.

Looking at Jiang Fei who was at the driver's seat, she smiled: "What if I quit my job, and work at your clinic? Isn't the clinic across you successful just because the lady looks beautiful? Regarding this, I'm not any worse than her, right? Also, I'm younger than her, legs longer than her, when I wear black silk high-heel shoes, I'd definitely look better!"

When Jiang Fei suddenly heard Jasmine Lin's sudden proposal, his hand almost slipped, and snapped back at her: "You're average monthly wage is more than 20000, how can I afford you?"

"That's not important, with both of us together, we can earn more. When the time comes we can divide it equally." Jasmine Lin continued to say.

Her pair of beautiful eyes stared at Jiang Fei, long eyelashes blinked, evidently she was very excited.

" ... "

After sending Jasmine Lin back to her company, Jiang Fei drove to the market to buy the grocery, and finally went home.

As for Jasmine Lin's abrupt proposal, Jiang Fei naturally didn't comply.

His clinic was just for looks, customer were also limited. Even when he possessed his game character, raised his medical skill sharply, and have a full business, he would still only earn 10000 dollars.

Making Jasmine Lin give up an average of 20000 wage to come work here, this was just like cheating somebody...

The place that Jiang Fei lives in, only takes roughly 20 minutes to get there from his clinic. This was the house he rented when he was still working at the hospital, having two-bedroom, a kitchen, and a bathroom, it wasn't large, but living alone it was large enough for him.

Carrying the spareribs, pork, green pepper, tomato, and a bunch of ingredients, he went up to the sixth floor.

There was so much food, Jiang Fei was ready to make a meal, and reward himself with some food and drink, at the same time conveniently filling up his experience in the process.

"Uncle, you're back?"

Opening the door, he heard a female's voice from behind.

Jiang Fei was angry, turning around he saw a girl wearing a high school uniform, and a black skirt. The young girl was hugged her books in her arms, as he resentfully told her: "Xia Xiaozhi, I said don't call me uncle! I'm just a few years older than you, what uncle, Ah!

Some men like it when they're called uncle, but Jiang Fei didn't.

Jiang Fei was still young who had just graduated university three years ago, being called an uncle by such a beautiful high school girl, it was very uncomfortable.

"I know...Uncle!"

"...."

Chapter 4-Cooking!

The young girl's name was Xia Xiaozhi, the daughter of the neighbor downstairs.

Now 16 years old, and would be in her first year in high school next term.

Three months ago, Jiang Fei was unemployed for a while, and by chance, he had become her tutor in physics, math and chemistry, up until now. The two had met each other for three months now, so they're actually very familiar with each other.

However, this young girl was in her rebellious phase, somewhat detest studying, in regards to this Jiang Fei doesn't have a very good impression of her, as she always like to oppose him.

For example, Jiang Fei didn't like her calling him uncle, but she still chose to call him that.

Jiang Fei raise the corner of his mouth, after passing through the door, without closing it, he changed his shoes while he said: "Come in!"

Xia Xiaozhi didn't have a ponytail that most female student at her age likes, she thought that it was too old, and too plain....

Instead her hair looked like there's a mushroom sprouting on her head.

Dark hair combed straight, bangs just over her eyebrows that didn't affect her big eyes, the hair on the rear on either side was a little cruve, just enough to see her ear lobe.

This, couple with Xia Xiaozhi her school uniform made her look like a beautiful Lolita.

Unfortunately, the lolita's look was quite not right, temperament was also not right. Although she was holding the books by supporting it with her bosom, she would still shake as she walks, resembling a delinquent of society.

She had very big attractive eyes, always brimming with a feel of unruliness. Contrary to what one might expect, her style of dress was not mainstream, just like the appearance of a small tomboy.

"Uncle, why did you buy these many food today, don't tell me you want to personally cook it yourself? Is there something you can't get over, ah, don't poison yourself! Although I'm a bit uncomfortable with you, but I don't want you to die....because if you die, my mother would definitely look for another tutor for me, when the time comes it would be more painful for me!" Xia Xiaozhi had also changed her shoes, walking between Jiang Fei and the refrigerator, with something in her mind, she cast a glance at him, persuading him with her 'good intension'.

She has been together with Jiang Fei for three months, Xia Xiaozhi was also clear of Jiang Fei's cooking, and knew that in Jiang Fei's refrigerator, in the past there were only drinks and beer inside, never were there any food inside it.

"Do your homework! Yesterday, I gave you a few problems that I told you to finish! Jiang Fei said ill-humoredly.

These woman, what's with their behavior!

His present mood can only be described with a few words: Right now you refuse to acknowledge me, but in a while I'll you yield and make you think that you're not higher than me.

"Certainly not finished!" Xia Xiaozhi confidently replied.

At will she threw the books at the nearby sofa, while at it she intended to take out a canned beer from the refrigerator, but in the end Jiang Fei, all of a sudden heavily slapped her hand, to say: "kid, you lack the capacity to drink, don't pretend that you're an expert in drinking beer!"

"Who said that my alcohol capacity is bad!" The arm that got hit was a little painful, Xia Xaiozhi also hit back Jiang Fei, Jiang Fei who came over to give her green tea was seething in rage, only to be pushed next to the sofa.

"You haven't don't your homework yet, quickly do it. I'll prepare food now, if before I prepare the food, I find that you haven't done it yet, don't blame me for calling your mom. You know that I don't want to do such a thing." After Jiang Fei lightly flung threatening words, he no longer cared about the little girl, walking into the kitchen and began to get busy.

Although Xia Xiaozhi was in her rebellious phase, she still very much feared her mom. Otherwise she wouldn't have obediently come to Jiang Fei's lessons every day during dinner.

When Jiang Fei threatens her with her mother each time, she could only quietly do the task given to her.

Jiang Fei charged her mother 800 each month to reschedule a class, even though he values their friendship, but it was still important for him to fulfill his duty as her tutor.

Just as he did as a doctor, a doctor needs to see his patients to prescribe their medication, and doesn't just deliberately say that they have a severe illness, and wouldn't just conveniently give his patient any kind of medicine, but to give the patient the right medicine that he needs.

Jiang Fei, in some ways is a man of principle. Sometimes in this turbid world, one can't avoid being contaminated. Nevertheless, he still only earns money by doing the right thing.

Entering the kitchen.

Before Jiang Fei's cooking was very bad, but after he got his skills he became a grandmaster, he was indeed completely different. No matter if it was cutting the vegetables, using the pots and pans, he was incomparably skilled, looking like a master chef who had practice for dozens of years.

The potato's skin was almost like a thread, and before he took half a day just to kill a fish, now he just needed one minute to completely clean the fish.

Sweet and sour spareribs, gong bao chicken, west lake vinegar fish, mapo bean curd, red-roasted pork and julienned potatoes....

In a while, whether it was a difficult or easy dish to make, or a different cuisine, Jiang Fei handled it with ease. Moreover, the color, smell and tastes filled the kitchen, even in the living room, one can smell the sweet fragrance making anyone's appetite to greatly grow.

Xia Xiaozhi who didn't spare a glance at Jiang Fei a moment ago, didn't know when she had followed the fragrance, entering the kitchen like a glutton, she looked at the delicious delicacies that were made.

Pow!

Jiang Fei who was cutting suddenly slapped her hand, hitting Xia Xiaozhi who really wanted to steal the food on the table.

"Did you finish your homework? Wash your hands? Didn't somebody say a moment ago to be careful or they might be poisoned to death?" There was a happy expression on Jiang Fei's face, as he made a stir-fried dish and said.

Xia Xiaozhi angrily stamped her foot, struggling to take away her line of sight from the dish, saying stubbornly: "Homework done! Ah, what pretentiousness, only making the dish look good and nothing more, perhaps there isn't even anything great about its taste."

Jiang Fei wasn't psychologically hit, he then let out a chuckle: "The taste isn't that good. That's why kid, you just watch me eat, I don't want to inconvenience you to taste it!"

Somehow, all the dishes were finally made.

Jiang Fei carried the dishes to the dinner table, but this time Xia Xiaozhi actually tagalong with Jiang Fei back and forth, continuously staring at the food he had cooked, her eyeball seems like it would fall any moment, as she repeatedly swallowed her saliva.

No one could blame Xia Xiaozhi's lack of prospects, as the food that Jiang Fei had made was too appetizing, even the so-called celebrity chef couldn't do such a thing.

After letting her look, her sense of hunger enormously grew, and looked like she hadn't eaten for half a month.

"Uncle....Today, I didn't eat much, so I'm now hunger, I'll eat a little, okay?" Xia Xiaozhi hugged Jiang Fei's arm, and started acting like a spoiled brat.

Jiang Fei had a smile on his face, an indifferent smile.

Jiang Fei got himself a bowl of rice, and seemed like he didn't plan to let Xia Xiaozhi eat, so she finally couldn't hold it in and was furious. Not allowing her take control, Jiang Fei didn't give her anything, but she herself took a bowl, then taking chopsticks, she impatiently sat beside Jiang Fei.

"Hisss~~~~~is hot!" Xia Xiaozhi opened her mouth while steam came out.

"~~~~~Too delicious! This gong bao chicken is a dozen times more delicious compared to the one that mother makes!" Xia Xiaozhi was full of praise, and had completely forgotten that she had ridiculed Jiang Fei a moment ago, her face was beaming and cheerful, both her eyes shining bright.

This time her reserved 'gang leader' look disappeared, exposing a kind of blooming young lady, and it goes without saying that it was cute.

At the same as they were eating, this little girl hadn't looked Jiang Fei, but from time to time she would lean her body, raising her thumb up in praise: "Uncle, you shouldn't reveal the secrets that you're deeply concealing! This level, is practically that of the God of kitchen! Delicious....really delicious!"

Feeling Xia Xiaozhi's not so small chest, as well as when she would try to do something to make up for her missed classes, he would see a beautiful light in the deep gorge, this 16 or 17-year-old girl, who apparently wasn't merely just adorable....

"Too evil! If this girl's mother knew of my thoughts, she wouldn't just kill me but...." Jiang Fei shook his head quickly dispelling the idea.

"Now we know it's delicious? At first you say what was it?" Jiang Fei said in a teasing way. This girl is very interesting, 16-year-old, but mindless.

Xia Xiaozhi rolled her eyes, her mouth kept on moving, and just didn't know what to say: "What did I say? Why don't I remember it clearly?"

"You say my food is toxic, and is inedible, but also tried to persuade me not to eat it. You are now doing what?" Jiang Fei smiled.

"I told you not to eat, but I didn't say I won't. I was afraid that the dish might be poisonous, so I'm helping uncle try if it's poisonous!" Xia Xiaozhi couldn't be reasoned with, as she quibbled to say.

Jiang Fei couldn't help but laugh, raising his hand he gently knocked on her mushroom head: "Kid, didn't know you speak this unreasonably!"

"go talk with my mom...." Xia Xiaozhi felt prideful when she should have felt ashamed. This little girl really did get her unreasonableness from a certain mother, otherwise she wouldn't have just easily given Jiang Fei several hundred dollars every month, and would have gotten her a private tutor.

But now private tutors are extremely expensive, otherwise where can someone find a cheap place like this.

Before long, the several dishes on the dinner table, there were only left overs left. Although Xia Xiaozhi roared fiercely in the beginning, but she only ate a little, as her stomach couldn't continue supporting her, most of the dishes went into Jiang Fei's stomach.

Xia Xiazhi finished eating her meal, she didn't want to move and continued to sit on the chair, her eyes revealed that she was completely satisfied, said: "Too delicious, I'm so satisfied! I've never eaten such delicious food!" She looked at Jiang Fei, begging: "Uncle, later I'll come eat a meal here in the evening, okay?"

"Why?" Jiang Fei remained unmoved. However, he sighed at heart "It seems like these secondary skills are also really very useful."

He had already been together with this girl Xia Xiaozhi for three months, and during this time she rarely resign herself to him, now after one meal, she immediately yielded.

"Because the dishes you make are so delicious!" Xia Xiaozhi stupidly said as if it was natural.

Jiang Fei was deeply speechless.

But in fact, he felt very good when someone accompanied him as he ate, talking and laughing, it at least felt better than when he was eating all by himself. Moreover, Xia Xiaozhi was a little girl, even if she ate, how much can she only eat?

However Jiang Fei immediately didn't reply, smiled, and said: "In the future, if I cook at home, you can eat. But....I have a condition!"

"Conditions?" Hearing these word, Xia Xiaozhi held her chest with both of her hands, with a widened eye she looked at Jiang Fei pitifully, and in a low voice said: "Uncle....you're not.....I'm a child! While uncle's very handsome, tall and meets my standards. But...I'm not an adult. If you do that to me, it would be against the law..."

Pow!

Jiang Fie fiercely knocked on her head, furiously said: "Little girl what are you thinking! My conditions are that you don't call me uncle, make up for the classes you've missed, as well as listening to me."

Xia Xiaozhi rubbed her head, with lingering fear she patted her chest with her other hand, and then said with lingering fear: "Turns out to be like this. Uncle, you scared me!"

"You gave me a fright!" Jiang Fei ill-humoredly said.

He hadn't noted it completely, but Xia Xiaozhi still continued to call him uncle.

Her habit, has already become natural.

Being called uncle, seems like it wouldn't change in such a short time.

Chapter 5: Quick Way To Earn Exp

After dinner, and tutoring Xia Xiaozhi for an hour, Xia Xiaozhi somewhat rebelliously packed up and left.

Jiang Fei who was idle sighed. Actually, now he can make such delicious delicacies, but also has to treat Xia Xiaozhi well.

He initially planned to play 'Knight-Line' and recharge his account with silver yuan, but he didn't have enough time to buy equipment and level up his character, it was all used up to level up with the use of his secondary profession, as a result he was disturb who was caused by Xia Xiaozhi.

Jiang Fei was also mad at that time, as he almost drowned from the argument he had with the rebellious girl about food. Now, it seems that, if it wasn't Xia Xiaozhi, he would definitely spend money in other aspects. At the time he possessed his game character, if he didn't have his powerful secondary profession, at the same time have his character at level zero, then it wouldn't have any use to him....

"Thank you, student Xia Xiaozhi!" Jiang cheerfully expressed his gratitude at heart.

Tidying up the kitchen, and after taking a bath, he lied on the bed. Jiang Fei displayed his character stats in his mind, looking at what effect of him cooking did.

Character: Jiang Fei

Level: 0

Experience: 5/500

Physical: 1

Spirit: 1.1

Agility: 1

Force: 1.2

Unassigned Points: 0

Martial Art Skills: None

Secondary Profession: Weapon Forging (Level 9), Planting (Level 9), Cooking (Level 9), Gardening (Level 9), Playing Piano (Level 9), Wine-making (Level 9), Summoning beasts (Level 9), Medical skill (Level 6+ 1%)

Most of it didn't change, the only change being his Physical Strength stat and experience.

Recovering from his mild hunger condition, his Physical Strength value from 0.9 recovered to 1. But it wasn't because he ate too much, if it was it would have become 1.1, but because at present the max of his physical strength was 1, even if he were to eat until he was full, it still wouldn't have increase its maximum value.

His experience became 5 excluding the 2 exp he got at his clinic, it rose by 3 exp. He made six dishes tonight, in average, each dish raised his experience by 0.5.

Jiang Fei frowned.

"Not Good! I want to level up, and open up the level up gift box, but also learn a legendary martial art skill! God is so good to me, bestowing 'Knight-Line' system to me alone, but if this doesn't allow me to become a first generation hero, then it would simply be too useless!"

It seems like relying on the secondary skill cooking, to earn large amounts of experience points, was simply too unrealistic. Even if I eat three time a day, preparing food for myself, but can only eat so little. A day later, the experience gained wouldn't even exceed 10 points.

Preparing food that I won't even eat, and just to throw it away? If it's this, the money inside Jiang Fei's bank, was not enough so that he could spend money freely.

As for taking a job as a cook in restaurant? This was too demeaning.

Him cooking at home was good, but if he really had to become a professional chef, it may be impossible for Jiang Fei. He might as well wait for a long time and treat a patient to gain experience points.

“Preparing food only gives me a small amount of exp, I suppose playing piano would also not level me up quickly. The finger removing calluses does not necessarily increase the amount. It seems like the best way to gain exp, is to plant vegetables, and plant fruit trees in this area. So long as a piece of land can be used, even if planting only gives a single exp, I can just do more! Disposing several hundreds, thousands of plants, how would my exp not rise?”

“Moreover, with my planting skill at the master level, the vegetable and fruits that I grow, would be good to some extent. When the time comes, I can sell it at a high-end market, and would probably be a continuous source of funds.”

“Not only can I raise my exp, but I can also make money, this is a kingly way!”

Jiang Fei wanted to say cheerfully.

Although he owns a few of property, but he still wasn't a nouveau riche and was also not short on money.

He rented a house to live in, and haven't purchased a home. Now, the price of house in society, is far too high, wanting to buy a nice house in this city, was like the cost of fixing roads, he just didn't have a few hundred thousand of money, it simply couldn't be done.

If he hadn't left the hospital as an ophthalmologist, with his earning, this wouldn't have been difficult, and in just 3-5 years he would be able to fully pay it. Now he started his own clinic, but the situation wasn't too good, it was already good if he wasn't losing money, so he needed to think of a method to earn money.

He couldn't just be idle and eat.

But there was a problem, if he decided to do the planting plan, he would have to leave the city, and go to a village to be able to fully use his ability and later learn martial arts.

Nowadays, lands are extremely expensive, moreover, they're reinforced with concrete in the city, so where can he grow fruits and vegetables.

"Leaving the city to go to a rural area to farm, on the contrary I don't have mental disorder. But if my family know, wouldn't I be hacked into pieces?"

Thinking of this, Jiang Fei was somewhat hesitant.

At the moment, the news about him being fired from the hospital he worked at, he hasn't even dare tell his parents. If he came out now, once his exposed in the future, it would become a bad end. Moreover, he had just opened a clinic, and had spent almost 200,000, so he can't just close down.

As a child Jiang Fei felt that in his lifetime, it was impossible for him not to become a doctor.

He didn't think about how much money a doctor can make in this industry, but about having a high social status.

First, Jiang Fei as a child was raised to become a doctor, after which he was taught the medical profession, so he became interested in this occupation, he rather liked the feeling of saving the sick and wounded; Second, his parents and grandparents had huge expectations towards him, and had wanted him to become a doctor.

Currently his character stats, have a medical skill in his secondary profession, although it only had six levels, Jiang Fei didn't want to abandon it, but instead make good use of it.

"Forget it, I still have to find time first, then have a stroll close to the suburbs, to select a place to plant on, later I'll these over again. Also, even if I have to plant massively, I don't have to give up my occupation as a doctor. Later, my medical skill will definitely become more and more fierce, that it would be impossible for me to stay in such a small clinic. After my reputation becomes a hit, I'll be able to go to any huge hospital and becoming a professor, is also a breeze. When it's all right to leave, I can go to the suburb, and build my own resort. Planting is my second career!"

Jiang Fei had decided at heart. He decided to stabilize his medical profession; while slowly becoming a farmer as a side occupation.

Focusing on being a doctor, planting as a supplement.

In this way, him, his family, will get a higher social position and earn more money, all aspects have been taken into consideration.

Furthermore, after being fired in the hospital he worked at three months ago, although Jiang Fei on the surface didn't say anything, and had no action. But at heart, he had actually been suppressing his vexed vigor. He clearly remembered, that bastard, hospital director's son who got him dismissed, and his overbearing arrogance without restraint, coupled with his disdainful look.

If he doesn't vent this out, it would be like a fishbone stuck in his throat, making his heart uncomfortable.

If he did something wrong, he would receive punishment without demur, as one ought to, and acknowledge the huge punishment. In the slightly unfair competition, he had lost.

Then, just as he opened his clinic, he was defeated by the opposite sex, a stylish young married woman, both time he had complained, but had never fuss about revenge.

However, the matter of him saving Jasmine Lin was clearly something good that he had done, but being treated badly like this, he wasn't willing to.

Even if he was a person who did good but doesn't receive anything in return, still where was the divine retribution to the people doing evil?

Before his medical skill was ordinary, relying on his parent's huge relation to enter the hospital, sending a lot of red envelopes to get in. He couldn't do anything to the director's son, but receive insults swallowing it in humiliation.

Now the situation was different.

So long as his medical skill is strong enough, getting back up wasn't difficult.

The next day.

Jiang Fei as usual came to his clinic.

All morning, his business was very bleak, having only one patient who had a cold and a fever, coming here to see a doctor.

Moreover, because the patient was a middle-aged aunt, she could disregard the charm of the stylish young female doctor, in addition to many people lining up in front of the building, which resulted in her coming here a moment ago.

In fact, seeing the doctor and then eating at a restaurant was another reason why she came here.

The better off the business, the more patients would come to their clinic, everyone would even be willing to go and line up even if it was at a peaceful and remote place. Because this explained that the clinic's reputation was good, which meant that they had excellent doctors, which is the reason why many patients would come see a doctor here.

If the clinic doesn't even have a single person's shadow, it naturally explained that the doctor there had poor technique, who couldn't cure their sickness, so nobody were willing to go there.

Therefore, the final result, was that the good business would get better, while the bad business would become even worse.

This was a vicious cycle.

As it is now, except for a few patients who didn't want to line up would go to Jiang Fei. But even for some female patients that was immune to the young female doctor's charm, they still wouldn't choose to go to Jiang Fei's clinic, but instead willing to go to the young female doctor's clinic even with such a long line.

The reason wasn't because of him, but only because they thought that the female doctor was wiser in medicine and was more likely to cure their sickness.

Looking at this situation, Jiang Fei looked up, sighed. This is really: heaven's bestowing me an ability that's certainly useful, unfortunately I'm not a beauty!

He now possessed the bug, his game character, but he actually couldn't find a patient to use it on, it's really somewhat sorrowful.

Since there was no business, at noon Jiang Fei didn't have to call for takeout, but simply closed the door to the clinic, and went home to make himself something delicious, rewarding himself some good food and drinks.

As he was now a master cook, after eating his dish, and then trying the restaurant food, he felt that it was a bit flavorless!

Eating to sate his appetite, while conveniently gaining experience.

In the afternoon, Jiang Fei simply didn't go to the clinic, but drove to the suburbs to inspect!

He prepared to have a look, to choose one a suitable place for him to plant, and rent it.

The so-called 'appropriate' condition must have two points.

First, the price must be cheap. Otherwise renting a few dozen acres of land, not knowing how much money he had spent, he's not a local tyrant. Second, the scenery around the land has to be beautiful, it's best to have mountains of water. He was ready to fight, in order to make his future resort, if birds don't defecate, what fun is that?

Chapter 6-The Female Rival in Trouble (Part 1)

The next few days, Jiang Fei in succession, went to more than 10 villages, inspecting the place. It was just three ring roads away outside which wasn't a distant place; but at the same time a far place to distance oneself from something, nearly a hundred kilometers away from the bright city walls, which already includes other cities that was within the scope of his plan.

But even so, Jiang Fei had still not found a place that he desired.

Jiang Fei had always cared about pursuing material benefits, even if there were only 5 dollars in his pocket, he would still only eat cookies that he had acquired, and after a period of time he would also be able to become a business proprietor. As far as himself is concerned, later on he would save money, so that he could live in a place away from the place his in, he would certainly not improvise with what he desires, and would rather have nothing than accept a trashy alternative.

"Keep looking! In this spirit of place there's bound to be plenty of land, I don't believe that I won't find a village with exquisite scenery!"

The next day, Jiang Fei was ready to close his clinic, starting his car, he drove around looking for his place.

He had just taken off his white coat, but didn't have enough time to pack his stuff up, as the clinic across his, actually had an accident, arousing his curiosity.

“This mediocre doctor had harmed someone!”

“You must give us a statement. Otherwise today, we’ll smash this pharmacy!”

“My mother always had a healthy body! But after taking the medicine prescribed by this mediocre doctor, she had become like this.

Seeing five or six men, carrying an unconscious lady on a stretcher, they stormed into the female doctor’s office, rampaging, shoving the people lining up to see the doctor away.

Several man shouted nonstop, as the nearby female relatives showed a sorrowful expression, crying, making the matter bigger.

“Medical accident?” Jiang Fei surprised for a moment, without closing his clinic, watched the fun across the street. As far as his rival is concerned, he didn’t use any tricks to deal with them, but had gotten themselves into trouble, with regards to this he was naturally delighted.

Jiang Fei doesn’t have an evil mind, but he was also not magnanimous enough for him to worry about his competitor. Moreover, this competitor was very ‘vicious’, almost forcing him to close down.

And now this female doctor had a medical accident in her clinic, for him, this was equivalent to an opportunity. Maybe he can take advantage of this opportunity, which would allow his business to become prosperous once more, and not like the things are right now.

Bang!

A middle-aged woman hit the counter, pointing her finger as she glared at the female doctor, shouting: "Come Out! You come out here and face me!"

Nearby, several guys placing the unconscious old lady on the stretched on the ground, and with strong momentum walked over: "Quickly come out. If you don't come out, we might destroy the place!"

In the clinic, there was a counter with a tempered glass where all kinds of medicines are placed in. The counter divided the clinic into two, the patient being outside the counter, while the doctor sat inside the counter as the person sees the patient.

Therefore at this time, the female doctor sat inside, if she didn't come out, the person causing her trouble wouldn't be able to catch her.

As for normal days, the female doctor had a very good relationship with her customers, naturally nobody dared to mind the other people's business, but encircled them at the side, talking about and looking at the development.

This was a medical accident, the old lady on the stretched evidently hasn't died, but her life wouldn't last long.

If the female doctor had really caused this, she'd be in big trouble.

The female doctor understood this, that's why her usual bright and careful appearance, after seeing the furious family members, her eyes inevitably revealed that she was panicking, her complexion became pale.

However, it was obvious that it was impossible to avoid the matter and hide like this, so she had to settle things.

The female doctor by the name of Su Nan, was called by everyone as Dr. Su. She had a long straight and luxurious black hair, taking a few breaths, she calmed down her emotions, standing up, she said: "Don't worry, let me see what's the matter."

Su nan opened the counter lock, having just come out, a strong and healthy middle-aged man fiercely pulled her arm, dragging her in front of the unconscious old lady, saying: "How is it? You have to take a look! My mother said the for the past few days her heart had become uncomfortable, having no appetite to eat, we went to see a doctor here, getting a prescription from you yesterday. But after taking the medicine last night, she hadn't gotten up since this morning! We've dialed 120, sending her to the City People's Hospital, finally the doctor in the hospital didn't receive us, and told us to go home and make arrangements for the funeral!"

Saying this, the middle-aged man's eyes became somewhat red, grabbing Sunan's arm, he waved his other hand, facing the crowd and asked: "You say, should we ask this mediocre doctor for an explanation?!"

The mass who heard the story, suddenly pointed, saying.

"The doctor caused someone's death?"

“This indeed needs an explanation.”

“Mother died like this, this matter I just can’t put aside, I won’t be at ease without knowing who’s at hand.”

Hearing this, Su Nan’s complexion immediately became white.

Even the City People’s Hospital weren’t willing to shelter, and rescue the patient, this meant that the patient was terminally ill, and without a doubt die.

Any doctor in this kind of situation, would find it hard to stay composed.

Her head tilt, kneading her arm that was sore which was fiercely pulled by middle-aged man, she said somewhat tremblingly: “When did this old lady come here to see a doctor, how come I don’t remember!”

At this time, a middle-aged woman walked towards her, shouting: “Good! You also want to deny, you mediocre doctor! This person smells bad, having no sense of shame, you shameless wench!”

Jiang Fei listened happily, this big sister truly wasn’t refined, repeatedly scolding the mediocre doctor, how did it involve her being a wench.

However, at this time his heart was both gloomy and delighted, he was tired of his competitor’s clinic troubling him every time. Granted that his skills ultimately improve, later on his business would also possibly be hugely affected.

But he was wondering, he heard that Su nan's skill in medicine was quite passable, treating a minor illness like a cold tremendously compared to him, how did she suddenly mistreat a patient?

Did this old lady have a disease that Su nan didn't know, prescribing an inedible medicine to her?

The big sister who at this time cursed at her, pulled out a small white plastic bag from her pocket, which was the bag commonly used to prescribe a medicine by a doctor at a small clinic, "Open your eyes, have a closer look, is this medicine from you? Did you write this note?"

With that, the big sister went to work, pulling Su nan's long hair, keeping her hand on the female doctor's head, very shrewdly.

Usually, if the beautiful woman was treated like this, the men here would have already 'defended against injustice' like a hero rescuing a beauty. But today the situation was different, who would dare cross this turbid wave.

Moreover, not only did she not give anyone an opportunity to help, instead she continued hitting the female doctor while she was still down, saying: "I already said that this woman wasn't a good doctor. A doctor that grows into this, all day long dressing up in a beautiful attire, how can her medical skill be good? Look, now she mistreated someone and cause the person to die!"

"Before you said that the patient was sick, the patient isn't dead yet, so why did you run to this clinic that's 500 meters away?"

“Who ran towards here all day? I might sue you for slander!”

“ ... ”

Su nan felt her scalp ripped off, as her head was shaken by the middle-aged woman, it was painful, she was almost in tears.

However, she held it back. She couldn't cry at this time, crying would only make the matter worse, even if she cried nobody would sympathize with her, and it also wouldn't quell the patient's family's anger.

Su nan with both of her hand held the middle-aged woman's hand that was on her head, with difficulty said: “Show me the medicine. The medicine I give absolutely wouldn't be able to kill someone, all of it are just generally ordinarily common medicine!”

Su nan had now affirmed that this old lady had indeed come to her clinic to see a doctor, but she didn't believe that the medicine was absolutely that she prescribed, that killed the patient!

“Give you the medicine? Do you think I'm stupide! If you swallow all these medicine into your stomach, destroying the medicine, what do I do then?” The middle-aged woman's hand loosened off of Su nan's head, pointing at her, she scolded.

The middle-aged man's hand didn't let go, ruthlessly dragging her, he said, “Enough talking about nonsense, my mother has been unconscious since this morning, you have to save my mom right now, or else we won't forgive you!”

Wearing a black threaded high heels, Su nan was pulled, breaking her balance, she suddenly tumbled on the ground.

The city hospital didn't dare give shelter to the patient, which meant that the patient was beyond help, so how exactly could she save her?

At this time, a weeping sound from a little girl came from inside the counter. Wearing a powdered make up, a 5 to 6 years old child came out crying loudly: “Mom.....Mom....”

This little girl was was Su nan's child.

Su nan wanted to cry, still holding it back, she stood up and patted her daughter's head, her complexion still looked pale, but unyieldingly looked at the middle-aged couple, and angrily replied, “Fine, I don't want the medicine. However, we can take a medicine test, and see if there are issues with the patient, and whether or not the patient can still be treated! If the responsibility is really on me, and that my medicine led her to become like this, I'll be at your disposal!”

The middle-aged couple looked at each other, revealing a unusual facial expression that wasn't easy to detect, and in a flash they recovered.

It was as if they were somewhat flustered.

However, it quickly vanished.

The middle-aged woman sneered, saying: "Stop talking nonsense! We don't have a lot of time to accompany you and your interludes. We don't understand anything about medicine, when the time comes and you casually deceive us, how would we know? Anyway, the truth has now been placed in front of your eyes, you must take responsibility!"

The middle-aged man viciously walked around, without paying attention to the weeping little girl, said: "Either cure my mother, or compensation!"

"Compensation?" Hearing these words, Jiang Fei who was standing inside the crowd of onlookers, found a little clue.

This old lady was unconscious and dying.

But it seems that it isn't due to medical mistreatment.....

Su nan's mood became completely haywire, so she actually didn't pay attention to this, in addition to taking care of her daughter who was crying harder and harder, but hearing the relentless middle-aged couple, she immediately asked: "Compensation? What compensation?"

Hearing this the middle-aged woman was happy at heart, but pretend to be very sad, as she angrily replied: "If you can't save my mother, we want 200000 as compensation!"

Chapter 7-The Female Rival in Trouble (Part 2)

"200000?!" Su Nan's voice cried out in alarm.

The middle-aged woman wickedly said: "What, still too much? You caused her to become like this, unable to rouse my mother-in-law, did you expect that I won't charge you a penny!"

Su Nan for a moment was empty-headed, and was unable to respond.

This middle-aged couple, decided to blackmail her from the very beginning, demanding compensation!

Su Nan recognized that even if they asked for less money, the prestige of Su Nan's clinic would still be in trouble. But this couple were actually like lions opening their mouth wide, wanting 200000, this is simply stealing money!

Although her clinic was hot in business, and after opening she didn't need to worry about food or clothing, as she was making lots of money. However, she had just opened for business for less than a month, so where can she get this much money?

Su Nan's face was pale, embracing her daughter, she furiously replied back: "200,000, I don't have!"

Hearing that she didn't have money, the middle-aged woman didn't care.

And Holding out her hand 'Pow', she slapped Su Nan's face, furiously saying: "Wench, still want to bargain with me! 200,000, and not a penny less!"

Being publicly slapped with so many people around, Su Nan no matter how stubborn she was, couldn't bear it anymore. Her eyes turned red, as tears immediately flooded, covering her face she said: "I don't have money really! Even if you hit me, I don't have money!"

"Don't hit my mother, don't hit my mother..." The weeping sound of a little girl was also pitiful.

The middle-aged woman's thick eyebrow distorted, considering this, she said: "You don't have money right now, then write an IOU slip! and pay it back in the future."

Su Nan wasn't willing to obey, and said: "I will not write one. Nevertheless, I still say that we go to the hospital and see if what you've said is true. If it is as you've said, the 200000, I'll try giving it to you. But if the responsibility is not on me, I will not give you anything!"

The middle-aged woman was completely angry, and reaching out, she grabbed Su Nan, and yelled at her: "You fox! You've already killed a person with the medicine you've given, but still don't acknowledge your fault. If you still don't admit your fault this year, then don't expect you can even take half a step away from your clinic. I will give you and this clinic a beating!"

The middle-aged woman issued an order, and then several guys with her had also swore at her, they then pounded at a few table, and had also pounded at a few stools.

Su Nan hurriedly bend down to her waist, protecting her daughter with her body, not allowing these people injure her the slightest, and as she was sobbing, she said loudly: "If you continue to do this, I'll call the police!"

"The police? I'd like to see how you'll call them! Even if the police were to come, you, the murderer would be the one running away!" The middle-aged woman slapped Su Nan, swearing at her. The room was mixed with the mother and daughter's tears, making the scene very chaotic.

There were people that had surrounded them at the side, but no one had actually stepped in to stop it!

Seeing that thing have gotten to this points, the crowd sitting at the side weren't fools, they could certainly see that something was wrong, but they still refused to help, as they refused to get themselves into trouble.

This was now a common belief in the community. As long as it was other people's business, they won't concern themselves to the other party as they don't want to invite themselves trouble.

At the beginning, when Jiang Fei had found that his competitor was in trouble, he was very cheerful and happy, thinking that recently his luck has been too good.

But seeing that the matter had slowly developed into this, especially when he saw the little girl ran out to her mother crying, he frowned, and felt somewhat uncomfortable in his heart.

Even if Su Nan was his competitor, but she was after all woman, as well as having a child, and was taking care of the child by herself, while she herself had a weak and fragile body.

Jiang Fei thought at the beginning, that after this matter, this attractive young married woman, would no longer capture his business, but now..... he thought that it seemed to be a bit too much!

A widow and a child, being bullied by a group of people like that, what kind of man would he be if he possibly ignored it?

A group of people looking for trouble, smashing things, and a comatose old lady on the stretcher, and at the other side the young woman was the only person defending herself.

“This woman really is stubborn, and would rather die than surrender! However, she can also be considered to be really stupid. Doesn't she know how to be accommodating, temporarily comply and coax this group of people, and then later call the police?”

Jiang Fei muttered.

Seeing what had happened today, he who had always thought that this young married woman who had always put on a white coat, high heels as well as black legging, had actually thought that she was a prostitute, but now he saw her in a different light.

He sighed, then went towards the comatose old lady's side, squatting down to see his body, and then with his right hand, he checked the old person's pulse.

"What are you doing?!" A young woman asked discretely, shoving Jiang Fei away.

Jiang Fei smiled, said: "I am the doctor at the opposite side of your clinic, I just want to take a look at this old person's pulse, and see what kind of sickness he has."

Hearing this, the young woman sneered in disdain, and said: "Oh, so you're the guy who was going out of business, the doctor who's about to close down! My great aunt, even the hospital's doctors couldn't do anything, so what can you do!"

But the young woman actually didn't stop Jiang Fei from taking the old person's pulse.

Jiang Fei smiled

And at this moment, with his finger, he caught sight of the old lady's pulse, afterwards a picture had all of a sudden appeared in his mind.

Patient's Condition: Hypertensive intracerebral hemorrhages. In Traditional Chinese Medicine it's called a stroke.

Suggested Method of Treatment: Acupuncture:

- The Six levels of acupuncture

- v Can detain the patient's life temporarily

- v Awakens the patient (But patient's health isn't completely restored)

- v The lower part of the patient's body is paralyzed

v Unable to move

v Cognition barrier

v Speech disorder

“It really isn’t a medical malpractice!” Jiang Fei was able to guess how the whole thing had happened.

A stroke, Jiang Fei, as a doctor, naturally knew very well.

To suddenly have a hypertensive intracerebral hemorrhages, was naturally impossible to happen just by taking Su Nan’s medicine.

Certainly the old lady was a patient with a high blood pressure, although her recent mood wasn’t very good, and she was also somewhat a bit too excited, but she had only slept for a night, for her condition to suddenly worsen. And then in the morning, her family immediately discovered that she was in a coma, who was at death’s door.

But this middle-aged couple, since they had gone to the hospital for a check-up, they definitely knew what condition their mother was in. So when Su Nan had proposed to go the legal way, they were anxious, so they started causing trouble instead.

From the very beginning, they just wanted to take advantage of their mother’s death, and blackmail Su Nan to extort money from her, so they had refused to take the legal route.

“200000, their appetite isn’t small.” Jiang Fei whispered.

To be honest, standing as her competitor, Jiang Fei didn't want to get himself involved in this matter.

But seeing that the crowd at the side, he saw that they were only watching the mother and daughter get awfully bullied, and didn't plan to help and just planned to watch the fun. What's more, wasn't this person who had the same profession as him, his 'own personal enemy'?

If Su Nan was to close down because of this middle-aged couple, he would have no more competitors, and he would become the biggest winner.

Unfortunately, just like in the hospital three months ago, when he had saved Jasmine Lin, although his mind was telling him not to get involved, but he lost into his emotion and had instead gotten himself involved with her.

"Stop, stop..."

As of right now, Jiang Fei still hadn't learnt any martial art cheats, as well as his character level also didn't have a chance to level up yet. But being a 1.8-meter-tall man, he still had strength.

He quickly pushed the crowd, and saw Su Nan's hair being pulled up, her face was full of tears, as well as wounds, and even the coat of the beautiful young woman Su Nan had a lot of stains on it.

Although she was already badly beaten up, Su Nan still firmly protected her five or six-year-old daughter, not letting her get hurt.

“Who are you! Dare to stick your nose in other people problem, your just tired of living!” The middle-aged woman looked at Jiang, and was very unhappy. She fiercely stared at Jiang Fei. And since she had several men’s support behind her, today she felt that she was very powerful, and wasn’t afraid of anyone.

Su Nan was barely able to stop crying, she then looked up, and looked at Jiang Fei distressed, and said in surprise: “You are?”

They were competitors.

Although they have the same profession, they were still direct competitors.

Jiang Fei knew that Su Nan was a beautiful young married woman who likes to wear high heels as well as black leggings. But Su Nan also naturally knew that Jiang Fei was a rather handsome young fellow.

She was very angry, and at the same time was very sad.

She by the middle-aged man had been stubbornly pulled, the rude and unreasonable had also pulled her hair, even though she wanted to call the police she didn’t have the means to do it. She was praying at heart that someone would be unable to tolerate it, and stand up to help her and her daughter, for that she would then certainly be grateful.

But for a long time no one had actually lent a hand, nobody had even pleaded for them to stop. And finally someone stood up for her, but that very person was her rival!

She had never imagined it to happen.

Su Nan wasn't a fool, this time it was also clear to her, that ever since she had opened her clinic, Jiang Fei's clinic had run out of business, presumably Jiang Fei must have hated her.

If it was an average person, who saw her calamity, perhaps they'd be able to sleep in the dark at night and still manage to smile when they wake up, and couldn't help but pat the palm of their hand. Just where could she possibly find someone who would stand up and help her?

"I am the doctor at the clinic on the opposite side, and I had just watched the whole thing, and I just have something to say." Jiang Fei smiled.

"The doctor at the clinic on the opposite side?" The middle-aged woman sneered at him, and immediately threateningly said: "I don't care who you are, but roll far away from me! Otherwise, you can only wait and have your clinic also get smashed!"

Hearing this, Jiang Fei's expression turned cold.

This woman was simply a bully!

Shaking the cell phone in his hand, Jiang Fei said: "Your free to hit me. However, a moment ago I had called the plice, if you hit me, then when the time comes, you'll have to fully compensate me. It just happens that my clinic needs money right now."

Not only the middle-aged woman, but also the men behind her had their complexion change.

This matter had been reported to the police, they weren't confident at heart that they'd be able to win, so naturally they didn't want such a thing to happen.

"Brat, did you eat nothing today so you've come looking for trouble? Even if you reported this to the police, do you think that I can't fix you up?" Behind the middle-aged woman, a man with a tattoo on his arm came out, making a fist.

The corner of Jiang Fei's mouth twitched, he caught sight of his strength being high, and looked somewhat sinister. Just by looking at this big person's appearance, he was indeed afraid, and didn't want to provoke this guy.

This was an annoying person, even if he had reported it to the police, it would just be useless, as even the police can't guarantee his safety at any time, and could always find a chance to get back at him.

"Damn! If I level up, or get a martial art cheat, see how this father will deal with you!" Jiang Fei thought to himself.

Ignoring him, Jiang Fei handed a packet of tissue to the charmingly young woman and said, "I'm not looking for trouble. I just think that this old man's just unconscious, and not the cause of medical malpractice, but was instead taken as something bad."

"You fart!" The middle-aged woman's eyes flashed with panic, she then scolded: "What's your deal kid? The public hospital had already said that it was caused by medical malpractice, but you still say it isn't so?"

"I said no, it isn't." Jiang Fei indifferently said.

"Why not? Can you save and wake up my mother-in-law? If you can save her, then I'll believe you! But if you can't, then roll to the side, and let this fox lose money! The middle-aged woman got angry and shouted at him, wanting to scare Jiang Fei away.

Jiang Fei waved his hand, and then said: "If you say so, then I'll give it a try. Maybe my luck is good, and he'll eventually awaken...."

Chapter 8-Acupuncture

Intracranial aneurysm is a kind of disease that suddenly appears on people, with a high mortality and morbidity rate.

Some patients suffering from intracranial aneurysm, in the evening just before going to bed would be just fine, but the next morning may have already died. In the case of the old lady, both cases are almost the same, the only difference being that she hadn't died yet.

If it was the previous Jiang Fei, he surely wouldn't have the ability to treat this disease.

Let alone him, even the public hospital didn't dare take them in, thinking that trying to save the old lady was useless? And perhaps only a few genuine traditional Chinese medicine doctor with a master degree have the confidence to treat such a disease.

But now Jiang Fei has the game system, although he only has the [Six Levels of Acupuncture] skill, the system had said that he could awaken the patient with the acupuncture skill, so it shouldn't be false.

In the past several days, he had only been familiarizing himself with the secondary skills he possessed, and the acupuncture skill was one of them. When he had used the acupuncture needle, regardless whether it's trying to find the acupuncture point, using the needle accurately, or having a stable hand, all of it is impeccable, daring and careful, he had the three conditions to accomplish the task, as well as the complete understanding of the 361 acupuncture points in a human body.

To Jiang Fei, even though he was still low leveled, and only have a level 6 medical skill, but he felt that his medical, in reality, is top ranked, it's not an exaggeration, but he felt that he could already be considered as a highly skilled doctor!

Jiang Fei couldn't imagine, if in the future he were to raise his medical skill to the 9th level, and how powerful it would become.

I'm afraid that I could even raise a dead person's bones back to life, and even claim to have surpassed Hua Tuo.

"You can wake her up?" At that moment, everyone sneered, and look at Jiang Fei as if they were looking at a fool.

The public hospital didn't dare take her in, and had even noted that the patient was going to die. Even all the doctor in the clinical business in the city had said that they couldn't wake her up, but in spite of everything everyone had said, you still say that you're capable of rousing her, and even said it as if it was a matter of fact!

Su Nan had also stopped sobbing, and somewhat slowly called Jiang Fei's name: "Jiang.....Fei, thank you. However, since you've already reported this to the police, this matter you don't have to get yourself involve any longer."

Su Nan was a doctor, even if she was a doctor practicing Western Medicine, and just by looking at the patient's complexion, she could see more or less that the patient was at the death's door. The patient on the stretcher that even the public hospital didn't dare to take in, was indeed incurable.

Jiang Fei made a beckoning motion with his hand, he doesn't need to help anymore?

Now that he had come this far, he would certainly continue to help!

Not because he was compelled to do, not to help Su Nan and the little girl nor was it for the poor old lady.

His goal was: to be in the limelight, saving a patient at death's door, and later his reputation would definitely erupt!

Su Nan, the beautiful young woman with black legging, high heels and her two magical weapons, was still unable to completely rob his business, so he could still bring his clinic back to life.

Otherwise, today if he were to help out with the matter, he would completely be seen as a person who would sacrifice his own interests to help others.

But Jiang Fei wasn't Lei Feng, he wasn't such noble to do something like that. When he had stood up to help before, he had already thought of a plan.

So long as he could help and rouse the patient, he would have already helped Su Nan, and also bring his clinic back to life just like it was in the past, two birds with one stone.

“Do you have a needle used for acupuncture?” Jiang Fei didn’t pay attention to the people’s ridicules, and had instead looked at Su Nan to ask about something.

“I don’t practice Chinese medicine, so I don’t have any needles....Do you want to save the patient using acupuncture?” Su Nan asked in surprise.

“En. I had taken the pulse of the patient a moment ago. She should have a stroke, also called as intracerebral hemorrhage caused by the rupture of the vein in the brain, if not rescued, the patient can only live for two hours. Since using medicine is now useless, the only way left to save the patient is through the use of acupuncture.” Jiang Fei broadly said the cause of the disease, making the surrounding people understand the situation.

By illustrating how severe the patient’s condition is, when he revives the patient, he could show how superb his medical skill is!

Without quibbling with the patient’s family any longer, Jiang Fei said: “You wait for me here, I’ll go back to my clinic and get it.”

Not before long, Jiang Fei ran back with a needle box in his hand. Jiang Fei had his own set of acupuncture needles when he was still in University. However, the set that he brought out, was actually something he had specially bought for these days.

Jiang Fei was serious, and said to the patient’s family member: “Support the old lady, and lean her against the chair, I'll then apply my needle."

"Brat, can you really save my mother-in-law with acupuncture?" The middle-aged woman instead of getting extremely angry, she stood up and smiled.

The crowd saw Jiang Fei solemnly take out a needle without saying anything, as a result the sound of the crowd's ridicules reached the peak.

Jiang Fei had already opened his clinic for three months, so these people had already understood how skilled Jiang Fei was with regards to medicine.

He wasn't an inferior doctor, but his medical skill also couldn't be considered high. Even the beautiful young married woman Su Nan was above the young fellow, and now he believed that he had learnt medical acupuncture that only highly skilled doctors can do, and treat a patient that's about to die, isn't he just playing around?!

"Is this guy out of his mind? What is he doing this for?"

"Dr. Su is his competitor. And since Dr. Su came, his clinic had lost business. So why would he help her?"

"Why? He probably took a fancy with Dr. Su's beauty, so he wants to help her and become Su Nan's hero, right? Ha Ha Ha!"

"Truly overestimating himself. Even if he wanted to help Su Nan and become her hero, it must be within his capabilities. This matter about the deceased patient, his unaware that his ultimately creating his own demise. This youngster is too impulsive.”

The surrounding people, naturally didn't favor Jiang Fei. So long as the person is a little smart, they wouldn't, even the slightest think that Jiang Fei can cure the already half dead old lady at death's door.”

Su Nan with a swollen face, when hearing these words suddenly felt complex, and a little embarrassed.

Obviously, she also thought that what these people were saying was true. Jiang Fei was doing this, perhaps because he wanted to help Su Nan and become her hero, and make her admire him at heart.

Su Nan was confident with her own beautiful appearance, attracting a young man is not strange.

“Hurry up! What are you lingering for.” Jiang Fei actually ignored these people's theories, and had urged the patient's family members to quickly move. “The patient can at most live for two hours, if it's any later, I won't be sure that I can save her anymore.”

The several guys looked at each other, not knowing what to do, all their eyes were then directed at the pungent middle-aged woman. And seemed as if the woman was the head of the family.

The middle-aged woman furrowed her brow, but eventually nodded, so some of the family members lifted the old lady, and had put her on a unbroken chair.

However, she stopped Jiang Fei's needle, and sneered: "Boy, I'll first warn you. Pinning my mother-in-law, is not an issued. However, if you can't save my mother-in-law, and my mother-in-law were to eventually die, don't blame me for being impolite! When the time comes, you'll be the same as the seductress, compensating us with 200000!"

Wow!

The surrounding people exclaimed.

Thinking that this wicked woman's appetite really is big, opening her mouth for another 200000!

Now everyone didn't have a good impression of this woman, even if this old lady was really killed because of Su Nan medicine, her goal was just too obvious. With the aid of the old lady's death, she obviously wanted to extort a huge amount of money from them!

Everyone thought that this time, jiang Fei didn't have the guts to go back.

Helping Su Nan and becoming her hero was nothing, but in order to become a hero, he needed to take the 200000 bet, so long as it was an ordinary person he wouldn't dare do such a thing.

Su Nan's complexion changed, and said to him with a deep voice, "Jiang Fei, don't act unreasonably. We'll wait for the police and it would be all fine."

Jiang Fei smiled at the middle-aged woman, and without hesitating said: "Fine, I accept."

"What?" The middle-aged woman was stunned.

She had only said this to press Jiang Fei, and make him back off, but she didn't think that Jiang Fei would really comply.

Moreover, he had complied very happily!

Is this boy really a highly skilled doctor?

Jiang Fei didn't pay attention to her again.

Placing the needle box on the nearby counter, he took out two five-inch acupuncture needles, and another two seven-inch acupuncture needles, and after having made the disinfection process, he said to the two nearby man in a low voice: "Hold the patient's head steadily! I'll be injecting the needle!"

Jiang Fei took one deep breath, and then immediately sent out both of his hands, it was quick, so the people weren't able to see clearly how his hand moved, Jiang Fei's two seven-inch long needles, and was respectively inserted in the patient's [Wind Pool] acupuncture point, while the other at the [Hundred Convergences]. The other two five-inch long needles were inserted in the two temples of the head.

After inserting the needle, he still didn't relax, Jiang Fei had instead concentrated more, his eyes stared at the change in the patient's skin color and complexion, moving the needles back and forth, adjusting the depth and angle of the needle.

Each time, Jiang Fei's techniques was different. In an outsider's perspective, it looked profound. Even the doctor Su Nan, at this moment was unable to make sense what she was looking at.

If Jiang Fei right now had a level 9 medical skill, he wouldn't just cure the patient completely, it would only take him a moment to cure the patient. However, right now he was still at level 6, just saving the patient's life would take him almost half an hour to do!

One minute passed...one second passed, but this time the people didn't dare ridicule Jiang Fei.

In the beginning they scorned him, but gradually they looked more and more serious.

Because they saw, Jiang Fei who seemed relax move the needle back and effort, but saw that there were sweat on his forehead, looking tired!

Can an ordinary person be able to do this in this kind of situation?

Even if Jiang Fei couldn't cure this half-dead patient and bring her back from the gates of hell, but after looking at his appearance, everyone could be assured of Jiang Fei acupuncture skill, nevertheless he had the ability.

Everyone who was at the scene was attracted to what they were seeing.

And finally, 26 minutes had passed.

Jiang Fei didn't know how much sweat he had wiped, but when he finally saw the patient's face muscle to move, as well as her eyebrow. Jiang Fei quickly raised both of his hand, and completely pulled out the four long needles.

"Good." Jiang Fei let out a heavy sigh. He felt that if the patient was still not good, he would also be not good, and immediately faint at the place he was standing.

"A glass of water." Jiang Fei collapsed on a chair next to the patient, and said.

Su Nan had actually personally get water.

When people had thought that Jiang Fei wanted to give the patient water to drink, Jiang Fei actually took the cup, and gulped it down instead, looking like he was satisfied.

"Brat, you're done?" The middle-aged woman who was frightened that the old lady would wake up a moment ago, suddenly becoming arrogant.

There were no signs of the old lady waking up!

“It seems that, you had gotten yourself involved for no reason, and now owe me as much as 200000.” The middle-aged woman was secretly delighted.

But it didn't last long, as she suddenly heard someone loudly exclaimed: “Moved, moved! She moved!”

Chapter 9-Doctor Jiang!

“Move, what moved?”

The middle-aged woman for the first time wasn't able to react, and was baffled. But quickly, as if she had thought of something, hurriedly turned her head and look.

As soon as she had turned her head, she happened to see the chair, where the old lady announced by the public hospital to be 'dead' sat, slowly opening both of her eyes! Her cerebral vein had burst, so the patient only had two hours left to live. But in just half an hour, and after pulling out the four long needles just a moment ago, the old lady had unexpectedly roused as if a miracle had happened!

The middle-aged woman was clear about the old lady's condition, she couldn't believe what was happening, so she rubbed both of her eyes hard. But the image that appeared in her eyes, still didn't change.

The old lady had indeed revived!

However, she seemed weak and was unable to speak, both her eyes didn't show any signs of vitality, and was somewhat confused, even after she had opened her mouth she was still unable to say anything. Jiang Fei's present medical skill level wasn't very high, so he couldn't completely cure the old lady's symptoms.

Just like what the game system had said, after the patient is awakened, the lower part of her body would be paralyzed, unable to move, couldn't think, and couldn't speak.

But no matter what, the patient hadn't died, and lived.

"This.... How is this possible!" The middle-aged woman couldn't help but let out her voice.

Seeing her mother-in-law not yet dead, and awake, her face didn't show any signs of her being pleasantly surprised, but had instead showed a look of both shock and anger.

Jiang Fei at this time felt quite weak, but at spirit he was very excited. Seeing the patient at death's door, come back to life because of his very own hands, he felt amazing! Proving his skill was indeed almighty!

"You can give up now. The old person has already woken up, and so long as there is no accident, she won't die. At this point, you can bring the old person to the hospital, and have her checked again." Jiang Fei stated, and in the end one can't pass judgment on a person's life until had been buried.

Turning around he saw Su Nan distressed appearance, as her whole body was covered in injuries, and her torn white long gown, traces of tears could still be seen on her face, Jiang Fei said: "Also, since I was able to rouse the old lady, it is just as I've mentioned before, that her disease wasn't caused by Su Nan's medicine, but was caused by emotional stimulation, as a result she had high blood pressure only then did she just suddenly suffer from a stroke."

At this point, Jiang Fei sent a meaningful look at the middle-aged woman. If he had guessed it correctly, it was perhaps this daughter-in-law who had made the old lady mad, making the old lady have an emotional stimulation, almost causing her to die.

After saying that, Jiang Fei looked again, and just by looking at her eyes he could see a hint of guilt. Even her husband beside her, revealed an awkward and embarrassed expression.

At this time, the police like always arrived late.

Another half an hour passed by....

Thus, although the middle-aged woman was unwilling, but since the police had already arrive and the old lady had awoken, she could do nothing but helplessly give up. Su Nan didn't find them trouble, and didn't sue them for hitting her, smashing her stuffs and blackmailing her to the police.

Quickly, the people causing her trouble left, the police also left, but the surrounding people who watched the scene didn't leave, they looked at Jiang Fei showing a look of worship, seeing Jiang Fei as if he was a God.

A doctor who can snatch a life away from the Death God's hand, wasn't he a deity?

Without knowing they had taunted Jiang Fei a moment ago, and had disdained him, but now they clamored: "Doctor Jiang, help me take a look at my disease, it has already been many years since I had a lumbar disc disease, but I still can't find a permanent cure. I heard that acupuncture and moxibustion treatment is very effective on it, would you help me?"

"Dr. Jiang, me too! Recently I always feel pain on my temples, a doctor trained in Chinese medicine suggested to me to have acupuncture and moxibustion treatment. However, I heard that they needed to insert a needle over my head, I didn't dare undertake it, as I was afraid that I'll meet with a mishap. But if it's you Dr. Jiang pricking me with an acupuncture needle, I'll absolutely bet at ease."

"Dr. Jiang, may I ask if you're able to, that is.....treat my kidney disease?"

A slim man asked with a red face.

Eventually, Jiang Fei wasn't able to have a look at them.

If it was the usual, seeing that he has so much business, Jiang Fei would certainly be happy. But today, he had already displayed his acupuncture skill for half an hour, his mental strength was only limited, so he had no energy left to help treat another patient's illness again. So he could only refuse them, and have them come back to his clinic the next day.

The people who saw that Jiang Fei really didn't have any strength left, could only take their leave, but at heart they were resolved and prepared to see Jiang Fei at his clinic when it opens next time, and must line up first!

It can be deduced that after this, Jiang Fei's clinic would become absolutely hot.

But of course, the one who was the most grateful to Jiang Fei right now, must be the young married woman, Doctor Su Nan.

“Dr. Jiang, I don’t know what to say, how should I thank you! Today if you didn’t come, us mother and daughter don’t what we could have done! Thank you....please overlook the enmity between us.”

Jiang Fei saw this beautiful young married, who had knelt down wishing to express her gratitude towards him.

Jiang Fei shook his head, although before, he had indeed somewhat bore grudge to this ‘hanging open’ beautiful young woman. However, since he didn’t need to worry about his business anymore, he naturally wrote off their previous scores.

“Don’t say that. We didn’t even have any enmity between us.”

Jiang Fei would certainly not acknowledge it, and instead pretended to be a generous master, and said with a smile. “Doctors, each make a living through their skills, while the patients are only willing to go to the doctor who is more skills, so other doctors can’t be jealous towards them and can only blame themselves for their lack of skill. Seeing that you were bullied like that a moment ago, I knew you were wronged, so long as the person have even a little conscience, they would stand up and help. This was just as simple as lifting a hand.”

The left side of Su Nan’s face was swollen, but the right side of her face at this time had also turned red, as she embarrassingly said towards him: "Dr. Jiang is magnanimous, but before I had nevertheless thought of you pretty badly. I secretly thought in my mind, that Dr. Jiang's medical skill isn't good, but seeing what Dr. Jiang had just done, I saw for the first time that your medical skill is just too amazing, and that you're a highly skilled doctor, worthy of reputation!"

Jiang Fei beckoned with his hand, and said: "you're too kind."

When my medical skill become level 9, at that time, what you had just said would become true!

Because she was scared a moment ago, the little girl just like a small bird hid behind Su Nan, but at this time she displayed her courage, and spoke with an babyish voice: "Thanks, Uncle Jiang~~~"

Jiang Fei quite liked the child, moreover Su Nan's daughter was so cute, resembling a small porcelain doll.

He bent upto his waist, and placed his head on the little girl's head, rubbing her hair gently, he smiled and asked: "You don't need to thank me. What's your name? How old are you?"

"My name is Tong Tong, I'm 5 years old this year." The little girl wasn't afraid, and bravely replied.

The child may be small, but she could tell who was a good person, and who was a bad person. The person who had hit her mother a while ago was the bad guy, while this Uncle Jiang who had stood up to help her mother, was naturally the good person.

Eventually, Su Nan still didn't know how she could thank Jiang Fei enough.

Closing her business, and not rob of Jiang Fei's business? This she really couldn't do.

All her savings, as well as the money she had borrowed, was spent in this clinic. She had just opened her clinic, so she hadn't made much money yet, if she were to close the clinic, what would she and her daughter do, sleep outside having nothing to eat?

So she could only gratefully invite Jiang Fei to her home, and invite him for dinner.

Jiang Fei was spiritually exhausted and didn't want to remain here for long, as he wanted to go home and sleep and recover his spirit.

But before he went, he touched his nose, and a little embarrassedly pointed at Su Nan's long legs, said: "Your legging had gone bad."

Su Nan lowered her head, and saw her black silk legging was torn badly because of what had happened a moment ago, but she didn't know when it had been pulled and what had caused such a huge torn....

Jiang Fei returned home, but didn't sleep immediately to recover his spirit, but instead looked at his character stats screen.

His basic stats didn't change, but his experience and medical skill proficiency had increased.

Before he had treated the patient, his experience was 31/500, while his medical skill (Level 6) +4%

But now, his experience had become 37/500, while medical (Level 6) was now at +7%!

In other words, when he had treated the patient, it had increased his experience points by 6, as well as medical skill by 3%.

However, Jiang was suddenly startled, as he had discovered another change in his stats, and that it the change didn't stop with these two aspects.

His spirit which was one of his four basic properties: Physical Strength, Spirit, Agility, and Power, had changed.

His Physical strength, agility, and force didn't change, and had kept it's original value. However, now his spirit had actually turned into 0.6 (When spirit is lower than 0.5, the player will automatically enter dormant state)!

Character: Jiang Fei

Level: 0

Experience: 0/500

Physical Strength: 1

Spirit: 0.6/1.1 (When spirit is lower than 0.5, the player will automatically enter dormant state)

Agility: 1

Force: 1.2

Unassigned Points: None

Martial Arts skill: None

Secondary Professions: Weapon Forgery (Level 9), Planting (Level 9), Cooking (Level 9), Gardening (Level 9), Playing Piano (Level 9), Wine-making (Level 9), Summoning beasts (Level 9), Medical skill (Level 6)

“Doing acupuncture reduces spirit?” Jiang Fei was somewhat in a daze.

Automatically entering a dormant state, is he same as fainting.

If later he could upgrade his medical skill to level 9, and his spirit was weak, then he certainly wouldn't be able to treat severe disease!

Before I thought the basic stat [Spirit] was useless. But now it seems like after I level up, I'll need to assign some of my points to increase my [Spirit] stat! Jiang Fei thought in his mind.

Jiang Fei finally fell aspleed, but he didn't know that the matter of him bringing the patient with a stroke back to life had not only circulated among patients, but had also been found by a newspaper reporter in Huaxi city.

So after the reporter did a simple interview, it had been opened up in a small section in the newspaper, and had been as the headline of the newspaper!

The article was title: A Highly skilled doctor in folk! A small clinic doctor had saved a patient 'noted' with stroke from death!

After this reported had published it on the same day the matter had happened in Su Nan's clinic.

Of course, some portions of it were deleted.

They didn't dare report about the public hospital not taking in the patient, as well as the patient's family members blackmailing incident.

After all, somethings can't just be spoken irresponsibly, otherwise they'll have a lawsuit.

The content that the reporter had written, paid great attention to Jiang Fei's mysterious acupuncture skill, and how inconceivable it was. Then taking advantage of this topic, wantonly exaggerated how fierce Traditional Chinese medicine was, and even said that developed countries like America and Europe needs to take traditional Chinese medicine seriously, hoping that fellow countrymen don't revere foreign countries, and carefully delve into what their ancestors had left behind.

Jincheng PLA (People's Liberation Army) nursing institution.

ICU.

A grey haired patient, who had persistently reading the newspaper everyday out of habit.

On this day, he happened to see this story, and thought that it was somewhat funny.

In his view, the things that the newspaper had explained was too fake, that pertained to traditional Chinese Medicine actually being real.

So after the old person had looked at it, he placed it to one side, and didn't pay attention to it, until.....

Chapter 10-Fairyland

After Jiang Fei's rescue, his clinic business which was rapidly declining, had suddenly flourished.

He was reputed as a highly skilled doctor and an acupuncture master by residents in the city, so those who were sick came to look for him at his place, even those that hadn't gotten sick would still come at his place to look for him.

Curing those who have an illness, strengthen the health of those who doesn't have a disease, as well as preventing people from getting any illness before it occurs! Engaging in several health examinations.

It was certain that Jiang Fei's clinic business had gotten better, although it had affect Su Nan's clinic business, but it wasn't as bad as Jiang Fei's clinic in the past, which was at rock bottom. A beautiful woman, white coat, black silk leggings, high-heels, this combination had was very lethal, so there are always many lascivious men that are willing to gather at her clinic, and feast their eyes on her fully.

"Jiang Fei, you really do know acupuncture! How do I now know about this, even when I was here in the clinic, I didn't see you use it once."

In the weekend, Jasmine Lin asked for a leave from her work. However, she actually didn't rest, but had instead ran to Jiang Fei's clinic, helping Jiang Fei, even if it were just getting the prescribed medicine and such.

Seeing Jiang Fei's acupuncture needle pulled out from the patient's belly, the patient stood up, his face was filled with happiness, and loudly shouted: "Highly skilled doctor! You really are a highly skilled doctor! My waist had bothered me for years, and now it isn't painful anymore!"

Jiang Fei smiled, he then looked at Jasmine Lin and proudly replied: "There are things you don't know, quite many at that." Then he wrote the patient a prescription, as well as the price of the acupuncture and the Chinese medicine, and then gave it to Jasmine Lin as he said to the patient: "Your disease isn't completely cured, but after taking this medication, it shouldn't recur again."

"Thanks Dr. Jiang! Thanks Dr. Jiang!"

The patient was overjoyed, and very decisively pulling out six red bank note, without minding the price too much. It must be known that Dr. Jiang, everyday could only at most treat five patients with acupuncture, and couldn't do more than that.

People could line up for his time, but they still had to book an appointment three days in advance!

Jasmine Lin was responsible for receiving money, but seeing this scene, she couldn't help but secretly stuck out her tongue, and then moved close to Jiang Fei's ear, and as if she was blowing off steam, she whispered: "You really are shady. The way it's going right now, you're earning money faster than when you previously worked at the hospital!"

Jasmine Lin's fragrance had a really nice-smell to it, just from smelling a little bit of Jasmine's fragrance, people couldn't help but get distracted by it.

“This can’t be counted as being shady. In American countries, those foreigners that only had low acupuncture skills, however even if it was a second-rate acupuncture clinic, they would charge at least charge one dollar per minute.” Jiang Fei said with a smile. “Moreover, you see that my income is good, but don’t you see that I only treat five patients at most with it?”

Jasmine Lin received the money, while paying special attention to the medicine she gave, and curiously said: “Why only treat five people a day, are you using the hunger marketing strategy? Your acupuncture skill is so amazing, and even without quotas, there should still be a lot of people who would come here, right?”

Jiang Fei looked at her in the eyes: “Really is a woman, how can you not understand! How can you have been considered as a nurse before without even knowing this basic knowledge. Don’t you know how nerve-wrecking acupuncture treatments are? Even if it’s just 5 per day, I could only maintain my spirit to its limits, more than that is difficult to manage.”

He bid farewell to his patients, even though it wasn’t yet 3 in the afternoon. And just like before, even if there were still business, Jiang Fei would still prepare to close the clinic.

This point had made Jasmine Lin very puzzled: “You’ve been busy recently, having no business and closing the door was no problem, But now your business is good, why are you only open for half a day, even without acupuncture, you can still see patients and help take their pulse, and still make money.”

“Yes, I can earn money, but do you see me as the kind of person that only has an eye for money that would even jump into a hole just to get a diamond never to come out? Jasmine Lin, your simply insulting me!” Jiang Fei took a quick glance and pretended to scorn Jasmine Lin, while he righteously said.

Jiang Fei would never give up being a doctor. But going to a village (countryside) to get a land, make a place to plant, as well as the matter of him building his own resort, is something Jiang Fei would never forget.

After these days of exploring, he had finally found a very satisfactory address, and had a shallow talk with the village chief, and today he already intends to go and carry out his plan.

Seeing patient was just too slow for him to earn experience, so it was necessary for him to use his secondary profession [Planting] as quickly as possible.

Shutting the door, he started the car, while Jasmine Lin naturally sat beside the driver’s seat.

It was late April. And immediately after it would be May 1st international labour day.

It was a bright day in the city, the temperature had already reached 25 degrees, entering the first month of summer.

So Jasmine Lin’s dress was relatively cool, and have the feeling of summer.

She wore a chiffon silk shirt with stripes and wasn't the type that was tight-fit, but was somewhat a bigger size. But since Jasmine Lin was 1.7-meter-tall, her great shape could still be seen as well as her waistline and her bulging chest when having this T-shirt on.

There weren't any black silk legging on her legs, and had actually worn white shorts, and a dark yellow leather belt, so her pair of slender thigh was exposed in the air.

Jiang Fei took a quick look at her, and was very pleased. There was a beauty who was going with him, which was better than him on his own.

However, Jiang Fei still asked: "Are you sure you're okay to go with me this afternoon? I'm going out of town and don't know when I can come back in the evening. If customers will come to find you again later, I may not be able to send you back."

"Going out of town?" Jasmine Lin was surprised for a moment, but didn't refuse him and had instead curiously asked: "Where are you going out to play?"

Seeing that Jasmine didn't think of leaving, Jiang Fei drove the car, "You'll know the place as soon as we get there!"

Leaving the city, they had gotten on the highway, so Jiang Fei's car wasn't slow, and was going at more than 80 km/hr.

However, Down the highway, the road condition was really terrible as it was full of bumpy roads and broken rocks. Moreover, these problems were all over the place, it was clear the they had skimped on the job and stinted on materials, as the quantity of gravel used were few, and wasn't much different from soil road.

Fortunately, Jiang Fei had a 2.4 L Jeep Compass, even though it was an urban-type SUV, and unlike Wrangler Jeep that was swift and fierce, but compared to common sedan car it was much better, and on this troublesome road, was good.

Swaying, wavering, although the place wasn't far away, it still had actually took them a full half an hour to reach their destination.

"after all the suffering we went through, why did we come to this kind of place! Even if you want to camp out, you could have just gone to a park or a suburban area without needing to go here. My whole body's numb...." Jasmine Lin fixed her brown color hair, and kept on complaining.

However, after she got off, her eyes immediately captured the scenery, and soon stopped complaining.

This is a beautiful natural landscape!

The blue sky, from a distance away there were three imposing grand mountain, and in the between the besieged city was a huge valley. Even if it was far away they could still hear the sound of splashing water in the river, as there exists a small waterfall at one of the mountain. At the foot of the mountain, there was a perfect combination of forests, lakes and grass, it was just too beautiful to behold.

A little further away from the foot of the mountain, there was a lovely lush green vegetable field, as well as peach and cherry trees! It was late April, generally speaking peach tree would have more or less already withered, but here the peach tree should be classified as an evening variety, as at this moment it was actually in full bloom, the fragrance of flowers assailed towards their nostrils, and the sound of bees flying could be heard.

Cherries at this time weren't ripe, and was under ripe yet there was already a speck of red, just like beauty's embarrassed face.

Far away again, there were village houses that were randomly dispersed, these houses were made of red bricks and nature color (green or blue) roof tile, a few houses were small, but one can also see a few thatch houses. If they had arrived a bit later, they would have only caught sight of smoke coming from the kitchen chimneys rising in the air.

This scenery, was almost entirely composed of nature and harmony, one that a noisy city is impossible to have. Everything was just like a high quality oil painting, placing themselves here, so that their fatigue which came from working hard all day in the city would immediately fade away, happily being set free into nature

"Wow! So beautiful! Fairyland! Jiang Fei, what is this place?" Her hands that were on her hips, as well as her muscles and bones shook, as before Jasmine Lin's eyes was a beautiful scenery that had made her stunned, while she said in a loud voice.

"This village is called 'Rice Village', and is surrounded by mountains.

Although it wasn't developed as a scenic area, but the scenery here is still better than most of tourist attractions. How is it, those suffering you went through wasn't for nothing, right?" Jiang Fei looked into the distance, and said with a smile.

"It's extremely worth it! Tonight, we stay here for the night, I don't want to go back!" Jasmine Lin nodded and resolutely said, "Only. Where do we stay for the night, one of the villager's home?"

Jiang Fei revealed a faint smile, and took the lead, said: "Tonight we need to go back. However, later if we have time we can come here, and stay here for as long as we want!"

Although the drive was horrible, but after they had gotten off the car, Jasmine Lin walked in the forest wearing high-heals, which was even more troublesome. But now she was attracted by the surrounding scenery, enjoyed it, had fun, and even if they have to painstakingly go here again, she wouldn't mind it.

"The cherries aren't ripe yet, do you still want to eat one? Moreover, these fruit trees were cultivated by farmers, secretly plucking a cherry, you'll have to be careful or you'll be fined." He couldn't wait to pluck a cherry, and without washing it, he put it in Jasmine Lin's mouth, Jiang Fei couldn't help but smile.

"It's not ripe, but the flavor is also good. You taste..."

Saying so, Jasmine Lin who had red nail polish on her nails, reached out her hand, and also pluck a cherry, putting it into Jiang Fei's mouth.

“Well, it’s good. I estimate that it will take another two weeks before it is thoroughly ripe, and then we can come here and slowly eat...”

Jiang Fei’s destination, was towards a woman in the rice village, the village’s branch secretary Li Guiying.

Last time he had heard this village branch secretary, he had thought that it was staged like an evil custom out of novels, a beautiful woman would suddenly emerge from the village, but when he met the person, he found that this woman from the village wasn’t beautiful at all, moreover, she was more than 50 years old.

Chapter 11-Contracted Land

A few minutes later.

They arrived at a small courtyard surrounded by red bricks.

The small yard was beautiful, inside the red brick walls were peach trees with tall branches, it had what looked like a 'red apricot', that produced an creative concept. At the corner, there were string bean and grape rack, as well as a few egg-laying mother hen 'gurgling' to find worms, and a large black dog lying down at the side.

Jiang Fei and Jasmine Lin sat on the stool, and opposite of them was a 50 year old woman who was wearing a quite fashionable clothing, she was a woman of the rice village, the village's branch secretary Li Guiying.

In the courtyard, there were also two children playing around, climbing up the peach tree, shaking off the ripe peaches.

"Young man, is this your wife?" Asked the female secretary of the village.

Jiang Fei was a little embarrassed, and quickly explained: "No, just friends."

"Oh." Li Guiying nodded, then looked solemnly at Jiang Fei, "Young man, you had casually mentioned last time, but I thought you were just kidding. Unexpectedly you came back, do you really want to rent a land from our village?"

The rice village's scenery was indeed exquisite, but with the awful state of the road, it would take half an hour of driving to arrive at this place, which had caused people in the rice village to still be poor.

To become rich one needs to build roads first, these words are very correct. The Rice Village's location was good, and wasn't far from Jincheng. If the village was developed, then surely, many white collar workers from Jincheng would come, and in the weekend Jiang Fei would be able to choose to come here.

The current domestic situation was that tourism leads to economic development, which is a good way for the people at the village to get rich.

But all of this was restricted by the bumpy road.

If Jiang Fei came here just to buy a house, and spend his spare time living here, it would still make sense. But to contract a land here, wanting to build a factory or something, that's some imagination.

"I am very serious. Secretary Li, since I want to be here often, I want to rent a few acres of land for growing vegetables and fruit trees. You don't know this but I like rural areas since I was a child, and since I have always lived in the city, I wanted to experience farming work..." Jiang Fei said with a smile.

Li Guiying had a look of wonder as she was unable to understand him.

In her opinion, today, even people from rural areas want to go and live in cities, which city people would want to return and live in a rural area?

Unless they have no money, and can't afford to buy a house in the city, they have no choice but to live in rural areas. But seeing that he had a beautiful car, and had also heard that Jiang Fei was a doctor of some city, it was obvious that he didn't belong to the lower class rank.

Just like their Rice Village, many villages only had half the number of people they had in the past. But so as long as they could get work outside and earn money, they would think of every possible means to move out, and leave their field, even if they have to walk for an hour to get to the city and leave Rice Village.

"Good. However, before you can rent a land, I still need to hold a meeting in the village to discuss about it, and also listen to the opinion of the people here, before I can decide. Of course, there shouldn't be any issues. I'll take you to the village to have a look around and see where you want to rent a land...." Li Guiying thought for a moment, then replied.

In any case this Rice Village doesn't have anything else, except for having an awful lot of land. Now, the people living in Rice Village are getting fewer and fewer, and much of the originally fertile land, had now turned into a wasteland, as there is basically no people to work on it, so they don't have anything to lose even if they rent it to an outsider.

"Many thanks Secretary Li." Jiang Fei didn't think that this matter would go so smooth, he then went out of the courtyard with Li Guiying.

Jasmine Lin, at this time had finally understood the whole story of the matter.

“Jiang Fei, do you really want to get a land here? What do you think you are doing, don’t tell me you really want to move to this hidden forest, and from now on live a life of slash-and-burn?”(ED:is a Farming style Google it if you want more info). Jasmine Lin with both of her hands pulled Jiang Fei, and said near his ear with a low and amazed voice.

At this time, she couldn’t think about the beautiful scenery here. Here the scenery no matter how beautiful, no matter how attractive, one would usually only come here during vacations. How could someone possibly buy a house here, contract a land, and settle here!

Many city people yearn for the village life.

But, how many people would actually give up the city life for the village life?

If there was such a person, that person’s friend would surely tell him off, as well as his family would possibly also scold him calling him a fool.

This woman really doesn’t see herself as an outsider, sticking so close to me like this, my arm can even clearly feel the elasticity of her twin peaks.

“I’m not retiring in this forest. Didn’t you say before that the scenery here is beautiful? I’m just here to make my own resort, later I’ll have a place to live here!” Jiang Fei said.

“You can just buy a house here, or buy other’s house? Why are you also contracting a land?” Hearing his words had given Jasmine Lin a little peace of mind. It’s good so as long as Jiang Fei didn’t plan on giving up being a doctor, and doesn’t intend on living here permanently.

Jiang Fei said with a smile: “One can play here as much as they please. Although, the various vegetable and fruit trees here, aren’t too good. In any case I already made some inquiries, contracting land here is much cheaper”.

Jasmine Lin was speechless, she then said: “You said that I’m a wealthy woman, who had no place to spend her money on. I see you as a local tyrant, that indeed wants something, yet still dares to put it into action!”

Perhaps if it was in the past, Jasmine Lin would stop Jiang Fei’s impulsive action. However, now that she knew of Jiang Fei’s mysterious medical skill, she knew that later he will definitely not be short on money, so she relinquished her idea.

Eventually, Jiang Fei settled on the East end of the village, close to the base of a barren wasteland, about six acres, and next to the waste land, there was an irregularly shaped small pond/lake that was about 2 to 3 acres. The shores of the pond were covered with reeds that fluttered along the wind, the scenery was extremely exquisite.

“Secretary Li, you see this land, how about renting it to me?” Jiang Fei tentatively asked.

Li Guiying who was very good at speaking, actually shook her head at this time.

Jiang Fei was troubled, until Li Guiying suddenly said: "This land isn't suitable for growing crops, since it hasn't been used for a long time. You see, in some parts of this land, even weeds wouldn't grow at all, and only a few trees manage to grow. If you want to contract a land, I suggest that you contract one that's fertile and has been previously used, planting crops would be more effective."

Jiang Fei laughed, and thought that Secretary Li was good and kind-hearted.

But she didn't have to worry about him, even though he wasn't really used to all kinds of crops, and only thought that it was merely planting vegetable. But under his grandmaster level planting, I'm afraid that even barren wastelands wouldn't pose any problem to him.

Moreover, this place was the nearest to the forest, as well as the natural ponds, so later he'll be able to eat fish and shrimp, or even chicken, duck and other kinds of poultry, it was really convenient.

So under Jiang Fei's insistence, Li Guiying could only agree. She thought that this young fellow from the city, would likely not settle here, as it was impossible for him to become a real life farmer. In any case, renting this infertile land, she reckoned that they wouldn't lose much.

"Secretary Li, is this lake useful?" Jiang Fei asked.

"This lake? It's useless, other than for laundry, and watering land, as well as for drinking. In summer, some of the village children would come to this small lake to take a shower. Why, is this lake of some use to you?" Li Guiying casually asked.

Jiang Fei nodded his head and said: "I want this small lake in the contract, later I can raise some fish or something."

"No problem, later I'll help you raise this matter to the village committee." Li Guiying complied very happily.

To get things done, Li Guiying called for a meeting in the village, explaining the situation, everybody didn't have any issue with it, so Jiang Fei went to his jeep and brought out one pack of red bank notes, both sides signed the contract and affixed a seal on it.

Henceforth, the base of the lake as well as the piece of land, for 30 years, belongs to Jiang Fei.

Even if he built a house, or grow crops, all of it was not a problem!

Chapter 12-A Cowherd and Weaver Girl's life

Entering into a contract, the villagers of Rice Village were very enthusiastic in keeping Jiang Fei and Jasmine Lin for dinner, or even have them stay for the night. After all, for them Jiang Fei was equivalent to a villager living in the same village as them.

However, Jiang Fei refused, and together with Jasmine Lin, drove back to Jincheng. Now that he got a land in hand, he needed to put it on his agenda, and make a plan as there was just too many things to do.

Such as asking a construction team to build his villa, land reclamation, purchase fish to grow, buy seeds, he needed to take care of everything, in his mind, he already have a general guideline.

In particular, for the construction of the villa, Jiang Fei can't be careless.

At this age, constructing a house in a village isn't cheap. Although it didn't cost tens of millions like at the center of the city, but Jiang Fei imagined constructing a small villa, and have it designed to a great extent, but he was afraid that it wouldn't just cost a few hundreds of thousands.

Three months ago, Jiang Fei had spent about 200000 to open his clinic, while inside his bankcard there was still 800000, as a result the budget for the construction can't be too much or too little, as well as it being too shabby and unstylish, is something Jiang Fei definitely didn't want.

The following days, Jiang Fei found a construction team, and made a contract with them, paying them a certain amount of money. He then once more ran all over the place, buying materials for the house such as brick, cement, and gravel and other kinds of materials that are used to construct a house, so Jiang Fei's earnings started to decrease.

Looking at the balance he had left in his bankcard, he thought of that decoration of his weekend villa was no small project, it hasn't been long, yet Jiang Fei's money was being excessively used, he even felt that the money he had was insufficient.

It seems I need to think of a way to earn a little more money. Jiang Fei thought to himself.

After obtaining the game system Jiang Fei had become a versatile fighter. However, for now he temporarily needed the ability to make money, and the best of which was by using the medical skill he had obtained.

However, as a doctor, only having the thought of making money in his head, was certainly wrong, and was even a disgrace to the sacred name of being a doctor. The people living in this world, couldn't stop thinking about money. Regarding money as nothing, even if it was a person with a noble character such as Jiang Fei, was unable to do so.

As a result, there was only one fair and legitimate way to earn money as fast as possible. His clinical business, wasn't like it was before, practically every day, he would strive and treat two patients, even with the limit imposed to him by his spirit stat, at most he could do two acupuncture and moxibustion treatment in sequence.

The next day, Jiang Fei had been absorbed in treating the patients at his clinic. Later that day, the construction team would start the construction of the villa at Rice Village, he only needed to give them the design plan of his own house, and from time to time go to look at their work, so he didn't need to mind it too much.

Jasmine Lin this woman, after coming to Rice Village with Jiang Fei, had actually been charmed by its scenery, and regarding this matter she unexpectedly even cared more about it than Jiang Fei. In her own words, the scenery in Rice Village is so attractive, and had also decided that later she would also make her own villa there. However, it was impossible for her to construct a house there at the moment, so after Jiang Fei's house is built, he needed to let her stay in his house.

Jiang Fei had consented with a smile.

Ever since Jiang Fei had saved Jasmine Lin, the relationship between the two of them could be considered as 'fated' friendship, and would even suffer together when one of them is going through a calamity, the relationship of the two can't be compared to that of an average person's.

As for Jasmine Lin's thoughts towards him, Jiang Fei could in fact guess a little.

Men in this aspect of life between men and women, are the most sensitive to this aspect, so as long as the woman looks at his eyes, and feel good in their heart, the man would immediately guess whether this woman fell for him or not. What's more, Jasmine Lin had sometimes made it quite obvious.

However, just as Jiang Fei had said, that there was a person with a relationship with him and at an earlier time had already been set as his girlfriend, both sides had even met the other side's family, and if it weren't for his girlfriend being extremely stubborn about being independent, resembling the character of a strong woman, as well as in accordance to their parent's wishes, they would have already been married for a long time.

Jiang Fei's genuine girlfriend was called Bai Ruoxi, they were high school mates, and could barely be regarded as childhood sweethearts.

But when they were still in high school, the two didn't show any signs of affection towards each other....perhaps it could be said that in high school, Jiang Fei hadn't chased after the girl who was a committee member, had a part-time job, and the prettiest girl in class, Bai Ruoxi.

After the two of them got in College, the medical college in which Jiang Fei studies at, was very near to the university that Bai Ruoxi was going, it was just next door. The two being old schoolmates, just after entering the first semester of university, even if they were occupied with something or had nothing to do, the two frequently came in contact with each other, and gradually, under Jiang Fei's evil intentions, eventually Bai Ruoxi was unable to escape from Jiang Fei's grasp, and was subdued.

Bai Ruoxi in University had majored in news media, having outstanding grades, as well as multiple awards when she was still in University, after graduating, she directly entered and worked at a newspaper company.

As for the present, Bai Ruoxi was dispatched overseas, and is estimated to return home in the second half of the year.(ED:betting on a cheating girlfriend).

Actually, according to Bai Ruoxi and Jiang Fe's nearly seven years of affection, their relationship has been very stable, and the two should have already been married. But Bai Ruoxi was really devoted to her journalist career, and had been busy all day long, having little to no free time. She was unable to marry, and was bound to her career for life, as she didn't want her family to struggle in that kind of life style.

So no matter how both parents requested, no matter how much Jiang Fei thought about it, she could only clench her teeth to brace herself and not comply, insisting that she needed another two years before considering this issue again.

Jiang Fei was not crazy for marriage, a little earlier or a little late to have children, didn't matter to him.

But Jiang Fei was also a normal man, and it was normal for him to want 'love', as the hormone in a man's whole body is bound to be uncomfortable and needs to go out. As a result of not seeing his own woman for several months, resembling a life like a cowherd and a weaving maiden(ED: reference to a love history for more info google it), was certainly dissatisfying.

As a result, this three years, the two didn't have any fight.

Just that, the two had a fight two months ago, and were still in a cold war.

Bai Ruoxi wasn't a soft woman, in high school, she was the student in charge of her class, nobody in the class dared to refuse her orders, and could be seen as a capable woman. A woman that wouldn't give in easily.

Her words were: "At first, when you Jiang Fei pursued me, I stated to you, that my dream was to become a reporter, not just an ordinary woman in a household, and being a housewife. And that after that, I might go abroad, and would perhaps not see you for a long time. And that If you want to fall in love with me, and want to marry me, you'll have to support me on this. At that time, you happily agreed, but now that the uncooked rice is done and ready is ready to eat, you think you can just forget about it and not admit the truth? I won't allow it!"

Jiang Fee unexpectedly couldn't say anything in reply to this, and could only smile bitterly in secret. He initially started to have an unrequited love on Bai Ruoxi in high school, and then began to pursue her when he was in University, it wasn't just because he was attracted with this kind of personality, and had thought that she was vigorous enough?

Otherwise, he wouldn't have been so determined and persevered to go after her.

Certainly, she is beautiful enough, her skin was also white enough.

Right, her stature was also beautiful enough.....

....

Giving the medicine to a patient, Jiang Fei found time to use his computer.

He now looked at it, and as soon as he went online he saw a news report that was already getting a bit famous, which was called 'the most beautiful female reporter Bai Ruoxi'.

This woman has been a reporter for quite some time, and after occasionally being on television, she had actually added a bit more flavor....

"But, even if she has flavor, so what? This father's present life is equivalent to a monk's life! You acting like this, don't blame me for not abiding by the law, saying that her 'husband' is a womanizer!" Jiang Fei thought wickedly in his heart.

An ordinary person's great lord, will have physical needs, and fortunately could restrain one's self once or twice. But restraining one's self for several months, who could bear that?

Moreover, now Jiang Fei all day long was being harassed by Jasmine Lin and Xia Xiaozhi, this two young and beautiful woman.

"Uncle, I'm here to see a doctor!" A white palm slapped on the glass counter.

Speaking of the devil.

Jiang Fei turned, and looked at Xia Xiaozhi who was carrying a bag, wearing a school uniform, and had a mushroom head, surprised: "What did you come here for?"

"To see a doctor, what else." Xia Xiaozhi said with a smile.

Ever since the time that she had been impressed with Jiang Fei's cooking, this young succuba looked at Jiang Fei in a new light, frequently greeting him with a smile.

"Are you sick? Come on. Give me your hand. I'll check your pulse." Jiang Fei turned off his computer, and said.

"I'm not here to see a doctor, it's my schoolmate that wants to see a doctor! Uncle, didn't you boast before that your medical skill is amazing, so I've come to introduce to you to a business." After Xia Xiaozhi said that, she moved her body sideways, then behind Xia Xiaozhi, Jiang Fei saw two students wearing the similar school uniform.

One of the girls wore a black-rimmed glasses, and looked somewhat lackluster, only her temperament was somewhat the same as Xia Xiaozhi, a troublemaker, whose is unlikely to go to school.

However, the other female student made Jiang Fei somewhat startled.

It could be said that, Xia Xiaozhi and this female student's appearance, as well as the shape of their chest had a huge difference, making Jiang Fei somewhat surprised....

Chapter 13-Classmate 'Zhuangzhuang'

"Xiaozhi, is this your uncle?"

The girl with the black-framed glasses walked in, and took a look at Jiang Fei, she then looked through the glass counter to take a look at Jiang Fei's legs, and afterwards commented: "Good looks, dressing in a white coat is also another point, moreover he has a pair of long legs. En, he barely hit the 80-point mark."

Jiang Fei's head was filled with sinister thoughts.

So this are what Xia Xiaozhi's schoolmates are like.

Don't tell me that it isn't just men incessantly desiring for a woman to have a pair of long legs, but women too desire for a man to have a pair of long legs?

Xia Xiaozhi stared at the female student wearing a black-framed glasses, "Tan Yuan, what is good, is good, right?" She then looked at Jiang Fei, and introduced the two: "Uncle, these two are my classmates and friends, this one is Tan Yuan, you can call her Tangyuan (dumpling), and this one is Xu Jing, you can call her Zhuangzhuang (smooth).

Jiang Fei nodded with a smile, and greeted them: "Hello."

Although it hasn't been long since he had graduated, but looking at the faces of these high school girls, he discovered that he indeed wasn't that young anymore.

The girl with the black-rimmed glasses nicknamed 'dumpling' should be based on the homonym of her name Tan Yuan.

As for this person's looks.....

En, she looks very young, but has a mature chest for a student.

As for this other girl Xu Jing, her nickname 'Zhuangzhuang' and her real name, doesn't have the slightest relation. However, if I have seen her for the first time, I would immediately realize that her nickname describes herself very well, and was definitely suitable for her.

The one seeing a doctor, was this 'Zhuangzhuang', the student Xu Jing.

Xu Jing seemed as if she wasn't a young female delinquent like Xia Xiaozhi and Tan Yuan, as she had a baby face, her two fat cheeks were somewhat red, like when a girl sees a boy that she likes and strangely becomes shy. She also had a long hair, making her look somewhat like a young virtuous woman.

Under Xia Xiaozhi's arrangement, Xu Jing sat opposite of Jiang Fei, and timidly stretched out her arm. She rolled up her sleeves, revealing a smooth and white arm on the glass counter.

Jiang Fei placed his fingers on her wrist, but he didn't have to check her pulse as he already knew the condition of the girl.

At this time, Jiang Fei also knew that the girl was somewhat shy, as well as why she was embarrassed.

Ten seconds passed, Jiang Fei quickly pulled back his finger, and without saying anything nodded, muttering: "Good." And then began to write a prescription.

Xia Xiaozhi and Tan Yuang was curious, but Tan Yuang was somewhat not convinced, and doubted Jiang Fei's method: "Xiaozhi, is your uncle so fierce, that he'll know the person's condition just by checking the person's pulse? Moreover, doesn't doctors trained in Chinese medicine take at least a minute or two to check a person's pulse? Is your uncle an unskilled doctor?"

"How could that be!" Xia Xiaozhi in front of outsiders, would still defend Jiang Fei's face. Because in the presence of outsiders, Jiang Fei was her uncle, giving Jiang Fei face, was equivalent to giving her face.

But she was also somewhat disturbed, and thought: isn't this the time uncle would usually brag?

Even if you don't take her pulse, even if your medical skill isn't good, you can't just handle things so carelessly like this, but should instead put on an act to make it believable. You don't know her condition, didn't I point it out and give you a hint?

Xia Xiaozhi hadn't seen Jiang Fei examine a patient before, so she didn't know Jiang Fei's true medical skill. So she could only brace herself to ask him: "Uncle, what illness does Zhuangzhuang have?"

Jiang Fei didn't reply, and just continued writing the prescription, without raising his head, he said: "You should usually keep yourself warm and avoid getting cold; You should also pay attention to rest, reduce fatigue, improve nutrition, enhance physical fitness; you should also control the violent mood swing you have as much as possible, avoid emotional stimulation, and maintain a good mood..."

Although, as a doctor, he wouldn't conceal anything about the person's illness as well as the treatment for it, but facing these three young girl, Jiang Fei still felt somewhat embarrassed. When the system had suggested to him that the best way to treat the illness was with acupuncture, Jiang Fei didn't immediately implement it. He's able to treat this kind of ailments such as irregular periods and painful menstruation, but then he would need to insert his acupuncture needle at the girl's lower abdomen!

Xia Xiaozhi happily looked at Tan Yuan, which meant, isn't uncle amazing?

Tan Yuan's eyes shined, showing a look of admiration.

No matter what, no matter what age the woman was, they would always find men who are capable, the most attractive. When Jiang Fei showed his good skills, Tan Yuan had immediately given him charm points.

Tan Yuan secretly thought: This uncle, can possibly hit the 85-point mark!

“And the medicine?” Xu Jing actually blushed, as she read Jiang Fei’s prescription, and a bit reluctantly said.

Jiang Fei was surprised for a moment, thinking that the girl might not want to eat bitter herb. He then said: “Taking a traditional Chinese medicine is the best choice, and is able to recuperate your health. It’s a bit bitter so bear with it, good medicines tastes bitter.”

Xu Jing didn’t speak.

Xia Xiaozhi said without even a bit of shame: “Uncle, isn’t your acupuncture amazing? Xu Jing heard that acupuncture therapy is very useful against irregular periods, so I brought her here for you. Xu Jing had already taken many chinese medicines, but her great aunt (period) still hasn’t come for two months....”

Jiang Fei understood.

This student Zhuangzhuang came to him for his acupuncture.

“Rest assured, my medicine is different from what other doctors prescribe. Go back and try it first, if it continues not to change for the better, come back to me for acupuncture.” Jiang Fei said.

To be honest, performing acupuncture on Xia Xiaozhi’s bashful classmate who has a huge chest is quite exciting. But, this clinic doesn’t have any isolated rooms, so this really isn’t a place to insert the needle. (ED: nailed), (TL: not s*x, acupuncture needle)

He couldn't just let the little girl here in public, roll up her clothes, right?

Thinking of this, Jiang Fei's eyes unconsciously looked at Xu Jing and sized her up.

The growth of her chest was massive, but her waistline is very thin, and have a really tender and delicate body!

Xu Jing nodded in agreement, and her somewhat baby fat cheeks turned even redder.

Jiang Fei was somewhat surprised. Xia Xiaozhi and Tan Yuan were rebellious young girls, how can such an obedient woman like Xu Jing become friends with them.

In school, shouldn't such people be in two different factions, just like well water doesn't interfere with river water, distinguishing right from wrong?

The medicine cost sixty yuan, but Jiang Fei planned to give Xia Xiaozhi face, and didn't ask them for money. But the red faced Xu Jing had been taught well, and didn't like taking advantage of people, insisting on giving him the money. So Jiang Fei somewhat hypocritically continued to refused, but in the end had no choice back to accept it.

The three took the medicine, but in light of this hadn't actually left, and had instead sat on a bench at the side, chatting in a low voice.

"Xiaozhi, how old is your uncle?"

"25 years old. What is it?"

"Your relationship, how did it develop?"

"Dumpling, you meddling woman, why on earth are you asking about this?"

"Nothing, just curious. Hee hee...."

"Actually....I'm also quite curious."

Xu Jing inserted.

"It's a secret. I won't tell you."

"Haven't kissed yet?"

"I choose to remain silent."

"Silence means yes! Good, Xiaozhi, your first kiss is gone!"

"Xiaozhi, how does kissing feel?"

Xu Jing inserted another sentence.

Sitting at the counter inside, Jiang Fei who was on phone, when hearing these words almost dropped the phone on the ground. He was now generally able to understand why Xia Xiaozhi is able to become friends with Xu Jing and Tan Yuan.

"Xiaozhi, your uncle was able to get his hands on you. But you only 16, and still isn't an adult yet, how can he send a vicious blow on you? Oh gosh, we need to condemn him....afterwards did you go any further?"

"I heard that first times are very painful. Is this true...."

Jiang Fei had another sinister thought.

No wonder her chest is so big, as it turns out only Zhuangzhuang's body matured!

"Cough!" Jiang Fei couldn't listen to it any longer, and loudly coughed. He then thoughtfully looked at the three girls, and asked: "You three sitting there, aren't you going home yet?"

Xia Xiaozhi this damn girl.

It's obvious that there's nothing between us, but you still chose not to stand up and explain. And instead showed a hint of pride in her eyes, don't tell me that you're very happy that this matter broke out?

Even if you feel like this, but I haven't done that kind of thing to you, so don't damage my reputation like this!

Jiang Fei thought that he was wronged.

Xia Xiaozhi grinned, and said: "Uncle, we're waiting for you to get off work."

"Why are you waiting for me?" Jiang Fei knitted his brow and asked.

"We're waiting for you to return home, so that you could make us something to eat! I told dumpling and Zhuangzhuang that uncle's dishes are the best in the world, but they actually didn't believe and had even thought that I lied to them. Uncle, today, you'll convince them both!" Xia Xiaozhi furiously said.

Jiang Fei immediately wanted to scold her.

He wasn't reluctant on throwing away money. He also didn't mind inviting the three to eat. It's just that he was currently tight on time, he really didn't have time to fool around with these three schoolgirls.

However, saying it like this was rather too mean, so he instead said: "Don't you have class tomorrow? I'll be getting off work very late. Later, if I have free time I'll invite you to eat again."

"Don't worry." Tan Yuan hastily said. "We don't have school tomorrow. Me and Zhuangzhuang's parent had already allowed us to sleep at Xiaozhi's place. Uncle, you can rest assured, you can leave buying the food to us, we just ask uncle to help us make our meal."

With that, the three girls clasped both of their hands, and pouted their lips, the three acted wretchedly cute.

Afterwards, they turned their shoulder, and threw a tantrum, saying:
“We beg you, uncle....”

“...”

Jiang Fei knew that he was inevitably slaughtered by these three little girls.

Chapter 14-The Two aren't a Match For Her Chest

The sky was gradually getting dark, as Jiang Fei closed the clinic door.

"Wow, Xiaozhi, your uncle's very rich? So young, yet he already has such a good car, could it be that he is one of those rich people from the second generation?" The three girls huddled at the back seat, when Tan Yuan had suddenly asked.

"it doesn't seem so." Xia Xiaozhi casually replied. She then leaned and looked at the driving Jiang Fei, and asked with a smile: "Uncle, are you rich? Did your family help you buy the car, or did you use your own money to buy it?"

Jiang Fei smiled contentedly: "Of course I rely on myself to live, so it's only natural for me to buy it with my own money! Do I look like an adult still depending on their parents to you?"

Jiang Fei thought these three girls would express admiration towards him, and make an effort to praise him several times. But the three girls instead had shown an expression as if they had suddenly realized something, they then spoke at the same time: "It seems that a doctor really makes a lot of money!"

Tan Yuan was deeply moved, saying: "Uncle, you're so young and had only graduated 2-3 years ago, people with other profession doesn't even have money to rent a room. Yet you're able to buy your own car. Uncle, how much red packet (bribery) did you receive?"

Xia Xiaozhi was somewhat angry and said: "Now the hospital are really unscrupulous! Just by casually seeing a patient, they'll rob you of several hundred bucks ! Robbing you even if you resist, and charge you money even when you're asking him to save someone's life. The hospital would then receive your money, who can you even ask to reason things out?"

Contrary to what one might expect, Xu Jing was calm, she blushed saying: "I think that uncle is different from other doctors. Perhaps uncle has brilliant medical expertise, even if....even if arbitrarily charges a fee, but he also isn't hateful in that way~~~~"(ED: Future Harem member?)

Jiang Fei: "..."

What kind of species are these three girls! Openly talking about my income like this, people would usually speak in a roundabout way when pushing someone into a hole, but these three mess people it in a different way that just drives people insane.

However, he had to acknowledge that what the three young girls said was true about the civil society now. Some hospitals were indeed a bit 'sinister', even though the medicine they have weren't expensive, selling it twice the value wasn't strange for them. Moreover, today, doctors that don't accept bribery, are only quite a few.

Certainly, Jiang Fei had never accepted any kind of bribery. As there was just no chances for him to receive one.

At the ophthalmology hospital he worked before, there wasn't anyone who had a serious condition, so even if the doctor had treated the patient's eye, it is still unlikely for the patient to bribe the doctor. And now that he had opened his own clinic, it was more impossible for people to bribe him.

Jiang Fei didn't bother justifying what the three girls had said, looking at their battle formation, he knew that even if he does provide an explanation he still wouldn't be able win the argument, so instead he indifferently said: "You high school students, are still young. There are still a lot of thing you don't understand. Today, you can access the net, and you'll immediately be able to see the bad side of society, but you're only focused on the bad side of it, you should also see the good things that it's able to bring out! Otherwise, you young girls attending school would become cynical, and have a dark heart, which isn't something good".

"Yeah, right~~~~"

The three girls disdainfully replied, and lengthened the end tone to strengthen the degree of this disdain.

"We're young, so we're small?" Tan Yuan tenderly patted Xia Xiaozhi, while pointing at Xia Xiaozhi's swollen, bulging and soft chest that was bound up by her school uniform, and said: "Xiaozhi, when you get home let uncle have a look, and see what small isn't small."

"Go, go faster!" Xia Xiaozhi brushed Tan Yuan's hand, and looked at the side, grinning at Xu Jing, stretching out her finger, she quickly poked Xu Jing's astonishingly huge and heavy chest, Jiang Fei who can see the scene through the rearview mirrors, saw Xia Xiaozhi quickly poke Xu Jing's chest, which had quickly bounced back.

Good elasticity!

Jiang Fei secretly swallowed his saliva.

“Xiaozhi, what are you doing!” Xu Jing exclaimed with a reddened face, and quickly putting her hands on her chest, protecting the pair of big rabbit she has. However, due to its large size, even if she covered it, it could still clearly be seen just like it was before.

Xia Xiaozhi then pressed her body against Xu Jing, and revealed an evil smile, saying: “When it comes to being big, naturally it would be our Zhuangzhuang. In the entire Jincheng, she should be 7th place,, who would even dare say that they’re bigger than our Zhuangzhuang?” With that, she glanced at Jiang Fei and said: “Uncle, what do you think?”

“your face!” Jiang Fei angrily said. As he saw this young girls, were truly disastrous.

How can you play a joke about that here? Even if it’s in private, can’t you see that there’s a man here? Moreover, this guy is an unmarried man.

“Uncle, you really are a degenerate. You rogue!” The three girls had actually all spoke at the same time again.

Jiang Fei first went to the supermarket and bought a lot of ingredients, while the three girls only followed him from behind. Afterwards, they went back to Jiang Fei's home.

"You can just sit." Jiang Fei said to them.

He then put some of the ingredients inside the fridge, and once again put the other portion at the kitchen, in a relaxed manner. Among the three girls, although two were fit to be gorgeous, and might possibly warm the heart and be a delight to the eyes, but after only just coming in contact with them, he already found them hard to bear.

These little girls' jokes were practically unrestrained, besides each and everyone one of them were minor (person under 18), Jiang Fei couldn't do anything to them, otherwise he would be known as a pervert, as a result from that he could only endure them in so many ways.

Just wait, if in two or three years you've grown up, but still dare to joke with me like this, just see if this father doesn't do anything malicious to you. Jiang Fei wickedly thought in his heart. The omnipotent feeling, he first had, had become troubled.

Coping with these three girls, was really not an easy job.

Shaking his head, Jiang Fei put on an apron, and started taking out the kitchen knives, pots and pans. And without delay the 11 ingredients that he bought were quickly sliced by him, while giving off a sense of beauty.

His cooking skill was at the 9th level which was already at the boundaries of great master class, so it was only natural for him to have superb skills when handling the knife, and wasn't much different from a cook that is good with dismembering cows.

When Xia Xiaozhi arrived, the three 'adorable' young girls actually didn't look around Jiang Fei's house, but had instead under Xia Xiaozhi's leadership, went just outside of the kitchen, secretly watching Jiang Fei who was bustling about.

Looking at Jiang Fei who was holding a knife, they saw him brandish his kitchen knife which moved like the gust of wind, it was so fast that they almost couldn't even see its shadow, and before long, the fish, meat, green paper and potato were neatly cut, making them completely stunned.

Before, Tan Yuan and Xu Jing, didn't believe Xia Xiaozhi when she had said that her uncle was a top chef. After all, Jiang Fei was a doctor, he still is so young, as well as a man, so how could he be good at cooking?

Even if the food that he makes was pretty good they still wouldn't believe it.

However, after just seeing Jiang Fei's knife handling, they were immediately convinced.

"My mother has been busy in the kitchen for dozens of years, uncle's cutting speed of ingredients is nearly half of hers! The way he handles the knife is just too beautiful, you can even make a tv show out of it! Xiaozhi, isn't your uncle a fabled martial arts master whose concealing his identity? Otherwise how can he be so fierce." Tan Yuan exclaimed.

The corner of Xia Xiaozhi's mouth rose, as she proudly said: "Tan Yuan, isn't our uncle amazing?" After which, she immediately paused, and corrected herself: "isn't my uncle amazing?"

Both of Xu Jing's eyes were bright, touching both of her fat baby cheeks with her hand, appearing somewhat love-struck, she said: "Uncle's really good handsome! You say, how can a man preparing food be so graceful?"

Jiang Fei's brandished his kitchen knife, although it was fast, but it wouldn't affect Jiang Fei's hearing, so he was able to clearly hear the three's conversation. After hearing the three talking about him with such praises, his depressed mood had immediately recovered.

The praises of woman, especially compliments from such beautiful woman, most men don't have much resistance from it. So in this world, many women like to act spoiled.

However, Xia Xiaozhi was somewhat unsatisfied at this time.

Although she saw Jiang Fei in a new light because of his recent change, but even now she still didn't know much about this uncle. But in her opinion, Jiang Fei was now her personal belonging, even if they don't plan to seize him, she would still seize him first even if she had to use force, so Tan Yuan and Xu Jing lusting after him like this, was utterly no good.(ED: way to go girl)

In particular, Xu Jing, who has always seemed nervous, was actually a clever demon in Xia Xiaozhi's mind, as she had discovered Jiang Fei secretly taking a look at Xu Jing's chest, glancing at it for several times already.

Among friends, there are a lot of things they can share, but only a man wasn't good to share, and needed to be guarded.

It was the so-called anti-theft security against friends.

"Ok, ok, We look silly standing here, so let's just go and take a look around uncle's house. I originally wanted to have a look before, but I haven't." Xia Xiaozhi patted Tan Yuan and Xu Jing's shoulder, then pulling the two towards the living.

Xu Jing was unsatisfied, and rejected her: "You two go have a look, uncle might need a hand."

Then, Xu Jing's petite body dodged her hand, blushing, shamefully and happily going to the kitchen, and Xia Xiaozhi was too late to stop her.

Seeing this, Tan Yuan said with a gentle smile: "How terrible. How troubling. We the 'three sisters' of first year class 8 might have a war. Xiaozhi, I'll go look after Zhuangzhuang, you go have a look at uncle's house. But you may be in danger. You should be aware that our invaluable friendship, is no match for her 42 sized chest meat! Her chest is comparable to you by '42' times...."

Xia Xiaozhi pulled up the fringes of hair on her forehead, and then like a hero reaching to the clouds, she went on her way, saying:

“Zhuangzhuang, dare to try to snatch uncle away from me, I won’t let you! Uncle, I’ll also give you a hand!”

As a result, Xia Xiaozhi also entered the kitchen, allowing Tan Yuan to also infiltrate the kitchen.

After the three girls came in, they didn’t help, and had instead made the kitchen like a battle ground, the more one of them wanted to express themselves, the more it made the kitchen chaotic, making Jiang Fei not know how he would be able to make their meal.

Although he was encircled by the three beautiful young girls, but once in awhile he would also collide with their young and fresh-looking body, and intimately coming into contact with their flesh, allowing Jiang Fei to finally feel the elasticity of Xu Jing’s chest.

However, in order to finish making the food, Jiang Fei eventually had to put on a serious face, as it had evolved into the three holding the carrot, cucumber, and eggplant, battling who would get the ingredients, so in the end Jiang Fei had to expel them out of the kitchen.

After expelling the three girls, both of Jiang Fei’s legs were finally able to relax, as he didn’t need to be worried about the three girls seeing his ungraceful appearance.

Bai Ruoxi, you woman, you really must want me to bid good-bye to you! Jiang Fei resentfully thought to himself.

Then switching on the natural gas to a huge degree, Jiang Fei muttered:

“Truly a huge ‘fire’!”
